

MR. POLLARD WON.

Mayor Brown Snowed Under But Came Up Smiling Next Day.

The Wageworker's candidate for congress, Mr. Brown, was defeated. But that was expected. His defeat was due to several reasons, the chief one being that the district is overwhelmingly republican. Another reason was that his own party supporters failed to rally to the polls. The Wageworker is confident that he received the bulk of the labor vote cast, but even the union men of the district, who were most vitally interested in the result, took little interest and allowed the normal republican majority to get in its work.

This little labor paper has no tears to shed. It simply performed what it believed to be its duty and will therefore make no apologies. Under like circumstances it would do the same thing over again. Mr. Pollard won a clean cut victory and is entitled to congratulations, which The Wageworker heartily extends. He has an opportunity now to distinguish himself by standing up in defense of public interests, and make a permanent place for himself in the politics of Nebraska. The Wageworker wishes him well in everything good he may undertake.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

Republicans Re-nominated a Good Official and Square Man.

The republican county convention re-nominated Walt Dawson, the present county clerk, a little job that reflected credit on the convention. The fact that the re-nomination was made without the least opposition also reflects credit on Mr. Dawson's administration of the office. If the Wageworker had its way Mr. Dawson would be re-elected just as unambiguously as he was re-nominated. He has made an efficient county clerk, performing every duty to the entire satisfaction of the people, and treating all with unflinching courtesy.

Once upon a time Mr. Dawson saved the life of the editor of this little newspaper—a fact which, perhaps, should be kept secret in order to prevent undue opposition to his re-election. If for no other reason this editor would be for Dawson—but there are other reasons. He is a genial gentleman, an efficient official, a royal good fellow and always ready to lend assistance to a friend in need. These latter reasons are the principal ones entertained by The Wageworker for urging the re-election of Walt Dawson by a plurality that will stand as a record.

TEAHON IN TOWN.

Veteran Traveling Passenger Agent of the Wabash in Lincoln.

Joe Teahon, the veteran traveling passenger agent of the Wabash, was in Lincoln a few hours last Tuesday, and made a pleasant call at the office of this paper. Mr. Teahon is one of the oldest railroad men in point of service in the entire west, and he has been with the Wabash ever since that great railroad's rails were laid up against the Missouri river. He was here to convey the very obvious information that the Wabash is the only road to take for Toronto by those who contemplate attending the International Typographical Union's convention.

"THE ONION CLUB."

A New Organization Without Officers or Laws is Busy.

"The Onion Club," an organization without officers, and minus constitution or bylaws, met Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Irlinger, and a most pleasant time was enjoyed. Owing to an injunction of secrecy concerning all the degree work of the club The Wageworker is unable to enter into details. Suffice to say that the host and hostess left nothing undone to entertain their guests, even if the hostess was surprised by the visit.

The club met in honor of Mrs. Irlinger's birthday, and the event was a complete surprise to her.

OUR KIND OF PREACHER.

This One is Learning How His Parishioners Earn Their Living.

In order that he may familiarize himself with the life of railroad men, Rev Dwight E. Potter, pastor of the Union Street Presbyterian church, in Oakland, Cal., has gone to work as an offer in the West Oakland railroad yards. The preacher's church is located in that section of town, and it is with the view of getting into close touch with the great number of railroad men there that he has donned overalls and gone to work.

We venture to say that Bro. Dwight is not one of those preachers who are always worrying about the failure of men to attend church. He is going after the men, and by learning how they make a living he is familiarizing himself with the methods whereby he may reach their hearts and minds. If more ministers of the gospel would do this there would be more results.

"THE ROAD TO WELLVILLE."

"The Road to Wellville" is plain enough. Put an imitation food on the market, treat your wife so cruelly she will have to get a divorce, and then marry your stenographer.
