

be successful in obtaining the enactment of a federal statute restricting the immigration of Japanese. Such a bill would be opposed by the president, and would hardly pass congress.

Official records of both state and navy departments show the reason Asahi Kitagaki, the Japanese midshipman, resigned from the naval academy was because he was deficient in his studies.

Former Civil Service Commissioner Foulke, who has just returned from Japan, said: "To risk destroying the traditional friendship between Japan and America is unpatriotic and dangerous."

Federal Court Upholds Decision of Supreme Court of South Dakota

Washington—The supreme court of the United States has dismissed for want of jurisdiction the case of the Dakota, Wyoming & Missouri River Railroad company against John D. Crouch and Francis Seitzerding. The suit grew out of the contention over the ownership of thirty-four miles of road between Rapid City and Mystic, in Pennington county, South Dakota. Crouch and Seitzerding claimed title through the purchase of mechanics' liens and the state courts sustained their contention. Today's action of the supreme court is equivalent to the affirmation of that decision.

The Land Lubber Knew

Professional military and naval men are wont to shrug their shoulders in the presence of the civilian, who belongs to amateur organizations. There is a true story of a young officer in the navy who met knowledge in a landsman when he least expected it. While his ship was in harbor a volunteer naval brigade came on board for a little practical instruction.

The young lieutenant was detailed to give the landsman their lesson in gun maneuvering. He showed them all the different types of guns and explained their mechanism. Once, however, his knowledge failed him. One of the guns was a new model, and something about the breech mechanism was novel and perplexing.

"This, 'lame' is a new attachment for—" One of the naval brigade spoke up: "Excuse me, sir, it's for range finding." Then he went on to explain, but after a few words stopped and retired. "How do you know what you're talking about? This device wasn't put on any ship until three weeks ago." "I know, sir, but you see, I invented it."—American Spectator.

Hood's

Sarsaparilla enjoys the distinction of being the greatest curative and preventive medicine the world has ever known. It is an all-round medicine, producing its unequalled effects by purifying, vitalizing and enriching the blood on which the health and strength of every organ, bone and tissue depend. Accept no substitute for Hood's, but insist on having Hood's AND ONLY HOOD'S.

HEARST HITS HARD

He Hurls Defiance at the Pirates and Buccaneers of Business and Politics

Albany, N. Y.—William Randolph Hearst warmed up to his work and in speeches at Albany, Troy, and Cohoes turned himself loose on trusts and capitalists in earnest. Each of his speeches was an echo of the other and they all were fired at receptive and responsive audiences.

"I feel confident," said Mr. Hearst, "that two-thirds of the people of greater New York are in favor of this movement to wrest the control of government from the trusts and the great public service corporations which now control it in their own interests, and restore it to the hands of the people to be conducted for the greatest good of the greatest number."

"The question merely is, whether two-thirds of the people of New York will be able to accomplish anything against the great aggregations of capital which control not only the machinery of parties but the machinery of government in nearly every department. The men who have been put in office and who hold the power of office were put there by the trusts and stand ready to serve the trusts to the last desperate extremity."

Referring to the mayoralty contest last fall in New York and the effort to have the ballots recounted, Mr. Hearst reiterated his attacks upon Attorney General Mayer and the members of the republican legislature who prevented the measures desired in that direction. He continued:

"We do not know what particular outrage, what final blow to popular institutions, to American rights and liberties may be dealt at this election, but we do know that every trust owned officer in every branch of the government will do his best to defeat the will of the people and to continue the trusts that suckle him in power.

It is confidence in such crimes, belief in such betrayal of the people by such officials that allows Wall street to scorn these demonstrations of popular feeling and to laughingly bet three to one that the immense majority of the people of New York will not be able to prevail against the power of corrupt wealth.

"I think the election in New York City last year was won by not less than 30,000. I think the election in Greater New York this year will be won by from 150,000 to 250,000 if the people are not by some treachery deprived of their rights as citizens.

"I believe that the majority will be somewhere about the majority in the whole state, as I do not think the republican party will be able to bear its load of popular condemnation and stagger to the Harlem river with any majority at all.

"I warned the people last year that immense sums would be used to defeat them; that the great trusts and corporations would go to any length to defeat them. The people listened but doubtless hardly believed that so serious a situation menaced them, yet the result established the truth of every warning I had given them.

"Tonight I solemnly warn the people of this state that even more desperate measures will be taken by the corrupt corporations at this election.

"All that Belmont, and Ryan, and Morgan, and Rockefeller, and Rogers spent to buy, or bribe, or steal the mayor's chair for their puppet, McClellan, will be lost if a governor and legislature are elected who will see to it that the votes that we have fought to preserve are honestly counted as cast.

"Then the bought and branded cattle of the trusts would be driven out of office or removed for criminal complicity, and all the greedy hopes of gain of these financial outlaws would be destroyed.

"The public booty they had within their grasp would be taken away from them; the millions and hundreds of millions they had expected to make out of the people's property by pilage and plunder and by oppression and extortion would be lost to them. In honest business they would have no advantage over honest business men, and as thieves they would stand before the people and the law as other thieves amendable to the law.

"You can easily see that these trust buccaners, these financial freebooters, these political pirates will not tolerate honest conditions if their wealth and power can prevent. They will not allow their accomplices in office to be removed if their wealth and power can prevent.

"The election board in New York City is composed of the same men who last year obstructed our efforts to get a fair count. One member of this election board, Dady, has been indicted seventeen separate times and consequently has a diploma of fitness to serve these corrupt corporations. Another is the creature McClellan, who last year helped his master to steal the office he now holds and is the creature McCarren, known everywhere as briber for the Standard Oil and lighting trust and Brooklyn Rapid Transit. Like master like man.

"When the Independence League petitions were before this election board they were allowed to be mutilated and altered and partly destroyed, and an attempt was made to throw out the Independence League petitions and indorsement completely. I am astounded to learn that this attempt was confirmed this afternoon by a decision from the appellate division of the supreme court.

"If the criminal trusts and corporations can control the machinery of both old parties and stifle any independent movement, what relief can you hope to secure?"

"You may nominate candidates, but only such candidates as your corporation masters approve. You may cast your vote, but your vote will only be counted when your corporation masters approve. You are free born American citizens, but you only retain such rights and liberties as your corporation masters allow you. You conduct your own government, but only in the way that your corporation masters desire."

In conclusion he said: "Whether I am elected or not I am enlisted in this battle to the end, and I will fight
