serves it more than this big-hearted, true blue unionist and genial Irishman who has made the rubber heel known the world around. Some of these days Humphrey O'Sullivan will visit Lincoln again, and when he does what the unionists will do to him will be worth remembering for a lifetime. If we had a lot more Humphrey O'Sullivans and a lot fewer Van-Cleaves and Wrights, this world would be a more cheerful abiding place.

What's the matter with Humphrey O'Sullivan?
He's all right!
Who's all right?
Humphrey O'Sullivan!
Rah! Rah!! Rah!!!

DARNED FOOLISHNESS.

Philadelphia Scheme That Would Make Us Look Like Chumps.

The Philadelphia Central Labor Union proposes the fool scheme of every union wage earner going on strike for two weeks in case Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison are jailed.

What's the use? And if two weeks, why not two years?

How would it help the three Federation officials if we quit work and let the wives and babies go without food for a couple of weeks? Wouldn't it be a lot better to keep right on working and drawing wages and then give a goodly share of our wage towards paying the expenses of an organizing propaganda?

We've heard a lot of foolish plans for furthering the cause of organized labor, but this Philadelphia proposition seems entitled to the prize for more kinds of foolishness than most of 'em.

WILL GO AFTER CONVENTION.

Oklahoma City Printers Start Agitation for Big Meeting.

Oklahoma City Typographical Union by the appointment of a committee at their last meeting, to report to the body at the December meeting as to the feasibility of entertaining the International convention for the year 1912, has started an agitation that may land for this city one of the greatest conventions ever held here.

The next convention will be held in Minneapolis in August, 1910, and if the present plans of the local union are matured, a strong committee will be sent to land the convention here two years hence.—Oklahoma Labor Unit.

WILL "EVERYBODY'S" SCAB?

In transferring Everybody's Magazine to the Butterick company, it took three shares of the latter stock to purchase one share of the former. The cheapness of the Butterick stock is due to the fight the company is making against the International Typographical Union. If this transfer does not bring about the unionizing of the Butterick plant, Everybody's Magazine stock will soon be as cheap as Butterick's—and that is miserably cheap, too.—Oklahoma Labor Unit.

IN TORONTO.

Labor Temple Has Proved to be a Profitable Investment.

The annual statement of the directors of the Toronto Labor Temple shows that the year's business was a profitable one. The receipts amounted to $13,568.33, leaving a balance of $1,856.18. The assets of the company are the building, $35,888.34; furniture, $7,500. The profits show an undivided dividend of over 13 per cent. The excess of assets over liabilities is $17,309.87. The original allotment of stock has been taken up, and the single transaction of $5.00 for the year closed the final allotment. At present there is no stock on the market, and the company will not issue any more, as the stock as it now stands is worth more than double what was paid for it.

A Jewish labor hall is about to be erected in Leeds, England.

LEFT THE TROUSERS

ENGLISH SAILOR WENT TO HIS SHIP IN A HURRY.

Turkish Customs Officials Would Not Be Denied and Sturdy Jack Tar Had to Break Sprinting Records.

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, at a dinner in New York, defended the customs officials of the port.

"These intelligent young men," he said, "in a difficult position conduct themselves adroitly. The stories are false that make them out to be brutal and indelicate. If it were Turkey now!

"In the days before Batoum fell to Russia," he resumed, "a sailor on an English ship lying in Batoum harbor went ashore and bought himself a pair of trousers. He put the trousers on. His old ones were quite worn out, and he told the dealer to throw them away. Then he started forth into the street proudly.

"Soon he met a group of customs officials. They stopped him, and their chief said:

"Those are new trousers you've got on?"

"Yes," said the sailor. "I just bought them."

"Then," said the customs chief, "you must pay duty on them."

"But I've no money left," said the sailor. And this was true. His last copper had gone to pay the shopman's bill.

"No money?" cried the chief. "That's very bad for you, then. You'll have to leave the trousers with us in that case."

"But I've got nothing under them," objected the sailor.

"Never mind; we won't look," and the chief and his men all repeated that there was no fear—they would none of them look.

"But other people may look!" shouted the desperate sailor.

"The officials shrugged their shoulders.

"That," they said, "is no concern of ours."

"And so the poor sailor was forced, willy nilly, to leave his new purchase behind, and to gallop to his ship as best he could, making up in speed for what he lacked in drapery."—Los Angeles Times.

Man's Rights Movement.

The man's rights movement is assuming large proportions. There is evidently something in it.

"We claim," said a prominent man's righter, according to the Detroit News-Tribune, "that we ought to have the right to go down in the kitchen—our own kitchen—at any hour of the day or night."

Mrs. Hornblower Smith had this to say: "It can't succeed! The truth is that the men themselves at heart don't want it. This movement originated with a few cranks—feminine men, so to speak, who want to run things. It will die out."

That the sentiment, however, has significance is shown by the fact that there has just been organized an Anti-man's Rights Order, and this among the men themselves. The head of this movement, a slight, nervous-looking man, was seen.

"Yes," he said, "it is quite true that we are doing all we can to quell the movement in favor of man's rights. It's a burning shame that such a movement should have been started in the first place. Why should we men want any privileges, anyway? My wife has urged me to go into this thing, in the interests of ultimate peace, and I am doing all I can to restore law and order. We men of the right sort—the real backbone of the nation—are not looking for trouble. We want rest and quiet and not power."

What the end will be no one knows.

Test of Affection.

There was once a young man who was paying court to three different beautiful damsels. Each was fair, each was sweet, each was charming—so much of a triplicate similarity did they have that he did not know how to choose between them. So he went to a wise old man and laid his troubles before him.

"Is there a clock at each house?" asked the wise old man.

"There is."

"And what does Emeraldalda say when the clock strikes 11?"

"She says the clock is slow."

"What does Eulalie say?"

"She says the clock is just right."

"And what does Evangeline say?"

"She always says the clock is fast."

"My son, there is no need for further evidence. Evangeline is the one that really loves you."—Judge.

Statesmanship.

"Well, they've elected Blingsby to congress."

"What! Did that soulless, truckling, low-down politician?"

"Yes, and he told me he would push your name for local postmaster."

"Oh—Blingsby? Why, I didn't understand the name. That fellow's all right, and I've always said so. He's got the makings of a statesman—Blingsby!"—Lippincott's.

Graft.

"I want you to put in your 'Lost and Found' column an advertisement like this: 'Wallet containing considerable sum of money and papers. Finders will keep money; return papers.'"

"Don't you think," suggested the clerk, "you had better add 'no questions asked'?"

"No, but you may say 'no questions answered.' I'm the finder."

TO LABOR UNIONS.

Will you assist us by appointing some one in your union to furnish us with news? The Wageworker wants to publish the news of your local, and in order to do so must have your assistance. It is our aim to give our readers all the labor news that is to be had and we wish to do it properly, so that you will be satisfied. By helping us in this way, you not only make this paper more valuable and complete, but your knowledge of what is going on in the labor movement is better and the good feeling among the various crafts is more strongly cemented. When this fellowship idea is instilled thoroughly among us there is less likelihood of a break in the ranks and it is certainly needed at the present time.

CHARACTER OF DELEGATES.

Rev. Charles Stealzle Tells of the Men at Toronto Convention.

Each year seems to raise the standard of the men who come to the conventions of the A. F. of L. Those who have been coming regularly, year after year, naturally become more efficient because they are more highly trained in the things which make for better leadership. They are more tolerant of others' mistakes and shortcomings. They are steeled against mere pettiness. They are more optimistic as to the possibilities for the workingman and workingwomen of America and the world. Their grasp of the bigger problems in the industrial world is larger, because their outlook is broader.

Coming into contact with this type of leadership, the younger and more inexperienced delegate catches something of their spirit. It is a real education to him. He goes back to his own central body and to his local with a vision of better things. He has for the time being gotten away from the narrowness of comparatively little things, and he returns with the feeling that this labor problem is a much bigger thing than he ever dreamed of. Needless to say, it pays to send a delegate to the convention of the American Federation of Labor—pays the man who goes and the body that sends him.

All of the above applies with peculiar force to the convention now in session in Toronto. Here are come together the picked men in the world of labor. They have risen from the ranks by the sheer force of native ability. They have come up through storm and shock. They have been shown no favor merely because of social position, wealth, or family prestige—the things which govern in the selection in other groups. Every man has earned the place which he now occupies.

To such men may safely be entrusted the destinies of the toilers of America, not that every man is a paragon of excellence, nor that they never make mistakes. But the good sense of the entire body usually prevails and errors are soon rectified.

Marvelous is the patience of the delegates as they listen to long-drawn-out discussions which nobody seems willing to cut off, because of the keen desire to give every fellow a square deal. And always does the right side win, provided, of course, that it can prove its case. Sometimes, for the moment, technicalities appear to crowd out justice, but everybody recognizes the fact that these men will see that wrongs shall be righted, ultimately, even though the law demands arbitrary action in a particular case.

Organized labor need not be ashamed of the men who compose this convention. They would measure up with the men in any other deliberative body.

STRIKE IN PHILIPPINES.

Tobacco Workers Demand More Pay and Walk Out to Get It.

Since the passage of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, which had a favorable effect on Philippine tobacco and cigars, there has been extraordinary demand for tobacco workers in Manila. Most of the factories have been running overtime with extra shifts of workmen in anticipation of a big demand from the United States. The workers have now taken the opportunity to demand increased wages, and it is reported that 1,500 men are on strike at the Oriente factory, which is the largest of all the exporters.

"HANDS ACROSS THE BORDER"

O, it's hands across the border, and it's hands across the sea!
"God Save the King" you're singing, we "My Country 'tis of Thee!"
Blood is thicker 'er than water, and we know what friendship means.
For we've tried each others' mettle—Lundy's Lane and New Orleans.
So we clasp our hands like brothers as we press the forward track,
While Old Glory waves and ripples by the side of Union Jack.

O, it's hands across the border, and it's hands across the sea!
For we've learned to know each other in our wars for liberty.
And where'er you see those banners rippling 'neath the vaulted dome
You will always find true fighters for the cause of right and home.
By the old Star Spangled Banner and the Red Cross of St. George
We have welded stoutest friendships in the fires of Freedom's forge.

O, it's hands across the border, and it's hands across the sea!
"Rule Britannia!" "Yankee Doodle!"
"Home, Sweet Home" where'er we be!

And we carry Freedom's banner 'round the girdle of the earth
Till in ev'ry heart and conscience love of Liberty has birth.
So it's hands across the border, and it's hands across the sea,
While "God Save the King" you're singing, we "My Country 'tis of Thee!"

—Will M. Maupin,
Lincoln, Nebraska.

The above verses were read at the "smoker" tendered by Toronto Typographical Union No. 91 to the visiting printer delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention.

PHOTO-ENGRAVERS WIN.

The strike of the photo engravers of Albany and Troy, N. Y., which lasted three weeks, has been settled. The employers and strikers came to a satisfactory agreement. The men get an increase of $1 a week in their scale, which is now $21, and a reduction of the working hours from nine to eight a day.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

Short Meeting that Gets Away With Considerable Business.

The Central Labor Union met last Tuesday night at Bruce's hall. The attendance was small, but the interest good. Several important committees reported. Delegate Maupin reported at length upon the Toronto convention.

The matter of electing a delegate to the State Federation of Labor convention at South Omaha on January 4 was taken up. T. C. Kelsey was elected and an appropriation made for expenses and per diem.

This was the last meeting to be held in Bruce's hall. The next meeting, the second Tuesday in December, will be held at the Labor Temple, and it is hoped that every delegate will be present, together with a goodly number of visiting union men.

An encouraging report was heard from directors of the Labor Temple Association who were present. C. S. Hoyt was added to the committee to appear before the city council in the Traction company settlement deal. Treasurer Evans was present after an absence of a month, during which time he visited relatives and friends in Ohio and Illinois.

HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN.

Rubber Heel Man Invests in Lincoln Labor Temple Stock.

A short time ago a Lincoln printer wrote to Humphrey O'Sullivan and told him what Lincoln unionists were trying to do along Labor Temple lines. Mr. O'Sullivan's response was an investment of $200 in Labor Temple stock.

You don't have to tell the union printers of the country who Humphrey O'Sullivan is. They know him to be a staunch friend of organized labor—the kind of a friend who goes down into his pocket to prove his friendship. And they rejoice at every evidence of his prosperity, for there isn't a man in the country who de-
