The call issued by W. W. Mullens, chairman of the executive committee, follows:

"To the Populists of Tennessee: You are aware that our national convention, which met at Springfield, Ill., July 4, 1904, nominated the Hon. Thos. E. Watson, of Georgia, and the Hon. Thos. H. Tibbles of Nebraska for president and vice president in the pending campaign.

"The present attitude of the democratic and republican parties, their close alliance with plutocracy and complete subserviency to its demands, render imperative the continued existence of the people's party, in order that democratic principles and the liberties of the common people, if possible, may be preserved to the present and coming generations of the American people.

"As the state chairman of the old executive committee, I hereby call a mass convention of the populists of Tennessee to meet in the capitol at Nashville, Sept. 8, 1904, at 1:30 p. m., for the purpose of reorganization, the appointment of a state electoral ticket and such other business as may be necessary.

"I invite all persons, regardless of previous party affiliations, who may feel that they can not, in the present campaign, support the candidates of Wall street, and who wish to see the government returned to the people through the medium of a party that stands truly for the integrity of popular rights and popular rule, to participate in this mass convention and assist the populists of Tennessee to firmly establish such a party in the state and nation.

"Hon. Thomas E. Watson will be present and address the convention."
"W. W. MULLENS, Chairman."

The High Jumper at the State Fair

The management of the state fair to be held in Lincoln, August 29 to September 2, have secured a very novel and interesting attraction.

A fox-terrier climbs up a perpendicular ladder to a height of forty feet where he sits on a platform at the top of the ladder, and at a word of command, jumps off into a net spread at the bottom.

"Jeffries," the name of the dog, seems to greatly enjoy the trick, but his owner says that it is somewhat hard on the dog, especially the effort required to climb up the ladder rung by rung.
