Union-Made Goods

INVEST YOUR MONEY IN THE NEW BREWING AND ICE PLANT--

LINCOLN BREWING & ICE CO.

The shares are $50 each, payable in 10 months at $5.00 per month on each share purchased. It is confidently expected that this stock will increase in value rapidly and also pay large dividends. The most conservative business men of Lincoln are buying this stock, and we want YOU to have at least one share, as it is intended to secure the co-operation of many hundreds of stockholders with small investments, rather than a few with large investments.

Every dollar subscribed will be put into the company's property; no cash is paid out for promotion.

EVERY DOLLAR OF COST WILL BE UNION MATERIAL AND LABOR.

It seems unnecessary to argue the profit in the business. Ice, alone, will pay good dividends. The most conservative estimate would be at least ten per cent annually. Many other concerns pay four or five times this.

Write to any address below and say how many shares you want. No money will be asked for until enough is subscribed to make it safe to call the money. It will be thirty or sixty days before any money will be asked for, and then you will be notified where to pay the first payment.

A PRINTER "DOPE SHEET"

Lincoln Typographical Union No. 209 held an election last Monday but the chances are that less than half of the membership was aware of the fact until the polls closed. The ballot was had on it several propositions, among them releasing jurisdiction over the newspaper writers, increasing the president's salary, increasing the secretary-treasurer's salary, and the age pension plan. Owing to the failure to post the notices of election a majority of the membership overlooked the election and less than thirty votes out of a total of over a hundred were cast. The salary propositions were badly beaten. The pension plan was adopted.

The executive committee, acting jointly with the executive committee from the Pressmen's Union, has been planning and executing a lively label campaign lately. This has not been confined to publicity in the Wage-worker by any means. The committee has provided each chapel with a supply of stamps, envelopes and "stickers", and notified the membership to get busy. Good effects have already been realized from the "sticker" campaign. Recently a business firm flooded the city with handbills printed in a "rat" shop. For the next few days that firm's mail was loaded down with handbills returned having the "sticker" attached. It did not take long for the firm's managers to get wise. They then hurried to a fair shop and had the work done all over again, promising never again to get out a bill without the "little joker" thereon. The two committees are figuring on enlisting the aid of other unions in the city and doing some "Demand the Union Label" advertising that will make everybody wake up and take notice.

When a fellow keeps his eyes and ears open he will see and hear some funny things in union circles. A few days ago The Wageworker's famous sleuth, Padlock House, was a member of a group of union men on a down town corner. Every member of the group was spouting unionism to beat the band. Finally one of the group, a union printer, began a bitter denunciation of a former member of the union who is now a proprietor and running a "rat" shop. After talking for ten minutes and declaring with many adjectives that he was a trades unionist from the ground up, the speaker extracted a package of "Bull Durham" tobacco from one pocket and a roll of papers from the other and proceeded to roll himself a cigar.

Wouldn't that jar your unionism?

A source of valuable information to the tens of thousands who visited the Minnesota state fair last month was the booth of the St. Paul Typographical union. The project was conceived by Ross Reynolds, chairman of the executive committee of No. 30. He and his colleagues distributed thousands of circulars and other literature advertising the label, and brought it to the attention of many people who had never given the subject much thought before. A large picture of the Printers' Home was on view, as well as a group photograph of the late Hot Springs convention.--Typographical Journal.

Bert Hood has drifted in from Fremont and will print in Lincoln for a while. Hood was one of the strikers at the Fremont Tribune plant, and the Hammonds could search the country with a fine tooth comb without finding a "rat" or a non-union printer who could come within gun shot of Bert Hood as a printer. The Wage-worker man worked along side of Hood thirteen or fourteen years ago and knows him.

Mrs. Harry Ingalls of Omaha, a member of the Omaha Auxillary and delegate from that body to the Hot Springs convention, has been visiting in Lincoln during the past week, the guest of Mrs. Ira Miller. Mrs. Ingalls was one of the "bunch" that shook the convention one afternoon and spent a delightful half day 'pesticatin' among the Arkansas hills and watching the colored friend and brother in his native element.

The Fremont Unionist is a new weekly labor paper. It is "red hot" and still a heating, and a lot of politicians are already sitting up and taking notice of it.

McClure's Magazine is no longer printed in the McClure shop. That unfair firm found it a losing game to fight the Typographical Union, and it has the job out on contract.

Once there was a printer who landed in a Western City without any large number of dollars in his pocket. He became a member of the Union, and received therefrom many Benefits. Because of his membership he was enabled to draw good wages and enjoy steady work, and in due time he accumulated some dollars--all a result of unionism.

In due time this printer became an Employer and very soon a Change came over him. The conditions he insisted on when he was an employee, he refused to grant as an employer, and he derided the union bitterly. And all the while everything he had about him he owed to the Union which he derided.

Moral: He lacks any.

A printer, who is a delegate from the Central Labor Union to the Ministerial Association, was called upon for a few remarks at the meeting of ministers last Monday morning. He responded. After the meeting a minister asked: Well Brother-- what are you going to do with the non-union man?"

"Do with him just like you do with the sinner, get him into the fold," was the ready reply.

"Billy" Norton, chief fugleman of the Daily Nebraskan's mechanical department, is going to proudly exhibit another union card pretty soon. He is a charter member of the new Musician's Union.

Coffeyville Railroad Bonds.

As the result of the bond election Coffeyville will get a new railroad to the southeast. The proposition to issue $30,000 in bonds to the Coffeyville & Memphis road carried by a large majority. The road will commence at once and will be built from Coffeyville to Centralia and Vinita. Both of these towns have already subscribed aid to it. It is expected eventually to extend it into Arkansas toward Memphis. Another proposition that carried was for a new $25,000 school building.

If You Wish to Practice Economy Buying Clothes, Buy the Better Grades.

Men are fast coming to know that strict clothes economy is not in buying cheap unreliable makes. Almost invariably such clothes are poorly tailored, ill fitting and in the end unsatisfactory in every way. In other words when the dealer can only say for his clothes that they are low in price, it is safe usually to conclude that they are equally low in quality, for such dealers are very likely making profit in excess of the dealer who emphasizes the best grades. When we sell a Kensington Suit or O'coat we are sure of a pleased customer--for these garments not only wear better but look 100 per cent better from beginning to end. If you haven't already seen them you'd better come in next week.
