JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT

JOHN BEAUMONT BARNES.

Judge of the Supreme Court of the State of Nebraska.

John Beaumont Barnes, judge of the Supreme Court of Nebraska, residing at Norfolk, was born on a farm in Ash-tabula County, Ohio, August 26, 1846. In 1872 he was admitted to the bar and the same year was elected as a delegate to the republican state convention, and has attended every convention since.

In 1875 he was elected as prosecuting attorney for the Sixth judicial district and in 1877 was re-elected to the office.

In 1879 he was appointed by Governor Nance to the district judgeship for the Sixth district to succeed Edward K. Valentine, who had been elected to congress and was later elected to the office for a full term, at which time the Sixth district comprised sixteen counties and all of the territory west of them. In 1884 he refused a renomination and retired to private practice until 1902.

In 1901 he was a prominent candidate before the republican state convention for the nomination as judge of the Supreme Court, but withdrew in favor of Judge S. H. Sedgwick.

In January, 1902, he was appointed as a member of the Supreme Court

Commission and served on same until his election in 1903 as judge of the Supreme Court.

CHARLES B. LETTON.

Judge of the Supreme Court of the State of Nebraska.

Judge Charles B. Letton was born in Edinburgh, Scotland. In 1869 he came to America and settled on a homestead near the site of the present city of Fairbury in Jefferson county, which was then scarcely settled.

He was admitted to the bar in 1881, and in 1882 he formed a co-partnership with William O. Mambel at Fairbury. This partnership was afterwards dissolved and in 1885 he was elected on the republican ticket as the first County Attorney of Jefferson county, and he held the office for four consecutive years.

In 1887 he formed a partnership with Edmund H. Hinshaw under the firm name of Letton & Hinshaw, which partnership continued until January, 1896, when he was elected judge of the First judicial district of Nebraska, which district comprised the counties of Jefferson, Gage, Johnson, Pawnee, Richardson and Nemaha.

He was re-elected in 1900 for another term, resigning to accept appointment as one of the commissioners for the supreme court. He was elected judge of the Supreme Court in 1905 succeeding Judge Holcomb.

As a judge he has won the respect and confidence of the entire legal profession.

SAMUEL H. SEDGWICK.

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Nebraska.

Samuel H. Sedgwick, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Nebraska, was born in DuPage County, Illinois, March 12th, 1848.

He was for many years previous to his election to the supreme bench a prominent attorney of York, York County, Nebraska, where he now resides.

He has always been a staunch republican but did not hold any public office before 1895, when he was elected on the republican ticket to the judgeship of the Fifth judicial district of Nebraska. In April, 1901, he was appointed a member of the Nebraska supreme court commission, and in November, 1901, was elected to the supreme bench as a successor of Judge Norvel whose term had expired.

As a judge he has served the state both faithfully and well and he is much thought of by the legal profession as well as by the many who know him personally.
