

Lucky Future Generations.
There is a saying of Carlyle that the greatest hope of our world lies in the certainty of heroes being born into it. That is, indeed, a glorious certainty, but the reference might be enlarged. Birth itself, we venture to say, not of heroes only, but of the generations in their succession, is the infinitely hopeful thing. It is the guarantee that the world will never grow old; that it will never stand still; that no halt is to be called in its eternal progress.—Christian World.

I AM A MOTHER

How many American women in lonely homes to-day long for this blessing to come into their lives, and to be able to utter these words, but because of some organic derangement this happiness is denied them. Every woman interested in this subject should know that preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by the use of LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. Mrs. Maggie Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was greatly run-down in health from a weakness peculiar to my sex, when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. It not only restored me to perfect health, but to my delight I am a mother."

Mrs. Josephine Hall, of Bardstow, Ky., writes: "I was a very great sufferer from female troubles, and my physician failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound not only restored me to perfect health, but I am now a proud mother."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?
Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address: Lynn, Mass.

BURNED IN A MILL
E. T. CHRISTY OF GENOA LOST LIFE IN FIRE.
ATTEMPT AT RESCUE FUTILE
Fellow Workman Tried to Reach Him When He Craved For Help But Was Not Able to Reach Him—Other News.

At about 4 o'clock p. m., Tuesday, the flouring mill owned by H. E. Fonda & Bros., of Genoa, Neb., a plant valued at fifteen thousand dollars was burned to the ground. Mr. Tellman and E. T. Christy, the two millers, were the only occupants of the building at the start of the fire. Mr. Tellman, who was in the fourth story of the structure, presumed that Mr. Christy was in the basement where he had been working with a blow torch. It is not known whether the fire was due to the explosion of the torch or to a dust explosion. Miller Tellman heard cries of help from Mr. Christy in the basement below and made an effort to reach him, but the fire had gained such headway that he was not able to get to him. It was with much difficulty that Tellman got out of the building alive. Christy was burned to death, there being no help within a distance of half a mile.

CONVICT DROWNED IN CREEK.
Attempt to Escape From Prison Ended in Death.

Convict J. G. Farrell, who tried to escape from the penitentiary cornfield Tuesday morning, is believed to have met death in trying to swim Salt Creek. His two companions, Joseph Fielding and Charles J. Bowers, who were recaptured, adhere to their first story that Farrell sank in the water when the three tried to swim across about eight rods south of the iron bridge west of the penitentiary. They have been questioned and both tell an apparently straight-forward story of Farrell's death. An examination of the banks of the creek corroborate their story in that three sets of track approach the creek and only two sets were found on the west bank where the men came out of the water. All were trustees who were at work hoeing corn in the prison field west of the penitentiary. Farrell was serving a term of one and one-half years from Douglas county. As his term expired the first of September he was allowed to work in the field.

FAVORS WORKING AGREEMENT.
Moyer Would Not Oppose a Union of Federations.

In his address to the Western Federation of Miners, delivered at its annual convention in Denver, President Charles H. Moyer favored a working arrangement between this organization and the United Mine Workers of America, and declared that he would not oppose affiliation with the American federation of labor, though he did not consider it advisable. He urged peaceful methods for reaching working agreements with employers, deploring the calling of strikes unnecessarily and recommended changes in the constitution to require local unions to consult with the executive council before ordering a strike. For the first time in the history of the organization the convention was thrown open to the entire public. Last year organized labor and press representatives were admitted, but not the general public.

NAME FULL TICKET.
Aaron Watkins Selected to Lead Ohio Prohibitionists.

The Ohio prohibition convention Tuesday adopted a platform and nominated a full state ticket. Woman suffrage which has come to be regarded as a tenet of the party was side-tracked by an overwhelming vote. Aaron S. Watkins was nominated for governor. The republican and democratic parties were attacked for failing to recognize the liquor question as a predominant issue. The platform declared against class legislation infringing on popular rights; for injunction laws giving justice to all concerned; for the initiative and referendum as to franchises for public utilities, for election of United States senators by direct vote of the people; for restriction of immigration, for stringent divorce laws and for suffrage based on intelligence and morality.

An Accident.
A "perfect lady" was charged in the police court with having broken her umbrella over the head of another "perfect lady."

"What have you to say to the charge?" asked the magistrate.
"It was an accident, your honor."
"Do you mean to say that after smashing an umbrella over this woman's head you claim it was an accident?"
"Sure, yes; but I meant not to break my umbrella."

Realistic.
The conversation turned on the effect produced on the emotions by pictorial art, when one gentleman remarked:

RECIPE FOR APPLE KUCHEN.
Simple Ingredients That Go to Make Up German Dish.

Beat one egg and add to it a cupful of milk. Mix well, then add two and two-thirds cupfuls of flour that has been slightly warmed. Beat well. Dissolve one-third of a compressed yeast cake in two tablespoonfuls of lukewarm milk and add to the water with two tablespoonfuls of softened butter. Knead thoroughly in the bowl, manipulating with hands and spoon until the dough feels elastic and velvety. Cover and stand in a warm place for about five hours, or until it has doubled in bulk, then turn on a floured board and roll into a sheet about half an inch thick. Place on a greased tin spread with butter, sprinkle lightly with sugar, then arrange closely over the top enough overlapping slices of apple to cover. Wipe over with butter, sprinkle with sugar and plenty of nutmeg or cinnamon. Cover with a light cloth and set aside for 20 minutes or until quite light, then bake in a hot oven. As soon as done brush lightly with cold water to prevent the kuchen becoming too dry.

DIES ON GALLOWS
ALIA, SLAYER OF FATHER LEO HEINRICHS, IS HANGED.
CALLS DOWN MALEDICTIONS
His Neck Was Not Broken By the Slipping of the Rope—Body Cut Down After Nineteen Minutes.

Calling down maledictions upon the Roman priesthood, and shouting in Italian "Long live Italy, long live the protestants," Giuseppe Alia, the murderer of Father Heinrichs was carried to the death trap and exactly at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night, at Canon City, Colo., paid the extreme penalty of his crime.

Alia's neck was not broken, owing to the slipping of the rope and he died of strangulation. After nineteen minutes Alia's body was cut down and he was pronounced dead.

Giuseppe Alia's crime, the murder of Father Leo Heinrichs, of the Order of Franciscan monks, at the altar rail in St. Elizabeth's church in Denver while the priest was administering the sacrament of the Eucharist, struck horror to the heart of every person in Denver and awakened anxiety all over the Catholic world lest it should prove the beginning of a general plan of priest murder.

Alia had been in Denver several weeks, unemployed and apparently penniless. Early on the morning of Sunday, February 23, according to his story, he was aroused from sleep by the ringing of the chimes in St. Elizabeth's church. He arose, dressed himself hurriedly and walked out to the church, led by the musical tones pealing forth a call to worship. But he went not with the thought of thanksgiving in mind, for he declared, and many times repeated, after his arrest that the chimes recalled wrongs experienced in his native Italy, and attributed by him to the church. Entering the church, Alia went through the usual ceremony of blessing himself with holy water, and then seated himself where his view of the altar would be unobstructed. There he followed the ritual up to the point where communion is given to all who are prepared.

Alia approached the altar and kneeling, awaited the arrival of the priest officiating at the communion, not knowing, Alia has said, or caring who it should be. A number of other communicants had assumed the same posture and positions at the communion rail were practically all taken. When Father Leo—beloved by all who knew him both in and outside the church—appeared with the consecrated wafers, all at the rail seemed impressed with the solemnity and sacredness of the service and inspired with thoughts of God. Alia, however, according to his own statement, could barely restrain a desire to spring at the throat of the priest, despite the place, the scene and the peculiarly sacred character of the action in progress.

Along the line passed the priest, placing upon the tongue of each successive communicant the consecrated wafer and repeating the lines of the mass declaring the Eucharist thus administered is the Savior himself in person. Alia was now the next in line. Father Leo placing the wafer upon the tongue of the stranger, all unsuspecting of the murderous design in Alia's heart, began: "Take, eat; this is my body—" but stopped horror-stricken. The subject of the prayer had spat the blessed morsal from his mouth. Almost simultaneously with this desecration a shot rang out and Father Leo sank to the floor mortally wounded.

STEVE ADAMS IS FREE MAN.
Acquitted of the Murder of Arthur Collins.

Steve Adams, member of the Western Federation of Miners, was acquitted of the murder of Arthur Collins Wednesday afternoon at Grand Junction, Colo.

After the clerk of the court had read the verdict Adams was ordered discharged by Judge Shackelford. Adams immediately stepped to the jury box and shook hands with each of the jurors and thanked them for finding him not guilty. He also thanked the members of the Western Federation of Miners who are here for their support and encouragement during his long imprisonment and trial. Adams left the court room with William Easterly, another prominent federationist, and joined Mrs. Adams at the hotel where she had been staying during the trial. No move was made to re-arrest Adams on any other murder charges growing out of the Colorado labor troubles, and it is said he will be permitted to go free as the authorities are convinced of the impossibility of securing a conviction in any of the cases.

TWO CURES OF ECZEMA
Baby Had Severe Attack—Grandfather Suffered Torments with It—Owe Recovery to Cuticura.

"In 1884 my grandson, a babe, had an attack of eczema, and after trying the doctors to the extent of heavy bills and an increase of the disease and suffering, I recommended Cuticura and in a few weeks the child was well. He is to-day a strong man and absolutely free from the disease. A few years ago I contracted eczema, and became an intense sufferer. A whole winter passed without once having on shoes, nearly from the knees to the toes being covered with virulent sores. I tried many doctors to no purpose. Then I procured the Cuticura Remedies and found immediate improvement and final cure. M. W. LaRue, 845 Seventh St., Louisville, Ky., Apr. 23 and May 14, '07."
