WILL M. MAUPIN, EDITOR

Published Weekly at 137 No. 14th St., Lincoln, Neb. One Dollar a Year.

Entered as second-class matter April 21, 1904, at the postoffice at Lincoln, Neb., under the Act of Congress of March 3rd, 1879.

"Printers' Ink," the recognized authority on advertising, after a thorough investigation on this subject, says:
"A labor paper is a far better advertising medium than an ordinary newspaper in comparison with circulation.
A labor paper, for example, having 2,000 subscribers is of more value to the business man who advertises in it than an ordinary paper with 12,000 subscribers."

THOSE BAR NOMINATIONS

The indications are that the three gentlemen recommended for district judgeships by the Bar Association will find the recommendation a very great handicap. The people who have to pay the expenses of litigation are not taking kindly to the suggestion that the gentlemen who make their living by litigation be allowed to name the judges.

It was a piece of presumption for the lawyers to butt in, anyhow. They are not at all interested in anybody but themselves. When the Bar Association met to name judicial candidates who was present to speak for the farmers, for the craftsmen, for the business men? Who of the three candidates recommended represent the great body of citizens who have to put up the money to keep court machinery going?

If the lawyers have a moral right to anticipate the primaries and "recommend" candidates, have not the railroads the same moral right to anticipate primaries and "recommend" members of the state railroad commission?

So far as The Wageworker is concerned—and it is trying to represent a class that is getting decidedly the worst of present judicial conditions—it looks upon the action of the Bar Association as being impudent in the extreme. It has no criticism to make concerning the personality of the three gentlemen recommended by the Bar Association, but it does insist that they failed to measure up to the right standard by their failure to repudiate the action of the handful of lawyers who met at the court house as a "Bar Association" and proceeded to take out of the hands of the people the duty of selecting the district judges.

DON'T DELAY THE GAME.

Every labor organization in the city should select a representative to attend upon the advisory committee of the Labor Temple project. This committee's mission will be to submit plans for proceeding with the work of raising money to erect a Labor Temple, the different locals to be the final arbitrators. As soon as the committee can submit a plan that will meet the wishes of a majority of the locals the real start will have been made.
The Central Labor Union as a body has nothing to do with the committee.
It merely used its good offices to get the matter started off, and as soon as the committee is organized the Central Body's mission will have been fulfilled.
The local unions should not wait for formal notification, but should act at once, and then report the name of the representative to George H. Bush. The committees thus selected are requested to meet with the Central Labor Union on Tuesday evening, July 23. At that time a temporary organization will be perfected.

The temple project now has a substantial start. Practically $3,000 has been pledged without any formal campaign. Several committees have been selected, and the general opinion seems to be that the work should be pushed to the limit.

With the exception of one hour of executive session during a convention of the union some years ago, the International Typographical Union has not held a session behind closed doors in ten years. Trades unions have no secrets. It is left to employers to hold chamber sessions.

The label of your craft is entitled to no more consideration than the labels of other crafts.

Talk about the war with Japan is now rife. Of course, if we have war

Mr. Post, Mr. Parry, Mr. Job, Mr. Van Cleve, Mr. Stillings and others eminent and wealthy open shop advocates will bear the brunt of the fighting—"like the old woman kept tavern." The fighting will be done by men who wield the trowel, the plane, the brush, the hammer and other tools of the trades.

It will be noted that after a lot of bluff and bluster Federal Judge Landis treated John D. Rockefeller with much more consideration than federal judges are wont to show towards mere workmen charged with violating a federal injunction.

The American Federation of Labor meets with open doors, and everybody who so desires is at liberty to attend.
Opponents of trades unions always hold secret sessions. "They who love darkness because their deeds are evil."

The American workman who imagines that it is the tariff that insures him good wages ought to hunt up a physician and take a hypodermic injection of sense.

The lawyer who thinks the wage scale is too high is cordially invited to spend eight hours laying brick or putting on shingles in this hot July sun of ours.

We missed our guess this time on the date of Mr. Post's spasm. The stenographer must be keeping him jumping sideways to deliver the silks and laces.

If your union has not yet selected a member of the Labor Temple advisory committee, see to it that it is done without further delay.

The craftsman is now trying to make a 15 per cent increase in wages meet a 40 per cent increase in the price of his necessities.

Mr. Business Man, nobody boycotts you because you use the union label; but the absence of the label does interfere with your trade.

Speaking of Mr. Rockefeller, the wonder is how such an ignorant man could have achieved such a signal financial success.

The men who make the world's goods are not the ones who are spending the summer at the seashore or in the mountains.

The Taft boom has shrunk since the political managers heard from the men who suffered from the Taft injunctions.

Is your union getting ready for Labor day? The time is growing short.

It is never too hot to demand the union label.

UNION MADE STUFF.

Manufactured In The Wageworker Office During Union Hours.

Jim Dugan's Way.

Jim Dugan was a union man Who played the game for fair; Behind in dues he never ran—His card was always square.
And when it came to label work His duty Jim would never shirk; At hustling like the fabled turk Old Jim was always there.

When Jim would buy a suit of clothes
The label he'd demand;
The hat to Dugan must disclose The label 'neath the band.
His 'bacca had to bear the stamp If 'leven blocks Jim had to tramp; Jim in "scab" goods would put a cramp
With his good union hand.

The "little sticker" Jim would paste Whenever he had a chance, And send it back with joyful haste To make the fellow dance.
"The label you must show to me;
The 'little joker' I must see If you would trade with Jimmie D—And 'tis your only chance."

When Dugan dies and nears the gate Where Peter guards the way, It is a cinch as sure as fate He'll hear Jim Dugan say:
"A union harp I've got to hold If I make music in this fold; No 'scab' band on these streets of gold,
Or Dugan will not stay."

Useless.

There was a young man in Toulouse Who tried to drink all of the booze.
When a snake and a rat Built their nests in his hat He made up his mind 'twas no use.

Cards.

A "sticker" in time saves nine.
There is no regret attachment to an honest boast.
A union man's wife should know the union game.
Your individual rights as a union man do not include the right to do anything that will reflect discredit upon your organization.

The forgettery of the average office-seeker works overtime after election day.

A union card does not make an honest workman—but it should mean an honest workman.

Sad Accident.

"Blufferly met with a sad blow the other night."
"How's that?"
"He went to blow the froth from his beer and dropped the glass."

Wrong Steer.

"What's Binger trying to do over there?"
"Says he's soaking his gasoline can in alcohol to make it red in compliance with the law."
"He must be a fool."
"O, I don't know. Look what a beautiful red color it has given his nose."

Located

"I am a free and independent workman; no union slavery for me," said the applicant.
"Where did you last work?" queried the prospective employer.
"On the city rock pile in Billville." was the answer.

HE IS ALL THESE.

After all is said Harry Orchard seems to be a pretty good sort of a citizen. To be sure he is a murderer, a liar, a dynamiter, a thief, a big-mist, a kidnapper, a jailbreaker, a confidence man, a trainwrecker and all that, but what of it? Wasn't he a trusted and confidential employe of the Mine Owners' association and a Pinkerton spy?—Fort Wayne Times-Herald.

CIVIC FEDERATION PERRY.

Perry Belmont, when notified that scab labor was being used on his $500,- 000 mansion in this city, promised to make a change and scooted for Europe. Wonder he didn't get the welfare end of the civic federation to take up the matter. The welfare feature is "an antidote for socialism," you know.—Washington Trades Unionist.

didate, subject to the will of the republican voters at the primaries September 3, for the office of judge of the
