Transporttjib torpederet. 56 amerikanske Soldater savnes.

Washington, D. C., 24. Maj. Senkningen af den armerede britiske Hjælpefrydser Moldavia, med jandsynligt Tab af 56 amerikanske Soldater, fundgjordes i et Skabeltelegram fra det britiske Admiraltet til Krigsdepartementet i Aften.

— Ingen Detailler gaves, men det er Fortsaaelsen her, at Skibet bevægede sig mellem England og Frankrig.

Krigsdepartementet autoriserer følgende Meddelelse:

„Der er modtaget Oplysning fra London, at den britiske armerede Skrydser Moldavia er bleven senket, og at 56 af de amerikanske Soldater, som var om Bord, savnes. Dette fundgjordes af det britiske Admiraltet.“

Senere paa Aftenen var der endnu ikke modtaget Underretning, hvoraf det kunde skønnes, hvilken Gaadenart, de savnede tilhørte. Mange Amerikanere er under Øvelse i England, og det er muligt, at Moldavia førte Tropper, som skulde til Fronten.

Det synes, som de savnede maa være omkommet ved Eksplosionen. Beføretningen reddedes.

MEMORIAL DAY. May 30th, 1918.

To the Ministers of the Churches of America.

Dear Brethren:

With a new and profound sense of the meaning and reality of the sacrifice of those who in former wars gave their lives for our beloved country, we draw near to the day sacred to their memory. They fought to secure the freedom of America and establish here a united nation of free men. They fought that weaker nations might also be free.

In the midst of a new conflict we prepare to honor their fearless devotion to justice and liberty. Upon this occasion we shall honor not only the heroes of the past but also those who at this hour are fighting even greater battles in our behalf—battles in which, with God's blessing, we shall win for men and nations the world around the unchallenged exercise of those rights of justice and liberty which our fathers won for us.

In accordance with a request of Congress the President of the United States has set apart as a day of penitence and prayer for the nation this Memorial Day, the thirtieth of May.

It is fitting, therefore, that a new seriousness mark our observance of this day of commemoration. It is a day which we ought to celebrate unitedly in the spirit of earnest consecration, upon which we ought to wait before God in humiliation and prayer, repenting of our past failures as individuals and as a nation and seeking from Him a renewed vision of His will for us and for the world. Then in a new fellowship with Him and with new confidence in His guidance and power we shall press on unwaveringly in the cause to which He has called us.

For the full attainment of the purpose of this day—unity of spirit and service on the part of the churches is of the first importance. We therefore lay before you certain suggestions concerning the use of Memorial Day and the preceding Sunday.

We recommend that on Memorial Day, May 30th, special arrangements be made for the opening of churches for private and common prayer and that, at an hour fixed to insure the attendance of as many of the community as possible, special services of prayer and meditation be held. Full cooperation between all the churches of the community together with such other community forces as the civic authorities and chambers of commerce is of great importance. Adequate notice should be given in the daily press and every effort made to secure the participation of the entire community. The patriotic celebrations usually held afford an opportunity for further expression of the spirit of the President's summons of which leaders of the community are urged to make use.

Either upon Memorial Day or in preparation for it upon the preceding Sunday there might appropriately be included in the services in the churches the reading of the names placed on the honor rolls of the churches in this and perhaps in other wars and the reading of the President's proclamation concerning Memorial Day. Prayer will be offered for our soldiers and sailors, for all doctors and nurses, for all chaplains and religious workers, for those who are in positions of counsel or command, for the multitude who serve the nation by their industry; for the ministry of God's grace to all shattered homes and broken hearts whether in friendly or in hostile lands; for the allied nations; for the people against whom we contend that they may come to seek the true greatness of nations in righteousness and good-will; for the unity of our nation, for a swift victory for justice, for the establishment of righteousness and peace among the peoples of the earth.

We believe that if, in addition, the churches will unitedly reaffirm their faith in the moral aims of the United States in the war and in their full commitment to the attainment of these aims, the spirit of our national endeavor at this time will be deepened and new spiritual forces will be discovered and be released. Such united action on the part of the churches may well be expressed in measures like these:

- I. In every church a review of the moral and spiritual principles to which we stand committed by the war. II. In every church, on the part of the minister and people, a new act of self dedication to God. III. From every church a declaration of its loyalty to the great moral aims of our nation in this struggle as they have been set forth by the President, and of its determination to make all sacrifices needful to achieve these aims.*

The proclamation of the President is a call to us not only to observe this single day of prayer which he has named but to carry the spirit of prayer deep into the hearts of the people through the weeks and the months which follow. To that end we urge ministers to seek occasion, immediately following Memorial Day, to increase among their people the practice of private and, particularly, family prayer, to form leagues of prayer and intercession and in other ways to lead the people of the nation to a whole-hearted dependence upon God and to an unwavering loyalty to the Gospel of Jesus Christ our Lord.

The church has not failed to rise to "the challenge of the present crisis." New opportunities for service have been discovered and seized, new spiritual victories won. But the Church that is to lead the nation into the spirit of penitence and prayer must itself be filled with that spirit. Driven by a deeper sense of need, by the heavy burden of the world's bitter sorrow, the Church must as never before find her way to the feet of her Master and Lord, there in humility and grief to confess the incompleteness of her own life, the inadequacy of her own response to His teaching and leadership. Only when under His searching gaze she has turned from inward strife, from pride, from devotion to lesser standards than His own, and renewed her obedience to His Holy Spirit can she rise to proclaim Him—not by her word only but by her life—the Lord of all. Only as each one of us who bears a share in her life and work puts away from himself and from whatever interests he represents all that is unworthy and, standing in the continual presence of God, lives every day in honesty, in zeal, and in wisdom—in faith, in hope, and in love—can the

*It is suggested that every church making such declaration should forward it to the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, 105 East 22nd St., New York, for transmission to the President.
