GILBERT M. HITCHCOCK, candidate for United States Senator, has represented the Second District in Congress for six years. By reason of his ability and energy he has won a commanding position in the National Legislature. He is responsible for the Ballinger expose. He is the man who fought for and forced the enactment of the Postal Savings Bank Law. He represents the progressive thought of the west. His vote is invariably recorded on the side of the people. One of the largest employers of labor in the west, he has never had a sign of trouble with his employes. His employes are always his loyal supporters. He is the first Nebraska-born man to represent the state in congress, and is thoroughly familiar with its needs, its hopes, its aspirations. In the United States Senate Mr. Hitchcock will make Nebraska a militant factor in National affairs. He will serve no interests save those of the people.
