RUDGE & GUENZEL CO.

A Great Sale Saturday in the Yardage Section

Wool Dress Fabrics at 69 Cents a Yard

78 Pieces of New Spring Wool Dress Fabrics at This Great Reduction for Saturday Only

See Windows 10 and 11

This sale consists of the newest weaves and colorings in FANCY STRIPED SERGES and BA-TISTES. Just the right weight that women are looking for at this time of the year. A wide color range is shown, including such new colors as Leather, Mustard, Grays, Tans, Browns, Wines, Violets, Stone, Etc. Also neat checks and Stripes in Gray Mixtures.

Regular $1 and $1.25 Values, for Saturday. Yard 69c

MANY LOW PRICES ON STAPLE DOMESTICS

MUSLINS AND SHEETINGS

	Full Standard L. L. Unbleached 36-inch Muslin, our extra quality and regular 8c value. 15 yards to a customer, at, per yard
50	One case of 36-inch BLEACHED MUSLIN. Our No. 3720 and a quality as good as Hope. Regular 12 1-2c value, for four days, a yard9c
	25 pieces of best quality LONGSDALE CAMBRIC MUSLIN, 36 inches wide. Our 18c quality with 10-yard limit to a customer. A yard
U -	10 pieces of 8-4 FULL STANDARD BLEACHED SHEETING, full 72 inches wide and our 30e quality, at a yard
	10 pieces of 9-4 FULL STANDARD BLEACHED SHEETING, 81 inches wide and a regular 32c quality. For four days, a yard
	PRINTS AND PERCALES

PRINTS AND PERCALES
One case of STANDARD DRESS PRINTS in assorted colors. While they last, a yard	5.
75 pieces of 28-inch DRESS PERCALES in colors Gray, Wine, Black, Navy and Light blue, in many good designs, 8 1-3c quality, at, a yard	j ¹ /2c
Best quality of YARD-WIDE DRESS PERCALES in a wide range of dark, medium and light colors, in neat stripes, checks, dots and floral patterns.

SALE OF RELIABLE GINGHAMS
One case of APRON CHECKED GINGHAMS, in assorted Blue Checks. For	63/4c four days, a yard
100 pieces of BOOK FOLDED WHITTENTON'S ZEPHER GINGHAMS. Many colorings and patterns; also plain colors and staple checks. 12 1-2c quality, at a yard..... 50 pieces of WM. ANDERSON'S 32-inch DRESS GINGHAMS. A great valety of color combinations and patterns. A fabric that will laundry perfectly.

Special during this sale, at a yd.

► VERNONthe GREAT

Everett V. Sommerville, known to lish" is well known in Lincoln, as he impression.—Daily Oklahoman. spent his boyhood days in this city. He left here fourteen years ago with hypnotic entertainment as a sure cure Dr. Herbert L. Flint, hypnotist, was for the "blues." As a laugh provoker several years student and protege of his performance is a distinctive and the famous O. B. Griffith and two individual ilass by itself.-Beatrice years ago formed a company of his Express, own and has met with remarkable success. He will be at the Oliver Theatre five nights next week.

Below are a few flattering notices he has receivel from the daily press in the cities he has visited.

The wonderful performances of Vernon is of high quality, and convinces Calls Eleven Hundred Negro Girls the most skeptical that hypnotism has has possibilities aside from its amusing features.—Topeka Capital.

Vernon's striking exposition of hypnotism is causing unusual comment this week. A program of absorbing interest holds the attention of his audiences from the rise to fall of curtain.-St. Joe Gazene.

The performances being furnished by Vernon this week are especially designed to amuse, however, the perfect convincingness of his hypnotic his many boyhood friends as "Eng- demonstrations produces a profound out Doing Much Business.

We heartily recommend Vernon's

TEMPLE DIRECTORS.

The directors of the Labor Temple Association met Monday evening, but did not transact any business worthy of mention. There are two or three plans brewing that promise much, and until these plans are well under way little else will be considered. The Temple proposition has received a big impetus during the past week, and there are stockholders who wouldn't sell out at a 50 per cent premium, knowing what they know.

It is possible that some of the plans now under way will be in full swing by next Monday night, so every director ought to be on hand then to get the facts.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

The strike is off. Despite the efforts bers in line, the meeting last Friday night accepted the open shop, accept-to work at the employers' offer before the strike was declared off were Hold Brief Meeting and Escape With- present in force and voted solidly to State Federation of Labor and Will sider the open shop proposition, but it for ten.-Bon Vivant. their advice was not heeded. The meeting was a stormy one.

> A lot might be said on this subject, but in the opinion of this humble litter. Unless the Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators re-open the subject, it is a closed incident with The Wageworker and with the "closed shop" unions of the city.

> > SHEET METAL WORKERS.

Now Up to Them to Get in Line and Organize the Craft.

Every building trades in Lincoln is of loyal unionists to hold the mem- organized with the exception of the thing you want and there's nobody Sheet Metal Workers. Why do they hold out? They ought to get busy ed the proposition of the employers and get in line with their fellow and went back. Men who went back workers. They can count on plenty why, then-?-Life.

of assistance in the work of organization, and they can have room in the Labor Temple any old time they want to get together.

There are enough men of the sheet metal craft in Lincoln to organize a strong local. They owe it to themselves and to their fellows to organize right away.

WHITE GIRL LEADS.

Out of Tobacco Factory. LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 8.-Ha

Spaulding, a white girl, succeeded in calling a strike of 1,100 negresses employed as stemmers by the American Tobacco company. The young woman, known as "The Girl in Blue," succeeded in slipping past the company's guards into the plant, shouting, "Strike for your rights and fol-

In an instant the hundreds of negresses left their work and rushed pell-mell after her, later joining the 400 white girl strikers who had previously gone out at another plant or the company. Earlier in the day a crowd of girl strikers and their sympathizers had surrounded the plant in an endeavor to get the negresses to strike, but the police prevented them. gods of polytheism has upon the mind.

Patriotic.

Artist (to tentative customer) -Now. gig back. President Coffey of the I'll be quite frank with you. I refused a thousand dollars for it from an American, because I don't want it to M. Maupin urged the men not to con- go out of France, but I'll let you have Pawn Shop Run by City.

The Dutch pawn shop of Amsterdam, known as Bank van Leening, is tle labor paper the least said the bet- under the control of the municipality, and is one of the oldest in the country. Up to 1616 the business was leased by the city to a private company, but as it refused to reduce its interest on pawned articles the city took over the business, and has managed it ever since.

It's easy enough to be honest when life flows along like a song, but when able to dream that we are doing much you're out of work and the rent is due and your wife is ill and the chil- Eliot. dren are hungry and you see somelooking and you've got to a point where you don't much care if there is some one looking, because a warm cell is as good as a cold pavement-

And That Ended, Recriminating Senators Speedily Forget Their Differences.

The late John J. Ingalls, senator from Kansas, let loose in the senate one day about Conkling, Hancock and several other distinguished people.

His remarks were particularly severe. Joe Blackburn, then senator from Kentucky, was chosen to answer Ingalls, and he took a good deal of hide off the brilliant Kansan. In one paragraph Blackburn said: "And this man has the temerity to assail Hancock-Hancock the Superb-who was giving of his life's blood on the heights of Gettysburg while the senator from Kansas was skulking along behind a regiment of Kansas jayhawkers, trying those jayhawkers in the capacity of judge advocate for robbing hen roosts."

There was more of the same kind, and everybody thought there would be trouble, inasmuch as Ingalls was high spirited and Blackburn unafraid.

After the senate adjourned Blackburn and Ingalls met, face to face, in the corridor in front of the marble room. A dozen spectators looked for Ingalls stopped, looked squarely into Blackburn's eyes and Blackburn glared I go about getting a husband? Kind

"Joe," said Ingalls, putting out his hand, "isn't this cruel war over?" "It is," said Blackburn, taking the offered hand, and they went off arm in arm.-Saturday Evening Post.

PECULIAR VISION OF FISH

Hypothesis That Seems to Explain the Constant Revolution of the Eyeball.

The medium in which fresh-water fishes live gives them a chance to see a great distance only in the horizontal direction. It seems impossible to explain the constant revolution of the eyeball on any other hypothesis except that the optical axis extends forward instead of sidewise.

When a fish wishes to eat anything, either at the bottom of the pond or at the surface of the water, it swims directly toward the object; and in this case the eyes are instantly adjusted in line with the body, so as to bring the image of the particle desired upon the posterior portion of the retina. In this case they lose their horizontal position.

If a fish wishes to turn to the right or left in the water, the first movement is that of the eyes in unison in the direction of the turning. This would be entirely unnecessary if the apparent axis was the axis of the most distinct vision, as one of the eyes would see all that was to be seen on the side of the turning. After this movement of the eyes, the body turns enough to bring the eyes-into their normal position, then there is again a movement of the eyes, and next a movement of the body. This causes a peculiar jerking motion of the eyebalis during the whole time of the turning of the body.

Proud of His Prospects.

Louis Pierre was one of a number of Canadian immigrants who settled at Fitzgerald, Ga. As he spoke both French and English, he rapidly became a man of importance, and was successively elected to the offices of city marshal, corener and justice of and English settlers as to the superiority of the United States over the Canadian provinces. They finally agreed to leave the decision to Judge Pierre, who handed down this deci-

"Yoost tage a look at me. Ferst dey mage me constabul, den coroner, und now joostis of de pees. Soon I be ze governair, den senator, den president. I wood be ze long time in Canadaire 'fore dey mage me queen."-Circle Magazine.

A Polytheist.

"When the late Bishop Foss was president of Amenia seminary," said an aged Methodist of Philadelphia. "I once heard him deliver an interesting lived things"—that Whitman tells us Easter address on heathenism and "Bishop Foss showed us, with a little story, the bad effect that the many 'He said a little English boy living in India was rebuked by his mother for telling a falsehood.

"God, if you tell falsehoods, will be very angry with you,' said the mother.

"'Very well,' the youngster an-'Then I will change swered.

Blessed Illusions.

Thank heaven that a little illusion is left to us, to enable us to be useful and agreeable-that we don't know exactly what our friends think of us -that the world is not made of looking glass, to show us just the figure we are making, and just what is going on behind our backs! By the help of dear friendly illusion, we are able to dream that we are charming-and our faces wear a becoming air of selfpossession; we are able to dream that other men admire our talents-and our benignity is undisturbed; we are good-and we do a little.-George

Boisterous Mirth. "What makes you laugh so loudly whenever Bliggins tells a funny story? "In self-defense. I want to make so nuch noise he can't tell another."

FOES ONLY DURING DEBATE VERY LIKE BUSINESS MATTER HOW HEARING IS AFFECTED

Little Romance in Many of the Marriages Contracted by German Couples.

From the beginning the little German girl is trained to matrimony. "Eat your fish fresh and marry your daughter while she is young," runs the German proverb. The girl, coming from a race of practical-minded, deft-handed people with a counter-balance of idealism, has her dreams of a fairy prince. They dwindle and fade in the face of realities till at last she is glad to marry a sober business man from 10 to 30 years her senior. This discrepancy in years is due to the circumstance that a man in Germany, according to government regulations, must spent so many years in preparation for his profession that by the time he is able to support a wife he is at the age when an American man has already made the initial success of his career. But men and women are anxious enough to marry.

When other hope fails some of them advertise, for many German newspapers have a kind of marriage market in their columns. Such advertisements read:

"I am still young, strong, and with a fortune of 12,000 marks. How shall advice sought by - and so on."

"A Jewish lady of 25, beautiful, with a dowry of 200,000 marks, would like to marry a man of title and good family. She would be willing to be baptized into his religion. A meeting must be arranged for in a dignified man-

"The manager of a good business would like to marry a pretty widow, very strong, weighing about 180, but of good figure, and with a fortune of a few thousand marks."

POISE OF TROUT AND KESTREL

Both the Fish and Bird Present Alluring Sight to the Lover of Beauties of Nature.

As the kestrel is to the clouds so is the trout to the crystal waters. Both kestrels and trout display that magical poising, as if suspended by invisible threads-only now and then, when cross currents are encountered, is a sign given to show that life itself is not in suspense.

A brief agitation of the kestrel's wings, a swishing of the trout's tail the cross current is weathered, and bird or fish poises motionless again. And as when walking along we are pulled up in ever fresh wonder by the sight of the hovering kestrel, so we must needs pause on a bridge when there is a trout in the stream below.

He looks his best poising with head to the stream-a shapely form against the background of smooth brown pebbles and waving emerald weeds. Leanover the bridge with eyes on the trout a vision is conjured—an alluring fly drops on the water, then a slack line tightens, there is a song from the reel, a rod bends; there follows a dazzling dance of vermilion spots against the green of the bank.

Or as we come to the bridge on a winter's day we think we hear a mighty splashing of water over the pebbles-which turns out to be the play of 30 or 40 trout-the play of the last round of some water tourney. As they come to the surface, rolling and wallowing-their great fat sides look twice as big as when seen through the clear water-they almost make a dam A dispute arose between the French across the stream as they jostle each sits handsomely and naturally in the bow-window of his age, scanning experience with reverted eye; and, chirping and smiling, communicates the accidents and reads the lesson of his long career. Opinions are strengthened, indeed, but they are also weeded out in the course of years. What remains steadily present to the eye of the retired veteran in his hermitage, what still ministers to his content, what still quickens his old honest heart-these are "the real longto prefer. Where youth agrees with age, not where they differ, wisdom dies, and it is when the young disciple finds his heart to beat in tune with his gray-bearded teacher's that a lesson may be learned.-Robert Louis Stevenson

Life's Lessons. An old gentleman, well on in years,

A Poultry Point. .

"Always ask for the right leg of chicken or turkey," said a chef. the left leg is offered you, refuse it.

will be tough and stringy. "You see, these birds nearly always roost on one leg, the left. Hence, that leg becomes very muscular. sinews are like steel. It is an excellent leg from the athletic, but a vile one from the culinary point of view.

"But the favored right leg remains tender and juicy. Therefore, as the advertisements say, ask for and insist on getting the right leg."

Proclaims His Feelings.

Without the doctor and my better half I have my doubts whether there would have been an opportunity to write this, and this reminds me to say that, against protestations. I'm prepared to say, there is no easement to to the afflicted and no satisfaction so intensely intense as when you are sick and pain seems unbearable to let your voice proclaim the feeling. Stolcism is very noble, to be sure, but when nature demands the tribute of hearty groan or grunt from a sufferer she is apt to revenge herself if it is suppressed.—Ocala Star.

Theories as to the Effect of Artillery Practice on Auditory Apparatus.

A writer in a recent number of La Nature, M. Ghastang, gives some interesting facts with regard to artillery practice in the French navy, and shows an inclination to favor the supposition, which we do not remember to have seen mentioned before, that in many instances injury to the auditory apparatus from the discharge of cannon is really due rather to aspiration than to concussion, says a writer in the New York Medical Journal.

It seems that on the schoolship as many as from 700 to 1,000 charges are fired at a seance, presumably in rather quick succession. Thus an immense amount of gas generated by the combustion of the powder is produced, and this (in some way that does not appear clear to us) leads to such rarefaction of the air of the deck that it is suction instead of impact that injures the ear. The author finds support for this supposition in the fact that plugs of cotton inserted into the auditory canal are often found to have been wholly or in part withdrawn by the firing.

He admits, however, that persons standing very close to the gun are injured by concussion, as has commonly been supposed.

OF MUCH VALUE TO SURGEONS

"Stomach Telescope" Has Been Found Useful in Almost Endless Variety of Ways.

The "stomach telescope," or gastroscope, invented at the London hospital, has proved to be of the greatest value in the diagnosis of stomach disorders. An eminent surgeon recently referred in the highest terms to the advances lately made at that hospital in the early detection of diseases of the stomach by means of this instrument, which will in the immediate future probably come to be part of the equipment of even up-to-date hospital. The gastroscope now enables the physician or surgeon to actually see for himself the exact condition of the whole of the interior of the stomach, the slightest ulceration, growth or other abnormality in the lining membrane being thus readily observed. To be able to do this is of the very greatest importance in suspected cancer of the stomach, where the only hope of cure lies in the eradication of the cancerous growth at the very earliest moment. This means that the increased use of the gastroscope will in the future save many lives that would other wise inevitably be lost through that disease.

Fine Fox Hunt Without Witnesses. The East Essex hounds had a remarkable run recently. A fox which they had hunted through the village of Bradwell swam the Blackwater, and the pack followed, but the depth of water and the dangerous banks prevented the field from crossing. They had to go for two miles along the bank until they reached a bridge, and by the time they had crossed for and pack had vanished. After a search of three hours the hounds were found ten miles from the place where they had crossed the river whimpering round a barn at Chalkey Wood, beneath which the for had gone to earth.

Mr. R. D. Hill, the master, called the hounds off and gave the fox a respite for the splendid run he had East Essex have had this season." was the description of Cockayne, the huntsman, "although there was no one riding with the bounds and no whitness of their performance."-London Evening Standard.

The mother who believes in beginning the artistic education of her children at the earliest possible moment. may do a great deal in that direction with the aid of the nursery walls. The sides of the room are first papered with some plain neutral color, then divided into a frieze and panels, outlined with the darkest shade of the chosen neutral tint and upon these subdivisions are pasted brightly colored and well-drawn figures of animals and birds, which are to be obtained in the form of long sheets of wall paper, which may easily be cut out and affixed to the walls. Thus a young child may not only be taught much that is essential in regard to the proper placing of colors and their composition, but because of the questions which they will be apt to ask about the animals and birds, will acquire a great deal of valuable information about natural history.

"Henrietta," said Mr. Meekton, "can I eat anything I find growing on a tree and still be a consistent vegetarian?" "Certainly."

"Oh, joy! I notice that a lot of our chickens have taken to roosting in the woods."

impossible

"Losing at poker again? I found these two aces in your pocket!" stormed his wife. "Losing with two aces in my pocket?

Absurd, woman!" he retorted. Not Our Language.

"Your wife says your youngest baby can talk." "Yes," answered Mr. Bliggins, with a slight hesitation. "But he appears to take naturally to something like, Volapuk or Esperanto.