in the lead or in the ranks, as you desire. But if you see fit to elect me and my associates and give us an honest legislature, I pledge you that we will restrain corrupt corporations and whip them and their servants out of the temple of our government.

"And we will restore the government to the people and adopt laws that will perpetuate the people in power for generations to come."

Esquimaux Conceit

The missionaries tell me that the Esquimaux are a most conceited race and that their own opinion of their musical gifts is very high. The first time the missionary's wife of whom I have spoken played on the piano for them she exclaimed: "She plays almost as well as we." This conceit of the Esquimaux makes the missionaries' task very difficult. What can a teacher accomplish when his pupils think they know more than he? The Esquimaux do not even attempt to argue, but simply shrug their shoulders and say with a supercilious smile, "That may be so in your opinion, but—" And so, in spite of nearly 130 years of religious training, many of them are still only quasi-Christians, and the traveler may still pick up curious bits of heathen folklore among them.—Century Magazine.

Unrealistic

The heroine was supposed to fall in a fit when the climax of the play was reached.

"Huh!" she exclaimed as she surveyed her new gown in a mirror. "It looks like I'd have to fall in a misfit tonight."

And the villain still pursued her.—Chicago News.
