F. W. BROWN LUMBER COMPANY.

The lumber business forms an important factor in the business interests of Lincoln, and engaged in this line there is no firm better or more favorably known throughout this entire section of the country than the F. W. Brown Lumber company. This is an old and reliable firm, and the men at the head of this enterprise stand foremost among the leading and substantial business men of this section, and are highly respected by all our citizens.

The company's offices are located at Seventh and O streets, and they deal in lumber of all kinds—sash, doors, blinds, etc., and everything that is kept in a first-class yard. The products of this company are thoroughly known and appreciated for their uniform excellence and quality, having equalled if not excelled all other firms in this line during a flourishing business in this section of the country.

The members of the firm are business men of enterprise and ability, possessing a thorough knowledge of their industry, and take a sagacious interest in all that tends to promote the lumber interests of this city, and in publishing this, "our Annual Trade Review and Made in Lincoln Edition," we wish to call the attention of the members of organized labor to the policy and manner in which this firm transacts their large and ever-growing business. They have always been most fair in all their dealings with labor, and it is a pleasure for us to place their name before our readers for their favorable consideration.

H. P. LAU CO.

Lincoln has every reason to feel proud of its commercial achievements, and of the large houses in the wholesale line that have made it one of the great distributing centers in the middle west.

In the wholesale grocery trade, our city is represented by houses of the highest standing, and one to which we wish to make special reference is that of H. P. Lau Co.

This house was established in 1870 by H. P. Lau and during the thirty-nine years of its existence, has done much to advance the commercial interests of the city, and has a high standing here. The company does a large business in the city and throughout the west and middle west, and its trade is constantly increasing.

This company is one that has always held its place among the foremost wholesale houses in the west, and it is the only one in Lincoln having its own coffee roasting plant. In this department, the blending and roasting of coffee is done under the

H. O. BARBER & SONS.

Among the most important and praiseworthy enterprises of our city and one that has done much to give Lincoln its present commercial standing is the H. O. Barber & Sons Milling company. This well known concern are dealers and manufacturers of flour. They buy their grain in large quantities direct from the farmers through the firm's line of grain elevators. These elevators are located in the best wheat section of Nebraska. The large amount of wheat handled by this firm enables them to select the choicest for the manufacture of their flour. The poorer grades of wheat are all shipped to the eastern supervision of a man of twenty-six years' experience, which explains the gain in reputation and popularity every day and week of its famous "LAU" brand of coffees. They also put out a complete line of canned fruits, vegetables and pure food products under the "LAU" and "Blackbird" brands, and the increased demand for "LAU" and "Blackbird" products shows conclusively that the consumer today requires a high grade article at a reasonable price.

The gentlemen at the head of this enterprise are men who have the best interests of the city at heart, and men who are connected with its financial and social advancement as well. They are widely known here and abroad, and their names are synonymous with all that is best in business. The Wageworker takes pleasure in giving this firm prominent mention at this time.

WOODMEN ACCIDENT.

Best and Cheapest Accident Insurance for the Wage-earner.

It will require but a little investigation upon the part of the wage-earner to convince him that the cheapest, best and most favorable accident insurance obtainable is to be found in a policy issued by a Lincoln company—the Woodman Accident Insurance Co. It is with more than ordinary pleasure and confidence that The Wageworker commends this company to the industrial workers of Lincoln and the entire country.

The plan of insurance outlined and followed by this company is unusually favorable to the insured, and all this without in any wise impairing the integrity of the policy. At different times The Wageworker has taken occasion to recommend this company, and it has never yet found occasion to retract a single word said in its favor.

The Woodman Accident Insurance Co. is officered by Lincoln men, all of whom are in hearty sympathy with the workers. Its resources are large enough to warrant the utmost confidence, and its quick and cheerful settlement of claims has been a great factor in its splendid growth in popular esteem and confidence.

Every mechanic should carry accident insurance. This is a fact that no sensible worker will dispute. It naturally follows that the insurance should be carried in a reliable company. It follows, further, that if cheapness, reliability and promptness can be found in equal or greater market. This is one of the principal reasons for the absolute uniformity of the flour manufactured by this mill. It is such home concerns as this that our readers and friends, as well as every local citizen, should leave nothing undone to make a greater and still more useful success of so worthy a concern as this one. Their output is manufactured from the best wheat by the latest improved process, and is known to every housewife and baker as the highest grade of flour on the market. You are always sure of pure wholesome bread when you use "Liberty" flour. H. O. Barber & Sons are proprietors of this important enterprise and they enjoy a most enviable reputation, both on account of their excellent output and their straightforward and business-like methods.

Popular, strong and sweet, of health-giving power, it builds the muscle and brightens the brain—Don't forget it is made from select grain. Excellent always ready for biscuit and bread. Our product is a winner and stands at the head. First in the favor of bakers and cooks. People use it for recipes found in the books. Equal to the best and always the same. Reliable merit has won it much fame. Remember "Liberty" flour—no better under the sun. You will find it at all grocers, here in Lincoln.

LINCOLN DRUG COMPANY.

Lincoln is the home of extensive establishments in every branch of trade, and under the favorable trade conditions which prevail here all forms of commercial endeavor flourish and grow. One branch of trade which has received more than ordinary trade stimulus in its line is the wholesale drug business of which Lincoln can justly feel proud of. We refer to the Lincoln Drug Company, as being a concern that should be patronized by every retail druggist in Lincoln, and that the product of this concern should be demanded by every loyal citizen of our city. The success this company has won is based upon the experience and thorough knowledge of all the manifold details of the drug trade, and this explains why the great stock embraced in the numerous departments is so complete that there is nothing that a retail druggist can call for and can not be supplied. It is well understood that the stock carried by this house is strictly representative of the most reliable and perfect products that can be secured. This company gives employment to a large road force and they cover a large territory throughout the west. It is a pleasure to give this firm prominent mention at this time.

HARPHAM BROS.

Lincoln is well illustrated in the scope and magnitude of its industries and one we wish to call attention to is that of Harpham Bros. Co., manufacturers and jobbers of everything in harness and saddlery. The remarkable progress and prosperity made by this firm is due, in a large measure, to facilities and to the fact that they are reliable and responsible in every sense of the word. This concern does not sell their products at retail, but nevertheless a great many of our members have occasion to purchase their products, and they should at all times demand of their dealers, that this firm be patronized, and by so doing make it possible for every citizen of Lincoln when making purchases of this nature to patronize a home concern. This company's office and factory is located at 808-814 P street. This concern is strictly a home institution, and they employ a great many people to operate their factory and to conduct the business of the company. This is one of Lincoln's most enterprising manufacturing concerns, and should receive the support of all our people. We take pleasure in giving them prominent mention in this, our Annual Trade Review.
