

Under Which Flag, Mr. Union Man?

J. W. Van Cleave Says:

"The injunction's purpose is to head off injury for which, if allowed to be committed, the victim can secure no adequate remedy by the courts. It is the promptness, the certainty, and the justice of the punishment in contempt cases which renders the injunction so effective in preventing attacks on property and life. Jury trial would bring delay and uncertainty. Thus it would give a license to violence, would make industry and property insecure, would increase the number and the destructiveness of labor contests, and would assail legitimate trade of all sorts.

"It is the duty of American business men, regardless of their party, to bury Bryan and Bryanism under such an avalanche of votes in 1908 that the work will not have to be done over again in 1912, or ever."—Statement by J. W. Van Cleave, President National Association of Manufacturers, and President of the Buck Stove Co., St. Louis.

What Samuel Gompers Says:

"I am very well satisfied with the democratic platform as promulgated at the Denver convention, and I will do everything to support these declarations, and of course that means we will work for the election of the men who stand for our principles.

"I have never expected defeat in any undertaking, never hoped for defeat, and never have given up fighting for an idea or principle that I firmly believed to be right and just. I will always be found fighting for what I believe is right, no matter what the temporary results may be. I believe that in this fight we now have on hand, that we will win; and I shall work for Mr. Bryan's election and for the ratification of the principles that we have advocated as officers and as an organization."—Statement by Samuel Gompers, President American Federation of Labor, and now charged with contempt of court at the instigation of J. W. Van Cleave.

A NEW AUXILIARY.

Wives of Engineers at Wymore Organize With Lincoln Assistance.

Tuesday evening of this week a number of the officers and members of the Lincoln Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers went to Wymore and installed an auxiliary in that thriving little city. The occasion was made one of great social enjoyment. A number of the Lincoln engineers accompanied their wives. After the ceremonies of installing the local auxiliary a banquet was served. "Pride of No. 90," the local auxiliary is in a flourishing condition and is providing many social pleasures for the members, in addition to doing good work along fraternal lines.

THE CIGARMAKERS.

Owing to the fact that their first meeting night in September falls on Labor Day the Cigarmakers will set the date forward a bit and meet on Wednesday evening, August 26. This will take the place of a regular meeting. Members are requested to take notice.

IT IS TO LAUGH.

Mr. Taft has his strong points, no doubt. But when the republican press touts his speeches as being superior to Mr. Bryan's, "it is to laugh," as we say when in Paris.—Buffalo Progress.

THE BARBERS.

Little of Public Interest Among Knights of Razors and Shears.

"Everything moving along well," say the union barbers of Lincoln. Business is picking up a little, but with the exception of Saturdays there is no especial rush.

Chaplin & Ryan have enlarged their shop on North Twelfth street by taking out a partition. They have also renovated and refitted the establishment. The shop is now in better position to take care of its trade.

There is not a member of the local on the sick list. This is gratifying to the entire membership.

"Sure we'll be in the Labor Day parade! And everybody will know we are there, too." That's the general expression of opinion.

ENGLISH LABOR MAN COMING.

James K. Hardie Will Visit Canada, Then United States.

Glasgow, Aug. 15.—James Kier Hardie, chairman of the labor party in the house of commons, sailed today for Canada with the intention of organizing the laboring interests of the Dominion along the lines of the English labor party. He will also visit the United States and confer with labor leaders there in an attempt to interest them in a similar movement.

Hardie is the founder of the Labor League and the chief figure in the labor party in this country.

CHANGED ITS NAME.

The Buffalo Progress has been one of The Wageworker's most valued exchanges, and will continue to be, although under a different name. After a contest that excited great interest the name "Buffalo Republic" was selected as the new heading for our Buffalo contemporary. Under whatever name it may reach us, the Buffalo labor paper will always be welcome. It is edited with marked ability and it fights manfully for union principles. Here's hoping that the Buffalo Republic will live long and prosper more abundantly as the years go by.

OF COURSE.

Hon. John E. Lamb of Indiana, chairman of the committee which has in charge the compiling and publication of the Democratic Campaign Text Book, was in Lincoln last week. "Of course the union label goes on the book," said The Wageworker man to Mr. Lamb. "Well, I should say so," said Mr. Lamb. "Better not get it out at all than to get it out minus the label." Richard L. Metcalfe, editor-in-chief of the Commoner, is doing the work on the Text Book, which is a guarantee that it will be a "corker." It is also a guarantee that the man who is doing the work is a man who stands up for organized labor in season and out of season.

APPEALING TO EMOTIONS.

Some Valuable Pointers on Obtaining Publicity for Unions.

It is not only perfectly legitimate in advertising, to appeal to the emotions, but it is absolutely necessary. The mere announcement that "John Smith will speak at a labor mass meeting," will make no impression, unless John Smith's name is capable of arousing certain emotions because of what he has done or what he stands for.

To secure the largest attention, it is not only necessary to make the appeal to as wide a constituency as possible, but, as already intimate, to people of as widely different tastes and dispositions as one can.

If, for instance, Mr. Smith has ability and can deliver a message concerning labor which the public should hear, something should be said about it, tactfully, but with all the emphasis of which it is worthy, and in as many different ways as may be invented.

To make a labor meeting successful the managers should appeal to the public's curiosity, sympathy, wonder, pride, admiration, sense of need, public feeling, and every other emotion which may be enlisted. The more numerous the emotions appealed to in a single advertisement, the greater will be the response.

As an illustration of what is meant, the following advertisement may be suggestive:

ALEXANDER HAMILTON
the World Famous Blind Tenor
(Pupil of Jean De Reske)
will sing at the
Workingmen's Mass Meeting
in the LABOR TEMPLE
First and Genesee Sts.
on Monday, September 7, 1908.

Mr. Hamilton is a native of our city. He lost his eyesight in a Pennsylvania coal mine when a young man, while rescuing a fellow-worker from almost certain death. His great teacher discovered him at a workingman's concert, and gave him an unusual opportunity to develop his voice. Mr. Hamilton is the great grandson of the famous statesman whose name he bears. In spite of great obstacles, he finished his musical education, and has appeared before the crowned heads of Europe. Mr. Hamilton knows the trials of the industrial worker. He will sing a new labor song, written especially for this occasion.

JOHN SAMUEL
America's Foremost Labor Leader,
Will Give the Address of the Evening.

Of course, the points in this advertisement are unusual, and would hardly be met with in ordinary experience, but they will serve to bring out the principles being presented.

We are assuming that "Alexander Hamilton" is the man who is to be played up at this time, because of his peculiar relationship to the city in which he is to sing. "John Samuel" is already well known to everybody in town because of what he has accomplished for the world of labor, so that his name alone will attract.—Rev. Charles Steidle.
