FUNNY, ISN'T IT?

And the Laws Are Made for Rich and Poor Alike, Too.

Of course the laws are made for rich and poor alike. Haven't we been told so time and again?

But somehow or other justice slips a cog now and then. For instance, John Jones, a mechanic, is enjoined by a federal judge from doing what the constitution and the laws say Jones may legally do. And when Jones exercises the rights granted by the constitution and the law he is thrown into jail without trial or conviction.

That's John Jones, the greasy mechanic.

But John D. Rockefeller goes to work and violates all kinds of law. He knocks the statutes into little bits and is indicted a score of times by grand juries. But John D. Rockefeller doesn't go to jail. Not by a long shot. He doesn't even go to trial. He just goes ahead violating the laws, state and national, and paying no more attention to federal injunctions than if there was no such thing.

That's John D. Rockefeller, the multi-millionaire.

Of course the laws are made for the rich and poor alike, but somehow or other the poor man gets it in the neck while the rich man only gets richer.

Funny, isn't it?

LABOR'S NATIONAL PLATFORM.

1. The abolition of all forms of involuntary servitude except as a punishment for crime.
2. Free schools, free text books and compulsory education.
3. Unrelenting protest against the issuance and abuse of injunction process in labor disputes.
4. A work day of not more than eight hours in the twenty-four hour day.
5. A strict recognition of not over eight hours a day on all federal, state or municipal work and at not less than the prevailing per diem wage rate of the class of employment in the vicinity where the work is performed.
6. Release from employment one day in seven.
7. The abolition of the contract system on public work.
8. The municipal ownership of public utilities.
9. The abolition of the sweat shop system.
10. Sanitary inspection of factory, workshop, mine and home.
11. Liability of employers for injury to body or loss of life.
12. The nationalization of telegraph and telephone.
13. The passage of anti-child labor laws in states where they do not exist and rigid defense of them where they have been enacted into law.
14. Woman suffrage co-equal with man suffrage, the initiative and referendum and the imperative mandate and right of recall.
15. Suitable and plentiful play grounds for children in all cities.
16. Continued agitation for the public bath system in all cities.
17. Qualifications in permits to build of all cities and towns, that there shall be bathroom and bathroom attachments in all houses or compartments, used for habitation.

Says Pope is very Weak. Advices from Rome say that Pope Pius is suffering from an attack of heart trouble and is very weak.

TOP OF VOLCANO BLOWN OFF.

Mount Colima, in Mexico, After the Eruption of March, 1903.

Washington.—It was said until recently that Mount Colima, which displays more volcanic activity than all the other volcanoes of Mexico together, was one of the three or four finest and most regular mountain cones in the world. It is nearer to the ocean than any other volcano in Mexico and is an imposing object from the sea, for its entire height of nearly 13,000 feet is revealed.

No one until 1903 had ever looked into Colima's crater, for it was merely a great chimney, the top of which was the point of the cone. No one had climbed the mountain, and the crater was not visible from the plain below. No lava was ever known to overflow the lip of the crater. The eruptive forces sent columns of black volcanic dust miles into the air, but did not seem to be sufficiently powerful to lift the lava quite up to the top of the cone. The symmetry of the mountain therefore was not destroyed by outpourings of molten rock.

The accompanying picture, from a photograph published by the meteorological observatory of Mexico, shows that a great change in the appearance of Colima has taken place. The picture was taken in 1903 after the eruption of March 2 of that year.

The blast coming out of the crater simply tore the top of the mountain to pieces. The crater was enlarged to many times its former size. All one side of the upper part of the cone was torn away. The rim of the crater is now about a mile around and presents an irregular border on all sides with projecting points in the form of a crown.

This is the latest example in America of volcanic energy so tremendously powerful as to carry away the upper part of a mountain and make a great and permanent change in its appearance.

OMAHA MEN HONORED.

Bascom H. Robison Elected President of American Life Convention.

Omaha, Neb.—At the second annual convention of the American Life convention held recently at Indianapolis, Bascom H. Robison of Omaha was elected president of the organization and was also made a member of the executive committee.

The convention was attended by representatives of 44 companies, representing policyholders carrying more than $630,000,000 of insurance. The convention represented practically all of the old line legal reserve companies between the Allegheny mountains and the Pacific coast and the lakes and the Gulf.

Mr. Robison's company, the Bankers' Reserve Life, has more than $1,000,000 cash assets, more than $18,000,000 insurance in force and anticipates an income of over $1,000,000 next year.

Pertinent Question.

The lank, long-haired young man looked dreamily at the charming girl on whom he was endeavoring to make a favorable impression.

"Did you ever long for death?" he asked, in a low and moving tone.

"Whose?" inquired the charming but practical young person.—Youth's Companion.

A Music Lover.

"Do you think you will give any musicals this winter?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Cumrox. "I like them. They give me a chance to keep still instead of inviting criticisms of my grammar from mother and the girls."—Washington Star.

Substitution.

Clifford had prayed heartily for a little sister, and now a brother was born.

That night he knelt by the bedside and said, kindly but firmly: "No thank You, God, I want what I asked for."—Puck.

BEST EVER WRITTEN

PRESCRIPTION WHICH ANYONE CAN EASILY MIX.

Said to Promptly Overcome Kidney and Bladder Afflictions—Shake Simple Ingredients Well in Bottle.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A prominent physician is the authority that these simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from any druggist even in the smaller towns.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive Kidneys, overcoming Backache, Bladder weakness and Urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination, especially at night, curing even the worst forms of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

The Scranton (Pa.) Times was first to print this remarkable prescription, in October, of 1906, since when all the leading newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other cities have made many announcements of it to their readers.

Grieg as a Schoolboy.

Grieg was not a pattern schoolboy. In a description of his days at school he wrote: "Knowing that by arriving late I would not be allowed to enter the class until the end of the first lesson, I used, on wet mornings, to stand under a dripping roof, until I was soaked to the skin. The master then sent me home to change my clothes, but the distance being long this was equivalent to giving me a dispensation! You may guess that I played this prank pretty often, but when at last I carried it so far as to come one day wet through, though it had hardly rained at all, they became suspicious, and kept a lookout. One fine day I was caught, and made an intimate acquaintance with the birch!"

Liquor She Floated In.

On their arrival in New Zealand, according to London Tit-Bits, a party of English people drank the health of the vessel which had brought them safely to their destination. One of the gentlemen who was asked to join in this ceremony replied: "No, I am a teetotaler; but I'll willingly drink success to the ship in the liquor she floats in." A friend disappeared and returned with a glass of water. After a complimentary apostrophe to the ship, the recipient tossed the water off at once, but immediately spluttered: "Ugh—ah—oh—this is—oh—what on earth is this?" "That?" said his friend. "Why, you've drunk success to our noble ship in the identical liquor she floats in."

Terms That Seem Strange.

There are many puzzling differences between Scottish and English law terms. For instance, bankruptcy is in Scotland "an act of sequestration," a solicitor is either a "writer" or a "law agent," the argument in a case is the "debate," and assizes is the jury, a wrongdoer is a "delinquent," an idiot—in Scottish law—is "a fatuous person," and a burglary is (with true Scottish caution), "housebreaking with an aggravation." Finally, an author is, in Scotland, not a person who writes, but the vender or seller of real property, from whom the title to it is derived.

Mutilate Art Treasures.

Authorities who have in charge some of England's ancient treasures try to discourage the habit of carving initials on these relics. A fine of $15 was recently imposed on a man who had chipped his name in letters six inches high on one of the stones in the "Druids' Circle" near Keswick. Close to the giant stone globe at Swanage a special slab is provided for the harmless reception of the names of all who are addicted to this self-advertisement. On popular Alpine summits names are left on cards in emptied wine bottles.

Will Not Supply Pigs.

Bacon curers are, usually among the most prosperous firms in Belfast, but they have had to warn the farmers throughout the north not to kill any more pigs until the strikes are settled, for it is impossible to handle the carcasses. Business has thus been diverted to other Irish bacon-curing centers, although the majority of farmers have simply respited their pigs and are making no attempt to supply the market. Danish bacon factories will thus profit.—London Standard.

But He Wasn't Hired.

Senator Frank B. Brandegee tells a story of a man who wanted to be a trolley car conductor. "This man looked hearty, polite and intelligent, and the manager of the car barns seemed to think well of him. After a number of questions the manager said: 'Well, what pay do you desire?' The applicant gave a loud laugh. Then he dug the manager in the ribs and said: 'Oh, never mind about the pay, boss. Just give me the job and I'll have a car of my own in a week or two.'—Kansas City Star.

Afternoon Tea.
Afternoon tea, where more than the usual collation of tea and the usual small sandwich or cake is served, is not considered in good taste. Simplicity is the rule for these informal functions, and salads or ices make them appear what they were not originally intended to be—a formal reception.

To Keep Cake Moist.
An apple cut in halves and put in the cake box will keep the cake moist indefinitely.

TO CLEAN PILLOW COVERS.

By This Method Tinted Ones Will Not Be Harmed.

Soiled sofa pillow covers are among the most disgusting of house furnishings.

They certainly cannot be either decorative or useful.

It is a simple matter to do up washable sofa pillow tops, but one hesitates before attempting to clean the tinted ones.

However, they may be done up several times if the following method is used: Make a suds of tepid, not hot, water, and wash the cover rapidly by squeezing in the hands.

Rinse in tepid water and shake in the air until partly dry.

Place face down on a pad, cover with a thin, smooth piece of cotton cloth, and iron rapidly with a hot iron until perfectly dry.

If there are no grease spots or stains it may be dry-cleaned by ripping it apart, placing it right side up on a board, fastening it with thumb screws, and rubbing the surface with kneaded rubber until the cover is perfectly clean.

When cleaning the embroidery be very careful to move the rubber in the same direction as the stitches. A five-cent rubber will be large enough.

ONE WAY TO MEND CURTAINS.

Treatment That Will Make Them Appear Like New.

These curtains were of plain net with border on one side and bottom, and this one pair had broken in holes through the border for about a foot above the window sill, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune. I cut the border off clear across the bottom, carefully following the curves in the design, then, noticing the figure at the edge of the curtain, raised the border till it overlapped a corresponding figure in the side border, which, in this case, occurred at such a distance as to remove all the worn part. Then, with curtain still hanging at the window to insure proper adjustment, fasten border across with pins, remove from curtain pole, lay on flat surface, and baste carefully.

Stitch twice on machine, having tension loose enough not to draw the net, and using care in turning corners, raising the presser foot often. Remove and cut away the old part underneath, and press thoroughly. I then let down the extra length which had been turned over at the top and rehung them and the mending does not show at all. My curtains are like new and still hang within three inches of the floor.
