As a lawyer he stands well at the bar of Cass county, and his election to the office of county attorney gave Cass county a most able prosecuting attorney.

BANK OF CASS COUNTY.

One of the Strongest Financial Houses in All Nebraska.

The Bank of Cass County, with its capital stock of $50,000.00, is a strong and conservative banking institution, an institution the officers of which have won the confidence and respect of the entire community. They do a general commercial banking business, and handle and solicit the accounts of individuals, firms and corporations. Every wage-earner should have a bank account. This is the surest and best way to business success and prosperity.

You cannot do better than to carry your account with the Bank of Cass County.

The officers of this bank, Charles C. Parmele, president; Jacob Tritsch, vice-president; T. M. Patterson, cashier, and R. F. Patterson, assistant cashier, are too well known to need much comment, farther than to say that the fact of their names being connected with an institution is a guarantee of the stability and success of that institution.

M. L. JOHNSON.

Meat Market That Is Always a Model of Cleanliness.

The best is usually the cheapest in the end. If you want to get the best cuts of beef, pork, mutton, etc., or anything in the line of salt meats, fish, oysters, poultry or game in season, go to M. L. Johnson's meat market.

Mr. Johnson is the manager of his place, which is a marvel of neatness, and is always supplied with the best the market affords at a price as low as is consistent with good business. You will make no mistake in giving your trade to Mr. Johnson.

PLATTSMOUTH STATE BANK.

Financial House That Offers Good Opportunities to the Toilers.

The Plattsmouth State Bank is justly a source of pride to Plattsmouth, as it is composed of home men, and is one of the strongest institutions in the county. It makes a specialty of its earnings and savings department, and offers to the people a sure depository for their earnings, on which it pays 3 1/2 per cent on deposits from $5.00 up and credits interest twice a year.

The officers of the bank are always glad to have anyone call and get acquainted, or who wishes information on financial matters.

The host of laboring men in this district will make no mistake in extending to this institution their hearty support and co-operation. The directors of this bank, W. H. Newell, S. H. Atwood, C. P. Mr. Manspeaker, through his genial and sunny disposition, has acquired a large circle of friends and the laboring man need have no feeling of hesitancy in including him as one of their comrades.

The Cottage Roof and Its Eaves.

A country cottage should offer no excuse for the ugly modern habit of so building that the set of the roof is concealed by the walls, and these have the appearance of having been built round the roof instead of supporting it. A parapet belongs to a castle or fortress, not to a dwelling house. The shape of the roof and the manner of its setting should always be clearly seen from the roadway, and one of the greatest sources of charm is sacrificed by any attempt to do away with overhanging eaves. These give distinction and sharpness to the outline, make a picturesque way for evergreen or flowing creepers, and throw a beautiful shadow on the walls.

Even the living skeleton may long for a fat job.
