PEPOON A DELEGATE.

Percy Pepon, a member of St. Louis Typographical Union No. 8, has been elected as one of the four St. Louis delegates to the International Typographical Union at Hot Springs, Ark. More than twenty years ago the editor of The Wagoner and Ed. Howe, foreman of the Daily Star, worked for Mr. Pepon in the old Falls City Journal office. Grant Southard, a member of the Lincoln local in the late 80's, and now foreman of the Geneva Signal, was also in Mr. Pepon's employ. St. Louis has selected a splendid fellow, a staunch unionist and an able man in Mr. Pepon, and it is a cinch he will reflect credit upon his local and upon the craft in general.

KREITER GOT HIS.

J. Monroe Kreiter of Columbia Typographical Union, was defeated 2 to 1 in his race for president of that local. Kreiter is the gentleman the Typographical Journal gave space to in which he might tell his side of the Printers' Home library case, the same courtesy being denied to Frank Swigart of St. Louis, who performed all the work and got magnificent results.

JULIAN-BENNETT.

Cards are out announcing the approaching marriage of Mr. Ernest A. Julian, manager of the Lincoln branch of the Western Newspaper Union, and Miss Bennett of this city. Mr. Julian has been in charge of the Lincoln branch for upwards of a year. Miss Bennett is the daughter of one of Lincoln's pioneer business men. They have a host of friends who will extend heartiest congratulations and good wishes, and The Wagoner desires to be numbered among them.

"FOXY" WILL TAKE CHARGE.

When Manager Julian of the Western Newspaper Union starts on his wedding tour next week George Foxworthy, traveling representative of the company and a former member of Lincoln Typographical Union, will have charge and will remain until Mr. Julian's return. "Foxy" will spend a portion of his leisure time fighting the famous "Journal strike" over again with the old guard that still remains.

HERE'S ONE ANSWER.

Discussing the subject of prison labor with a lawyer the other day, the lawyer, who is opposed to trades unions, asked: "What are we to do with the convicts?" Here's the answer given: "Let them study law, and when they are discharged they will be able to earn a living without any radical departure from the methods which landed them in prison in the first place."

Explosion Kills a Child.

A terrific explosion in crowded Mott street, New York, killed one and seriously injured seven other Italian children, two of them possibly fatally. Panic prevailed in the neighborhood and it was not until police had been summoned that anything like order was restored.

SAW HIS GREAT ERROR.

Open Shop Advocate Has Lesson Brought Home to Him.

"The mills of the gods grind slowly, but very fine," and W. A. Miller, who caused a lot of potter and finally the "open shop" order issued by President Roosevelt, was discharged recently from the government printery at Washington. When let out in the cold, unfeeling world to look for a job, the whilom "open shop" bravo recanted and made application for reinstatement into the International Bookbinders' Union.

Miller tried to make himself a favorite with the public printer by showing his disregard of the union to which he belonged, and allowing his membership to lapse. When the matter was referred to General President Glockling, he showed the magnanimity characteristic of most union men by recommending that Miller be accepted as a member again.—The Commonwealth.

NINE REASONS.

Robert Wright Gives That Many for Being a Trades Unionist.

Because—

1. I want to live to see every working man have plenty to eat, plenty to wear, and plenty of time to enjoy it.
2. I had rather be poor and be loved by honest working men than to possess enough money to corner their food supply.
3. I want to help others to become enlightened upon the subjects which vitally concern their well being.
4. I want to place the coin of human love into the palsied hand of poverty and want, and wipe from the wrinkled cheeks of unhappiness, the scalding tears of discontent and fear.
5. I want to be as good as I can, to everybody I can, just as long as I can.
6. I want to have better wages, shorter hours, steadier employment, and to assist my fellow workers to obtain the same.
7. If I should see my fellow worker being imposed upon, I claim the right to render him honorable assistance in securing the proper immunity from the hand of the oppressor.
8. I believe the principles of organized labor are right, and I want to put my shoulders to the wheel and help push the old car of "humanity and justice" up the hill to success.
9. I can not afford to preach unionism and practice hypocrisy and rascality.

PRINTER'S MEMORIAL DAY.

Cordially Invite the Public to Attend the Annual Services.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the program arranged by the Typographical Union for the observance of "Union Printers' Memorial Day." The general public, and especially all trades unionists and their families, are cordially invited to attend these services, both at the First Christian church and at Wyuka cemetery.

William J. Bryan will deliver the memorial address at the church, and Richard L. Metcalfe will deliver the address at Wyuka cemetery. The committee deems itself unusually fortunate in securing these two staunch friends of trades unionism to deliver the addresses at these dual ceremonies.

Members of Typographical Union who have badges in their possession are urged to bring them to the ceremonies, as the secretary-treasurer has only a few in his possession.

Members of the Typographical Union and Auxiliary are requested to meet at the Lindell Hotel corner in time to proceed to the church in a body at 2:10. Members will wear badges. The general public is invited direct to the church.

Every member of the Union and Auxiliary is urged to take part in these memorial exercises.

The Typographical Union owns a burial lot in Wyuka cemetery, and in this plot two former members of Typographical Union No. 209 are buried. Other members are buried in private lots in the cemetery, and these private lots will be suitably decorated after the services at the Typographical Union lot. By next year it is hoped to have a suitable monument erected on the union's lot.
