NORTHWEST CORNER TENTH AND P STREETS

TRAIN IS DITCHED

TWO MEN KILLED IN WRECK ON GREAT NORTHERN.

ENGINEER'S BODY COMPLETELY SEVERED

Found in His Seat and Gazing Straight Ahead—Seventeen Persons Injured. Some of Them Seriously.

by the spreading of rails the oriental limited Great Northern transcontinental train, which left Sat Paul, Minn., for the west, was wrecked at Doyon, N. D. A. B. Comfort, engineer, of Grand Fork, N. D., and Peter Morrisey, a fireman of Minot, who was being carried free, were killed. Regular fireman Wright of Devils Lake jumped and saved his life. Seventeen or more persons were more or less seriously injured. They are: John Kinte, Devil's Lake, back sprained. Albert Mayers, United States soldier, en route to Fort Assiniboine, back injured.

M. W. Dombeck, Rosholt, Wis., leg bruised.
H. A. Smith, United States soldier, back hurt.
S. A. Stark, United State soldier, hand badly cut.
A. Weigert, New York, wrist sprained.
Ina Doggett, Minot, N. D., back injured.
George W. Byers, Greenburg, Ind., ankle sprained.
Mrs. F. M. McCurdy, Gilroy, Cal., arm and shoulder injured.
J. Wintergreen, San Francisco, Cal., ankle badly sprained, shoulder and back injured and bad cut on head.
Mrs. Breer, Paris, Mich., arm hurt.
F. D. Lindsay, Mansfield, O., head injured.
Phil Barch, East Grand Forks, arm and leg hurt.
A. E. David, messenger, ankle hurt.
The train was running at a high rate of speed in an endeavor to make up time, it being a half hour late, and when the track spread every car left the track. The engine went to the north side of the track and the tender to the south side. The mail car shot out into a field, passing the engine and turned completely around, but did not upset. The baggage car followed the mail car, but remained upright. The smoker was derailed, but none of the passengers in it was injured.
Nearly all the injured were in the day coaches and tourist cars.

May Displace King Peter.
Some sensation was caused in Vienna, Austria, by the publication in a government organ, the Evening Gazette of Prague, of a dispatch from Semlon, opposite Belgrade, reporting the discovery of a strong movement among politicians and military men to depose the reigning Servian (Karageorgevitch) dynasty, and head of which is King Peter, in favor of some prince of an European court.
And it sometimes happens that the light of truth casts the shadow of suspicion.
A part of the strength of the third battalion, Twenty-fifth infantry, colored, stationed at Fort McIntosh, Laredo, has been ordered to Fort Reno, Okl. Arrangements have been made for the transportation of the troops and they will leave Fort McIntosh. The purpose of moving the troops to Fort Reno is to maintain a certain number there upon which to build up a new battalion to take the place of negro troops discharged because of the Brownsville trouble.
PARSONS DRUGGISTS WARNED.
No More Illegal Liquor Sales, the Mayor Tells the Office.
Mayor Gabriel instructed the chief of police of Parsons to serve notice on the twenty-three drug stores in Parsons that they must not sell intoxicating liquors except upon an application according to law. There are no saloons in Parsons, the liquor being handled by the druggists who pay an excess on each case of beer bought in Kansas City, this excess finding its way into the city treasury through a committee of citizens.

Enjoined and Blown Up.
A building just outside of the corporate limits of Conway Springs, which has been run for several years as a joint and gambling house, was blown up with dynamite. The building was empty at the time. An injunction against its use as a place for sale of intoxicants was recently granted by the district court.

ROBBED DENTISTS OF GOLD.
The Fourth Crime of the Kind in Three Years in Leavenworth.
A burglar broke into two dental offices at Leavenworth, that of Dr. C. G. S. Nichols and that of Dr. B. E. Nelson. The burglar took about $350 worth of gold and bridge work at Dr. Nichols's office and $12 worth at Dr. Dr. Nelson's. Dr. Nelson was robbed a year ago. He had placed nearly all his valuable property in a safe yesterday. This is the fourth time in three years that dental offices in Leavenworth have been robbed.

OPEN BALLOT ALMOST SURE.
Kansas Senatorial Candidates Declaring Their Positions.
It now seems practically certain that a United States senator will be elected by an open ballot. Charles Curtis, the candidate in whom the railroads are said to be especially interested, now favors the plan. It has been believed in Kansas that the railroads have been opposed to an open ballot. A secret ballot has been favored by them. There has been much agitation recently for a system of voting whereby the chances for political deals would be minimized.

McPherson Gets $2,000 From Carnegie.
Prof. S. B. Fahnestock, secretary of McPherson college, has received word from Andrew Carnegie that he will give an additional $2,000 for the new library building in McPherson college. A large bronze plate has been ordered which will bear an inscription stating that the building is the gift of Mr. Carnegie and this will be placed just inside the door. The new building is now almost complete.

His Corn Husking Record.
Mount Boone of Howard lays claim to the title of champion corn husker of Kansas. In fourteen days of the present month he has husked 1,429 bushels of Elk county corn on the farm of Heisler brothers near here. This is an average of more than 102 bushels a day for every day he worked. Boone's employers are ready to vouch for his record.

A Band for Hendley.
Hendley has organized a brass band and the instruments have arrived. The personnel: John Van Cleave, Art Andre, W. D. Russell, Edwin Perkins, A. C. Sherard, Roy Fitz Gibbons, Forrest Bird, cornets; Carl Pilstick, E. L. ler, A. Beasley, Jay Tyrone, trombones; Lindquist, Floyd Resler, Grover Frack, Roy Kellogg, Vance Howard, George Shoemaker, altos; Bert Bachelor, Earl Prideaux, baritone; H. M. Mitchell, Z. T. Tharpe, tuba; Perry Resler, snare drum; James Kelsey, bass drum; Mr. Russell of Arapahoe, leader.

HEARTH & BOUDOIR

For Bureau Adornment.

PIN CUSHIONS IN FLORAL DEVICES ARE POPULAR.

Old Forms of This Useful Adjunct to Toilet Table Replaced by Designs Prettier and Fully as Adequate for Purpose.

Pin cushions in floral devices have quite supplanted the more prosaic and stereotyped forms which have long been indicative of this toilet necessity, and bureaus, chiffoniers and toilet tables will this winter blossom out into regular flower gardens with their new appointments.

Effective as these cushions are, they are simple to make, and any woman fond of fancy work will have no difficulty in fashioning a wild rose or a gorgeous sunflower pin cushion for the bureau.

Simplest of these cushions are made in the shape of a bag, the top of which spreads out into a pretty blossom. For the bottom of the bag a square or round piece of cardboard is first covered with white or colored bag into which cotton, curled hair, sawdust or any other filling is packed and the top gathered and tied with narrow baby ribbon.

The tops which are formed into the flowers, though complicated in appearance when finished, are easily made.

Wild Rose and Sunflower Cushions.

The petals of white, pink or whatever the color may be, are cut from the tied ends of the ribbon and knotted to imitate the scalloped edges of the real leaves, but if a pansy or a daisy is to be fashioned, the petals are turned down slightly at either side and the effect is decidedly natural. Artificial centers may either be bought for a small sum or made by working French knots of embroidery silk and attaching them to twisted threads waxed so they will stand up in place.

A pretty cushion that is even less difficult to make is fashioned out of a round piece of cardboard, covered with silk, with a layer of cotton batting beneath. On top two or three roses in a cluster make this cushion effective and decorative. At the top a twisted piece of ribbon is sewed to the edge so it can be hung up.

Flower pin cushions are not the only floral decorative pieces that will be used on dressing tables, for there are hat pin and hair pin holders that are made in imitation of apple blossoms and wild roses. These are easily made by covering a glass tube with a netting, to which the ribbons may be sewed. About eight pieces of narrow satin ribbon will cover an ordinary tube. These pieces are sewed together to make a bag and are held in place at the top by a narrow piece of baby ribbon. Above the baby ribbon, so the petals fall over and inside the tube, the petals of a rose or daisy are attached, and with yellow centers look like a flower that has just burst into full bloom.

silk to harmonize with the flower itself. To this cardboard covered circle or square four panels of silk or lengths of satin ribbon are joined together and attached, which forms a

HOW TO TREAT OBESITY.

Too Much Water or Juicy Food Things to Be Avoided.

Drinking too much or eating too much juicy food will make you fat and clumsy, declares an obesity patient. Possibly those who eat but little and are still fat (unless they have fatty degeneration, where all food turns to fat) drink enough to fill them out. Most thin people drink too little, and the majority of people drink too little water. That is why there are more thin than stout people.

Liquid taken into the system does not pass out as soon as it enters, but goes into the blood and all through the body, and you know how heavy a gallon of liquid is. Some people, in one form or another, take almost a gallon of liquid a day, and of course it makes them fat and heavy. Another thing, if you drink less liquid, you will have less appetite for food, so reducing will not be such a heroic undertaking.

Avoid things that make you thirsty, as too much fruit, sweets, spiced foods, pickles, salt and greasy foods, etc. If you want to get rid of that tired feeling and be light on your feet, avoid soups, stews, juicy fruit, liquor, etc. The fat woman should let her preserving jars lie empty this year, as jellies, preserves and pickles only sharpen her appetite and thirst. Cut off your water, or rather liquid supply, gradually, as any sudden change to the system is injurious.

Dedication of the Home.

A home into which a family have recently moved has been dedicated. Friends met there and an impressive ceremony, comprising chiefly of passages of Scripture was carried out. A mother might arrange a similar dedication of her own home. She could set apart a day in which all of the family could be present and each have a part in the ceremony. Songs and recitations relating to the home life could be sung or spoken. Some might try their hand at original songs. The mother, also the father, could give a talk on the meaning of the home and the children could tell what the home meant to them. Souvenirs of the occasion in the form of a picture of the house or a family group photograph could be distributed. Such an observance is especially appropriate when a new home is entered.

Spangled Gowns.

The best thing to do with a worn-out spangled gown is to purchase at once a new robe and lay in right over the old chiffon and silk foundation. Spangled gowns are by no means obsolete and, according to all present indications, bid fair to be more popular this year than ever before and the only danger is by their becoming too numerous to remain quite smart. Then, too, the most effective robes are ridiculously inexpensive this year and the most of them seem to be of good net, which is an all-important consideration. Too fine or too stiff a net is to be avoided, for, in all probability, it will scarcely stand the making up

STRING ROLLER IS USEFUL.

Little Expense or Time Needed For Pretty Present.

A useful present and one easily made is a string roller, and there is no expense except for the baby ribbon it hangs by. Two large spools that any milliner will give you are slid on a skewer, which can be obtained from a butcher. The pointed end of the skewer should be cut off, and some pretty paper pasted on the ends of the spools to cover the torn labels.

Then the spools are wound with string. It is prettier if one spool is used for colored string and the other for white. The baby ribbon is tied on each end of the stick in a many-looped bow, and carried up into a long loop for hanging. This loop should be arranged so that it may be untied for winding new string on the spools. It is convenient to have a small pair of scissors hanging with the roller.

To Crystallize Rose Petals.

Select perfect, fragrant blossoms, separate into petals, spread on an inverted sieve and stand in the air until dry but not crisp. Make a heavy sirup, using one cup each granulated sugar and water, and cook without stirring until it spins a thread. Flavor this sirup with a few drops essence of rose, and color with a tiny bit of Cochineal. Now drop the leaves in one by one, using a fine wire; take out and drain on the greased sieve. Turn once in the process of drying, which will take several hours. If the leaves then look preserved and clear they will need no further dipping, but if the petals seem dry and not candied dip again, dust with sifted flour and dry. Serve on bon-bon saucers.

The Disappearing Basque.

The tailor gowns are to be very trim and delicate in outline, the large clumsy coat and the most unbecoming long basque quite disappearing, and in its place we are to have the smart and graceful short coat in a great many varieties with a small basque all round, either smartly belted or fitting easily to the figure or with the fronts cut short and a large basque at the back only. But one and all will have some fine embroidery and braiding on them on the one or two little waistcoats and on the cuffs to the almost inevitable three-quarter sleeves, which are to be fuller and much decorated
