

TYPOGRAPHICAL TIPS

Lincoln Typographical Union No. 209 met last Sunday afternoon and went through a lot of important business in jig time. It was decided to send but one delegate to the next international convention which meets in Minneapolis. The amount of appropriation was also settled upon.

It was "nomination day," too, and there was a remarkable unanimity displayed. The present international administration was endorsed without a dissenting voice. With the exception of the big "eight-hour year" Lincoln Typographical Union has always been "anti-administration," but this year everything seems smooth sailing. The following endorsements were made:

James M. Lynch, Syracuse, N. Y., president; George A. Tracey, San Francisco, Cal., first vice-president; J. W. Hays, Minneapolis, Minn., secretary-treasurer; George P. Nichols, Baltimore, Md., agent union printers' home; Frank Morrison, Washington, D. C., T. W. McCullough, Omaha, Neb., Hugh Stevenson, Toronto, Can., and M. W. Hayes, Cleveland, O., delegates to American federation of labor; L. C. Shepard, Grand Rapids, Mich., Thomas McCafferty, Colorado Springs, Colo., and Herbert W. Cooke, Boston, Mass., trustees of union printers' home.

The local's vote on the "mortality benefit" plan has now been taken, but the result has not been announced. The indications are that the plan will be adopted by the international. It provides for a graduated mortality benefit, based on length of membership, and calls for a monthly assessment of one-half of 1 per cent.

Tickets for the annual ball at Fraternity hall on February 23 have been distributed, and everybody is urged to hustle and make the sale of tickets as large as possible, for it means a lot for the Labor Temple.

Floyd McKinney, who has been employed at the Western Newspaper Union for several years, drew his card a couple of weeks ago and is now roaming around through Colorado and Utah in search of health. Mrs. McKinney and the children will remain in Lincoln until Mr. McKinney settles down.

AMONG THE BARBERS

The Journeyman Barbers' International Union is up and doing these days. At the recent international convention it was decided to put four general organizers into the field, and last week the head officials at Indianapolis proceeded to carry out the mandate of the rank and file. The country has been divided into four districts—eastern, western, central and Canadian—and an organizer placed in each. In addition a general organizer has been appointed and his duty will be to travel everywhere and act largely in an advisory and supervisory capacity.

The organization is showing a splendid growth all over the country. During the last two months unions have been chartered in Anadarko, Okla., Columbia, Mo.; Lethbridge, Alberta; New Rochelle, N. Y.; Charleroi, Pa.; Mangum, Okla.; Watertown, S. D.; Spartanburg, N. C.; North Yakima, Wash., and Hutchinson, Kan.

The Lincoln local feels complimented on the selection of one of its members, R. L. McBride, to be president of the Labor Temple Association. "Mac" will make good on the job.

The threat of a "United Barber Shops Co." is not scaring the union barbers to any great extent. The organization is pretty strong over the country, and the members feel that they will be able to handle that sort of a game when it opens.

THE BRICKLAYERS

The Union Bricklayers and Masons of Lincoln are going to get into the "social swim." A few weeks ago they had a little "foam" among themselves, and the occasion was so pleasant that they determined upon another social event, this time to include the women. Arrangements have been made for a social dance at the Labor Temple next Wednesday evening, February 16, at which time good union music will be provided and all who attend are assured of a good time. The proceeds of the social will be given to the Temple Association. Everybody is invited to attend, and 50 cents admits a couple.

One of the big brick jobs of the season will be the new Y. M. C. A. building. Nearly $100,000 is to be expended on this building, and that means lots of work for the building tradesmen of Lincoln.

Four hundred bricklayers employed on the Prudential Annex at Newark, N. J., struck recently against the employment of New York men on Newark job. The men were out a week and then returned, the contracting firm having surrendered.

STREET RAILWAY MEN

The Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of Lincoln will meet at the Temple next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock and at midnight. Some matters of unusual importance are to be discussed, and it is hoped that every member will attend.

The meetings of the association are divided for the convenience of the members. The daylight men meet at 8 o'clock, and the night men meet at midnight, after the close of the day's business. This has been found to be most convenient and assures a larger attendance. The benefit association matter has not yet been fully settled, and this will, perhaps, be further discussed at Sunday's meeting.

AUBURN WINS.

The high school debating teams of Auburn and Nebraska City met last week and discussed the question, "Resolved, That Labor Unions are on the whole beneficial." Auburn affirmed and Nebraska City denied. Auburn won. This question is being debated all over Nebraska, and so far the affirmatives has won in every instance coming to the notice of The Wagerworker.

GETS THREE DOLLARS.

Dan Carney of Milford, Mass., made application for membership in the local Bartenders' Union. His application was rejected and Carney sued for $10,000. He was awarded $3. The amount of damage is small, but the precedent is a bad one. The International Union will appeal for the Milford local, and fight the case to a finish.
