FRED SCHMIDT AND BRO.
 917-921 O. ST. LINCOLN, NEBR.

THE MUSICIANS.

Winter Season Opens Up With Lively Prospects for Business.

The Musicians' Union is feeling good these days. With practically a "100 per cent union" in the city, and with three theaters going full blast, two or three dancing academies, and university functions just beginning, business is booming and the union's membership is kept busy. The park concert season has closed, and its success gives assurance of more and longer engagements next summer, with an increase in the size of the band engaged.

Owen Miller of St. Louis, secretary of the international organization, has just been elected president of the Missouri State Federation of Labor.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

First October Meeting Will Be Held Next Tuesday Evening.

The first October meeting of the Central Labor Union will be held at Bruse's hall next Tuesday evening, and some interesting matters will come before the body. A proposition will be made to engage in a series of open meetings that will be social and educational in their character. Some interesting discussion on traction matters will also be held.

The central body is in a position now to take the lead in some good movements, and with a little more enthusiasm it can perform good services in the cause of unionism. Every delegate should make it a point to attend the meeting next Tuesday evening.

WILL ASK ARBITRATION.

Will Seek Legislation Along that Line at Extra Session.

To secure an extra session of the legislature for the enactment of a law providing for the creation of a state board of arbitration is the latest move contemplated by friends or sympathizers of the striking street carmen.

The proposition will be submitted to some of the strike leaders during the day and it is contemplated to have petitions circulated among the people of Omaha within a short time.

count it is contemplated to take up a collection to reimburse the state. The plans, however, are as yet in the formative stage, but unless the strike comes to a sudden termination the petitions will be circulated.

Governor Shallenberger has announced officially he will call an extra session for the purpose of passing a guaranty bank deposit law should the present law be declared void by the federal court, providing the decision goes into details on the weak points of the law. This decision is looked for within a short time, and if the governor decides to call the extra session immediately upon the filing of the decision the friends of the strikers will request that the creation of a state board of arbitration be included in his call.—Omaha Bee.

GLOVEWORKERS' BALL.

First Annual Function at Fraternity Hall on October 13.

The Glovemakers' Union of Lincoln—the only one of its kind west of Chicago—is not afraid of the "thirteen" hoodoo, or anything else, for that matter. As proof the members have selected October 13 as the date for their first annual ball, and Fraternity hall has been selected as the place of holding it. Bruse's orchestra will furnish the music.

The Glovemakers' Union is not a large body numerically speaking, but it is made up of "live ones" in the union movement, and they may be counted on to show their guests a good time on the occasion of the union's first annual ball. The tickets are 50 cents per couple, extra lady 25 cents. A cordial invitation is extended to all friends.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

October Meeting Was Short and Little Business Transacted.

The meeting of the Typographical Union last Sunday was a little shorter than usual, and practically nothing was considered except routine business. The committee appointed to report on matters financial did so and made a few recommendations. They were taken under advisement and will be acted upon at the November meeting.

"Doc" Righter returned from his Chicago visit the first of the week. He failed to bring the Masonic Temple back with him, although it was reported here that he had bought it of a smooth looking stranger for $225.34.

Work continues to keep up in good style, and if there is a competent printer out of employment it is because he wants a vacation.

The board of trustees of the Home at Colorado Springs has adopted the rule that hereafter ten years' continuous membership will be required for admission to the Home.

By the way, Minneapolis is not so awfully far from Lincoln—not much further than St. Joseph. What's the matter with organizing a "Minneapolis, 1910" Club right now, and pave the way for a special car? Don't that sound good?

STREET RAILWAY MEN.

Will Meet This Evening to Transact Some Important Business.

The street railway men will hold their regular semi-monthly meeting at Bruse's hall this (Saturday) evening, beginning promptly at midnight. Business of importance will come before the association, among other things being the consideration of the case of a former official who is charged with being recreant to a trust reposed in him. It is rumored that this former official is now "scabbing" in Omaha, although the report has not yet been verified.

An international officer will probably be present to confer with the members about certain matters, and every one should be present to listen and take a part. Former Secretary Damewood left Monday for Phillips county, Colo., where he has some real estate business to transact. He will probably engage in business in that section of the country. The local organization is not at all alarmed about the rumored collapse of the strike in Omaha. They are being kept posted on a lot of matters that are not being given to the general public. A street car strike is not always lost when the service is practically restored.

LABOR TEMPLE MATTERS.

There is a "Hen On" and She May Hatch in a Few Days.

Speaking by the card, there is a ten on in Labor Temple matters, and in a day or two there may be something doing. The directors met last Monday evening and decided to invest the money on hand in real estate right away, and with that end in view a committee is chasing around looking for the right place. A suitable building is in view, and an effort is being made to arrange terms for its purchase. If the negotiations go through it will be up to the unionists of Lincoln to get busy and pay out, or stand to lose what has already been paid in and pledged.

The directors will meet again Monday evening, and every Monday evening hereafter until further notice, at Chaplin & Ryan's barber shop on North Twelfth street.

THINK IT OVER.

Perhaps It Will Show Where the Trouble Is Located.

Since the civic federation with its gay dinners, its August Belmont, the swallowed up the principal union leaders THERE HASN'T BEEN A STRIKE OF ANY IMPORTANCE WON IN THE UNITED STATES.

It's hardly worth while to talk about unions and union men and union wages, when the union leaders sit down at table with Belmont or go traveling abroad with his money in their pockets, to investigate municipal ownership, if you please, when union workmen quit the unions to save dues and when they vote by an overwhelming majority for government by the trusts.—New York American.

MINERS HAVE NO KICK.

Mitchell Syndicated His Letters Just Like Gompers Does.

People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones. When President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers went abroad several years ago and sold newspapers his observations written there, nobody raised any fuss and feathers. Now the official organ of that organization tries to raise a tempest in a teapot because President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor is doing exactly what President Mitchell did.

This was the answer given by an official of the federation today to the attack on President Gompers contained in the current Journal of the United Mine Workers.

"President Gompers," said the official of the federation today, "was only induced to permit syndication of his observations because he was convinced that the letters would receive the more publicity than if they were published merely in the American Federationist."—Erie Herald.

DECLINES INVITATION.

San Francisco Labor Man Refuses to Eat With Taft.

San Francisco, Sept. 27.—Andrew Gallagher, vice president of the International Photo Engravers, secretary of the Labor Council and a big labor leader, today declined to dine at the banquet at Fairmont hotel to be tendered President Taft at Frisco. He said, "until the president changes his attitude toward two problems with which organized labor have to deal, I shall not feel it consistent with my principles to accept an invitation to meet Taft at the banquet where he is received as the head of the government. As a labor official and unionist, I do not care to meet him officially, in view of his record on labor matters."

WHAT'S THE USE?

A Little Catechism that Will Amuse and Interest.

"Why do we send missionaries to the savages?"
 "To civilize them."
 "What good does that do them?"
 "It educates them out of habits of idleness."
 "And what then?"
 "They go to work."
 "What do they work for?"
 "To become prosperous and rich."
 "What good does prosperity do them?"
 "It procures them leisure and comfort?"
 "Whis was what they had before you started stirring them up. What's the use?"—Cleveland Leader.

WHERE WATTLE'S MISSED IT.

Could Have Added Something to His Business Reputation.

G. W. Wattle's points with pride to the fact that he was the head of the Trans-Mississippi exposition at Omaha and that it was the first exposition in the history of expositions that paid out. Why would it not be just as glorious for Mr. Wattle's to have made another record for himself as the head of one corporation that received its employes and treated them as fellow men and fellow laborers in the economy and commercial life? Is it not about time to discard this old chestnut? "There is nothing to arbitrate." A lot of sensible men do not make demand without reason.—Council Bluffs Times.

POLITICAL OFFICIALS BARRED.

Illinois Federation of Labor Cuts Them Out as Delegates.

Political office-holders are to be barred this year from seats in the convention of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, which opens at Belleville on Tuesday, Oct. 19. In the official call for the convention, which was issued last Monday, notice is given that no delegate who is not actively engaged at his or her trade will be seated. It is the first time in the history of the state body that such a rule has been enforced.

That the new rule will keep politics out of the convention is not expected by any of the seventy-five Chicago delegates who expect to attend. Already some of them are whetting their knives to go after the present officers of the state body on account of politics.—Minnesota Union Advocate.

WILL NOT INTERFERE.

John Fay and Rezin Orr, accompanied by a committee of a dozen business agents, called upon Mr. Bernard Corrigan one day last week to talk over matters pertaining to the Street Carmen's Union. It is said that things waxed warm for a while, but the visitors departed with everyone in the best of humor. Mr. Corrigan has pledged his word that he will in no way interfere with the organization of the men in his employ, and the trades unionists of this city are exceedingly well pleased at his stand.—Kansas City Labor Herald.

SALARY AND WAGES.

Note the difference: A ribbon salesman "receives a salary" of six dollars per week, while a bricklayer gets wages of six dollars a day.—Kansas City Labor Herald.

The end of the labor troubles which became acute in Stockham the early part of this month is said to be in sight. The leaders of the various unions have opened negotiations with the employers with the object of having the men resume work.
