VOL. 4

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, MARCH 7, 1908

Rev. Mr. Batten Takes an Exception tion should musicians."

And I cannot help the feeling that the mans 13:1-10.) reasons you give for your position real point at issue. you can infer from anything I have worth any respect and has any power mand a legislative enactment compel' ing men to put it up to divert (the in.portant spheres of life is what we money spent for liquors in Lincoln) question at issue; and I ask you to point out one word in anything I have ever said that gives you the least ground for this sentence.

In another editorial you seek to belittle this whole movement for temperance reform by legislative action, carrying the principle to an absurd length. Why stop with such thing; as liquors, you ask? Why not go on and seek to prohibit by law every other thing that may have some poysible injurious effect upon mankind? The Safety of the People is the Supreme Law; it is the business of the state to determine what are the things that are manifestly injurious to man: and it is then the duty of the state to enact laws against those things Sour bread, I can easily believe, has been the cause of much discomfort and dyspepsia; I am ready to confess that if I had to eat some people's bread that I should want to drink Barber College Manager in Detroit whisky or possibly something worse. Now if it should appear that bad bread is a cause of social demoralization, that it weakens men and unfits them for the discharge of their duties. then the state ought to intervene and declare that bad bread should not be sold. The fact is the law does inter vene and does seek to prohibit the sale of adulterated flour and sour bread. I am sure that you are a firm believer in the pure food laws.

Lincoln, Neb., March 4 .-- To the Edi- | was no harmless dreamer and visiontor of The Wageworker: With great ary recluse; the fact is he was a surprise and regret I learned, from terror to evil doers and was killed reading The Wageworker last week, on that very account. The Bible that you have taken an adverse post- teaches most plainly that rulers are tion with reference to no-license in the "servants of God unto men for Lancoln. I cannot avoid the feeling good;" and we are distinctly told that that in this position you have made a the magistrate is "an avenger for great mistake as time will show. wrath on him that doeth evil.' (Ro-

> The doctrine of Christ is here to fast and as far as this conscience is

For one thing, with reference to my made it will feel the woes and evils own figures, I utterly fail to see how of the world. But conscience that is ever said, that "we are going to de. must manifest itself in all the spheres and relations of life. One of the most may call society. Civil law in its into a fund for furnishing dress suits highest sense, according to the best and decollete gowns for the naked thinkers of the world, is the formustvages of the Fiji islands." I fail lated and positive conscience of a to see the relation of this to the community. If Christianity is ever to be anything more than an empty dream, it must soon or late express itself in social customs and civil institutions. If it appears that the liquor traffic is injurious to man and demoralizing in society-and that it is you will readily admit-then the Christian conscience has but one duty: it must maintain a warfare against that traffic and must take up that atumbling block out of the way or the people. I must not claim any more space in The Wageworker; but all of your other comments about regulating men's beliefs and forcing the gospel on every creature, are both wide of the mark and are beclouding the issue. Believe me, yours most sincerely,

SAMUEL Z. BATTEN.

Charged With Fraud.

The "barber college" industry shows indications of nearing its end. This "college" graft has been worked on unsuspecting young men for several years. The "college" advertises to turn a student out an experienced journeyman barber in six weeks, and insures him a job. The country boy, scenting easy work and good pay. puts up $25 or $35 and is allowed to work on bums and tramps for a few Again, you say that every preacher veeks. Then he is turned loose and ticular craft in case of labor troubles ing, apparently, to let others do all to take the place of ordinary work- the hard work and then, when things men, and the same measure of pro- are easy, come in and enjoy the bentection against government competiefits. The following unions now hold tion should be extended to civilian stock in the Lincoln Labor Temple Building Association: Electrical Workers.

Painters and Decorators.

more subscribed for to make the amount more than $2,000. All this has been accomplished without solici-

The outlook is rosy with promise.

It looks like a certainty that the cor-be laid on Labor Day. It will be a two day's wages as stock subscripwill make the erection of a Labor

"an immortal cinch."

Carpenters.

tation.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION COUNCIL

LINCOLN, NEB

The bill is now pending, and is Plumbers. said to have good chances for fa-Bartenders. vorable action Typographical. The Lincoln local has selected W. T. Leatherworkers on Horse Goods.

Pinney, president, to represent it on the Labor Temple directorate. After a couple of sessions with an amateur band the management of the automobile show last week sent for the business agent of the Musicians' Union and made a contract. The reare wide of the mark and miss the make a social conscience in men. As mainder of the week was pleasant for exhibitors and spectators.

A BEAUTIFUL STRUCTURE.

Picture of Proposed Labor Temple Now on Exhibition Daily.

The picture of the proposed Labor tion Five dollars from each active union man in Lincoln and Havelock Temple is completed and is now on display in the windows of the Arm-Temple what the sporting editor calls strong Clothing company. It will remain there for a few days, and will Now get ready and do your partthen be exhibited elsewhere. Ever and then some

SUBSTITUTES FOR THE SALOON.

"It is very doubtful whether a complete substitute for the saloon will ever be found. There are so many elements, both human and physical, which must be considered, that no one organization or institution thus far established completely meets the needs which seem to be so strongly imperative. Merely to adopt the negative policy of closing the saloons and prohibiting the sale of intoxicants will never meet the case. This method fails to recognize that many human cravings which the saloon gratisfies are perfectly legitimate, and men will gratify them."-From "Christianity's Storm Center," by Rev, Charles Stelzle, page 127.

since it was placed on exhibition it has been surrounded by admirers and great interest in the project has been aroused.

Brief Bits About the Boys of Squeeze and Color.

Walter Brown, foreman of the press The Labor Temple directors met in regular session Monday evening and room at the Free Press, is building mourned. completed the plans for the subscrip- a new double house on his lot on F tion campaign. Everything is now in street between Thirteenth and Fourreadiness, and the work will begin teenth. The contract specifies the em-

A Memory of the Engineers' Strike

"Cyclone" Thompson, one of the used to knock around engines a whole oldest and best known engineers on lot." the Union Pacific, was killed at Elm Creek the last Tuesday in February. In trying to start an extra heavy was "easy money." An hour later he More than 1,200 shares have been fieight train, one of the cylinder come back and began taking off his subscribed and paid for, and enough heads blew out. He had got down coat preparatory to resuming work at and disconnected that side of the engine, and in trying to get the other side off center, it had gathered steam. throwing the reverse lever back with such force as to crush his right side in a frightful manner. He was asner-stone of the Labor Temple will sisted from his engine and taken to out of the shop. the depot, where medical assistance certainty if union men will do a little was given. He expressed himself as unselfish hustling and dig up one or confident his injuries would prove fatal, as he realized his intestines were ruptured or he was bleeding internally. When the accident happened they were carrying two hundied and fifty pounds of steam, and the lever came back with fearful force, catching him diagonally across the lower part of the bowels on the right side. He suffered great pain, but was able, with assistance, to walk to his train, which he took to Omaha, due at 1:40 a. m. Thompson died before the train reached Omaha. J. J. Kurtz, a Burlington engineer living at 814 North Thirteenth street Lincoln, died at his home about midnight of February 23 from drinking cresolene. Mr. Kurtz came in from Ravenna that night and not feeling well when he returned home he went into his bedroom to take a dose of medicine. Mrs. Kurtz had been burning cresolent to fumigate the house. and by mistake her husband got hold of the bottle containing the highly Loisonous mixture. Medical aid was summoned but nothing would avail to save his life. There can be no doubt that death was due to a mistake. Mr. Kurtz's home life was happy, and he had no cares nor worries save those lucident to a man who is the head of a family. He left a wife and two children. Mr. Kurtz was born in 1872 and was for many years in the employ of the Burlington. He was a favorite among his fellow employes and his untimely death is deeply Henry McCarn is expecting a visit from his brother "Lum" McCarn, who

The writer tried to head the "tourist off" but he donned his coat and disappeared with the remark that it the case. Then the writer made a few red-hot remarks about any man claiming to be a union man who would help a blankety-blank and doubledashed "scab" out of a hole, and wound up by ordering the "tourist"

State Historical Societ

NO. 49

"Aw, keep your shirt on, young fellow," growled the "tourist," as he mounted a stool. "That dashed old injector ain't started yet-and I guess it never will. Something was wrong with a few nuts on the engine, and by mistake I pulled the wrench the wrong way. The injector ain't the orly thing about that 'scab's' engine that ain't working now."

The engine was hauled back to the division point by another engine.

By the way, there's a heap o' difference between the engines the brotherhood men stepped down from twenty years ago, and the ones they are running today. Those engines of twenty years ago look like family teapots alongside the huge machines of today.

Again referring to the Journal's item-do you remember those big bill toard sheets depicting a couple of engines in collision, and the words, "Prepare to meet thy God" over them? Those were strenuous times, for fair.

THE BRICKLAYERS.

Work of Organization Flourishing Throughout the South.

The Bricklayers are getting busy in the south in the matter of organization. Twenty-eight new locals have been established in North Carolina during the last four months. In addition five suspended locals have been reinstated. New locals are being organized in other states. .

Locally, the Bricklayers are looking for a busy season. There are some big jobs in sight, among them a new $45,000 structure for the conlives at Joplin, Mo. "Lum" McCarn bas formerly a Nabraska newsnawa newsnawa the church, the completion of the First Church of Christ, Scientists, and sev eral new buildings in the wholesale district. The outlook is exceedingly good, and the feeling of depression evident during the financial flurry has given way to great and hopeful expectations. The proposition to erect a new high school building meets with favor among the Bricklayers-of course. That would mean a blg contract. "Walting at the church" is a fan:iliar song. But one young member o' the Lincoln local sings it a little different. A strict watch on South Twelfth street about 5:01 p. m. would who is beseeching the aid of man- told to hustle. He finds himself worthless as a workman, out his tuition fee made law is confessing that the Gospel of Jesus Christ has failed. Now and without hope of the promised job. that is one of the most surprising Now the postal authorities threaten statements I have seen in print for a to get after the "colleges." Harry W. long time, and I can hardly believe Andrews, proprietor of the Detroit that it reflects your maturest judg. Barber College at No. 277 Jefferson ment. You seem to suppose that the avenue, Detroit, Mich., was arraigned Gospel of Christ is a kind of weak before United States Commissioner milk and water doctrine, a goody-Harsha recently, charged with using goody sentiment, a vague and indefithe United States mail to defraud. nite influence that remains up in the He was held in $1,000 bail for hearing. air and never gets down to real life. The complaint is taken out by Postal Now I am sure you agree with me in Inspector Larmon and two boys, Christhis, that such a doctrine as this is tian Densteadt and Oliver Herr, from unworthy of man and impotent in the Acme, Mich., but other students will world. And from what I have read be called. Andrews, seeing that other in The Wageworker you have nothing cities had their "tonsorial colleges," but scorn for the preachers who deal in that sort of stuff. You want a ago. He guaranteed to turn out ex-Cospel that gets right down to earth, perts in six weeks and secure posithat means something and somebody, that grips the conscience and is a $25 and this also provided the necesterror to evil doers.

Then there is another thing that must be remembered: If Christianity busy they might also go after some is to be a real thing in the world, it must soon or late express and incar- layers' colléges," etc. nate itself in human institutions, in sccial customs and in civic laws. Christianity is hatred of the things that are evil; it is a declaration of warfare against the things that hur! man and hinder society. Then Chrisevery legitimate and natural way, that is destroying man and is demorthat this demand for stringent laws ing with civilian musicians. against the saloon is a confession that The Congressional committee on the Gospel of Christ has failed, it is Labor, to which the matter was rethe declaration that this Gospel is ferred, says in the latter part of the really becoming effective. It is cre- report: ating a social conscience which is liquor business is the evidence that branched out in Detroit several years tions for the graduates. The fee was sary tools, If the postal authorities are not too of the "plumbing colleges," brick-

THE MUSICIANS.

Watching the Bill to Prohibit Compe tition From Government Musicians. After a struggle of several years, tlanity must maintain a warfare, in the Musicians' Union of the country appear to have reached the point of against every custom and institution success in the matter of having musicians in the employ of the governalizing the state. Instead of saying ment prohibited by law from compet-

"Simple justice demands that a c feeling the woes of society and is mov- izen musician, as a citizen, is entitled ing men to maintain a warfare against to the same consideration as men of them. This modern opposition to the any other trade or vocation. The government does not allow soldiers to at last we have a Christianity that is compete with citizens as bakers, brickactive and miltant enough to be worth layers, masons, blacksmiths, doctors an honest man's consideration. Jesus or lawyers, and it does not dream of of Nazareth, as you very well know, ordering out the artisans of any par-next Tuesday morning and will be niovment of organized labor. The conpushed with vigor. A neat prospec- tract amounts to about $6,000.

tus has been printed and will be dis-Wednesday evening the pressmen tributed Monday, and on Tuesday the had a social time after attending to began booming and invested what lit solicitors will follow up. The pros- routine business. Good union-made the money he had in the Joplin pectus shows a view of the proposed cigars were smoked, good talks were Globe. He put about thirty years' building, gives pertinent facts con cerning the project, and contains the were given. The boys had a fine time, and made the Globe one of the best articles of incorporation. This prospectus will be placed in the hands of well as could be expected of a fellow every business and professional man, who has a broken ankle. The injury he sold out. He has a lot of friends and distributed to every union. is very painful and will keep him The city has been districted and laid up for several weeks.

hustling solicitors will be put into each district. No one will be asked CNE OPINION OF ROOSEVELT.

to donate a cent to this enterprise. It is purely a business propositionan investment that is as safe as real Federation of Miners, who was reestate can be. Organized labor and cently acquitted on the charge of its friends will be asked to invest in the stock of the company, and every stockholder is entitled to a voice in sneaker here today at a socialistic the company's affairs. The Wagelabor meeting held under the auspices worker especially invites the business of the Moyer-Haywood-Pettibone conmen to read the prospectus and the articles of incorporation.

At the meeting Monday evening, President Roosevelt, he said: W. T. Pinney appeared with creden-"To say the least, he is peculiar. When we were shackeled in prison tials from the Musicians' Union and was warmly greeted. There are sev. he stabbed us in the back with his eral unions that have as yet shown letters. I say that this was not the no interest in the project, being will- act of a brave man."

Brothe			ilroad GE NO. 1	Trainmen
FORM 31	At X		Opr
gagements 1908, when From	s, to the New 1 re you will me 8 p. m. until 2	will run extra Fraternity Ha et the member a. m., you w	n ahead left al a, regardless all, Monday e ers of Capitol vill occupy th	March 16, '08 M of all other en- vening. March 16, Lodge, No. 170. e main line will run double.

head to your ladies' residence, running extra to your home with the CAPITOL LODGE NO. 170. best wishes of was formerly a Nebraska newspaper man. He went to Joplin about the time the zinc industry of that section made, and a few exhibitions of boxing work into it in seven or eight years Alex Weckesser is getting along as daily newspapers in the southwest, bar none. Then his health failed and in newspaper circles in Nebraska, and they'll show him a good time if he gives them a chance.

A little item in the "Thirty Years Ago Today" column of the State Philadelphia, March 1.--William D Journal Monday morning recalled to Haywood, secretary of the Western mind that twenty years ago this explain all. month the Burlington engineers were being implicated in the murier of Gov. Cn strike, and there were warm times in this Burlington territory. The ernor Stunenberg, was the principal Journal's item calls a little memory of that famous struggle. Twenty years ago the editor of The Wageworker was foreman of a weekly paference. In paying his respects to per published in a Nebraska town on the Burlington lines. Shortly after the road had started trains to mov ing with threshing machine engineers and firemen of gasoline engines, a freight train pulled into the writer's town and "died" on the "scabby's hands because he couldn't work the injector. He was used to the oldfashioned pump of a stationary engine. The station agent wanted to help out so he tried both the town elevators in an effort to find an engineer who could start an injector. But both elevators had pumps. Finally some one told the agent that the office where the writer worked had ar engine with an injector, so up he came. The writer, who knew just enough about an engine to start and stop it, did happen to know how the injector worked. But the "boss" was gone, so the writer professed ignorance. But there was a "tourist printer" in the shop who had drilled little bunch of live ones is evidenced in the day before. He heard the conversation and interrupted with the remark:

"Why, I can start the injector. I ing some.

A LABOR PARTY.

New York Unionists Declare That the Need is Imperative.

That the trades unionists of New York City will force the consideration of forming an independent labor party at once is predicted by leaders of the movement to bring workingmen into political organization.

Encouraged by the knowledge that many of the most influential union officials in the city favor the plan advocated in the resolution presented to the Central Federation union appealing to the American Federation of Labor to call a meeting to organize a labor party, several of them are exerting every energy to secure its adoption. The vote will be taken March 1, and backers of the resolution predict they will win .-- Detroit Union Advocate.

THE BOOKBINDERS.

The Lincoln local, No. 120, Brotherhood of Bookbinders, has but seven male members. They are enjoying the eight-hour day. That it is a by the fact that in regular and special assessments it has put up $143.80 during the last six months. That's go-