

BONI LOSES MEAL TICKET

The Daughter of Jay Gould is Divorced From the Profligate Count Who Squandered Her Millions

Paris—Countess Anna de Castellane, formerly Miss Anna Gould was granted a divorce from Count Boni and the custody of the children. The decision prevents her from taking the children to America, without permission of the court. A notary will settle the financial responsibilities of the pair.

Boni is allowed to see the children, George, Boni and Jay, twice a week at the home of his mother and will have the children a week during the winter holidays, on Easter and a month every summer.

As read from the bench, the verdict was generally accepted as allowing Boni alimony of $30,000 annually, but, as a matter of fact, the count not only does not get any alimony but must pay the costs of the proceedings. There is no provision in the decree forbidding the countess from remarrying.

The engagement of Miss Gould and Count Boni was announced February 6, 1895, at a house party on Long Island. They were married March 4 of the same year, and left three days later for Paris. Anna's fortune was estimated at $17,000,000, giving an income of $2,000,000. The count entertained lavishly and dissipated his wife's fortune. In 1900 George Gould was appointed trustee of Anna's estate and an allowance of $200,000 per year was made to Anna. Castellane's debts then amounted to $4,000,000. They had already spent $3,000,000 in four years. Three children have been born to them. Boni's attentions to other women and brutality led to a quarrel and Anna left Boni in January this year and brought suit for divorce February 1.

The count owes about $4,000,000 and is now penniless. He hoped that the court would award him alimony which it refused to do. The highest liver in Paris is thus reduced to beggary, having neither money or credit left. The court's decree separated him from his meal ticket.

NEVER AGAIN A CANDIDATE

W. R. Hearst Makes the Assertion While at San Antonio

San Antonio, Texas—William R. Hearst, recently democratic candidate for governor of New York here for a few minutes while on his way to Monterey, where he has mining interests. He was accompanied by members of his family. In discussing his future in reference to politics in New York, he said:

"I shall never again be a candidate. However, I shall continue to reside in New York and advocate and support the principles of reform which I have always stood for, but these principles are now sufficiently understood by the general public for it to be no longer necessary for me to be a candidate.

"You probably know it is by no means pleasant to be a candidate. I am glad in the future it is to be my privilege to stand for the principles of the government I have always advocated without being a candidate for office, and on that account attacked with bitterness."

CANNON FOR TWO-CENT FARE

Declares Railroads Should Not Wait to Have it Forced on Them

Indianapolis—Speaker Cannon is a convert to 2-cent passenger fares, according to his declaration while waiting in the station at Evansville with Senator Hemenway.

"I can't see why these railroads don't establish a two-cent fare right away," he said. "It's bound to come eventually, and they might as well see it that way now and not wait to have it forced upon them."

Speaker Cannon and Senator Hemenway spent yesterday and today on a farm in Spencer county, which they own jointly. Speaker Cannon, while looking over the wheat acreage, said:

"I see where Hill, the railroad man, advocates the abolition of the Canadian tariff. He has extended his railroad into Canada and the removal of the tariff would be a great benefit to him. It might benefit some people along the northern part of the country, but it wouldn't do the wheat grower down in these parts any good. No, I don't think it is quite fair."

Counts in Moody's Indictments of the Standard Oil

Illegal crushing and unfair manipulation of the prices of oils.

Organization of bogus "independent" companies to cut prices to customers of real independents.

Division of the whole territory of the United States into districts so that subsidiary companies within assigned limits have a monopoly.

Illegal agreements with railroads by which independent oil companies are compelled to pay from two to six times the Standard's freight rates.

Unlawful agreements with certain independent refiners by which the Standard markets or purchases all their products, eliminating competition.

Monopolizing the business of pipe lines and falling in the duty of common carrier.

Establishing a system-of rate discrimination in its favor through influence with and ownership of railroads by the individual defendants.

Using its monopoly of the railroad market for lubricating oils as a club to obtain unfair traffic favors.

EX-GOV. ODELL DISGUSTED

Says People Resented President Roosevelt's Interference—Compliments Editor Hearst

New York—B. B. Odell, of Newburg, former governor and ex-chairman of the state republican committee, said that the management of their republican state campaign was the most "assinine" that he ever knew. The whole state ticket, he said, might just as well have been elected. As the result stands it looks like a democratic victory and leaves the republican party in bad shape with a national campaign coming on. The republicans, he declared, made no campaign at all, but put it all on Mr. Hughes' shoulders.

Mr. Odell says: "I heard absolutely nothing about any state campaign up my way. We didn't know there was a headquarters down here. I wasn't notified of anything that was going on. My advice was never asked once. Many of my friends all over the state had the same experience.

"Even when Mr. Hughes was touring my county I was not notified or consulted. I wasn't informed of the smallest details. The people of this state have always resented the interference of a president of the United States in their local elections. They have done so since the days of Dewitt Clinton. I think that the interference of President Roosevelt did more harm than good.

"I do not wish to appear in the role of general critic of the conduct of the campaign, but, so far as I can make out, there was no real campaign. No use was made of the record of the republican party. It was all a case of personalities between the candidates for governor."

Mr. Odell said that Mr. Hearst was greatly strengthened as a political factor by his campaign and that while he might not be elected president, he was now a man to be reckoned with in the future. He said that a combination of Bryan and Hearst would be a hard one for the republicans to beat.

"I believe," said Mr. Odell, "that with intelligent management the entire republican state ticket could have been elected. I am not knocking but I am very much concerned for the future of the republican party. I believe that by the exercise of mutual forbearance and a consideration the republican party can be put in shape to make a successful campaign in 1908."

LOCATES A HARDY ALFALFA

Professor Hansen Finds It After Great Many Hardships

Washington—After twice risking his life and once nearly losing it in the interest of agricultural science, Prof. N. E. Hansen, of the South Dakota experiment station of the department of agriculture, has found in northern Siberia an alfalfa suited to the arid lands of the northwest, where the winters are bitter cold. Professor Hansen got on the track of the alfalfa a year ago but was so late in searching for it that he was badly frozen in Siberia. Despite this experience, he made another trial this year and has just informed Secretary Wilson that he has been successful and is on his way back with seed.

The alfalfa which Prof. Hansen has discovered has a yellow flower instead of a blue. It is a native of the dry steppes of Siberia and grows well where the mercury falls to 39 or 40 degrees below zero. The country is exceedingly dry and yet the new alfalfa is an excellent forage plant. Professor Hansen has secured the seed and it will receive a thorough test in the near future by the department.

Heart Weakness

The action of the heart depends upon the heart nerves and muscles. When from any cause they become weak or exhausted, and fail to furnish sufficient power, the heart flutters, palpitates, skips beats; and in its effort to keep up its work, causes pain and distress, such as smothering spells, short breath, fainting, pain around heart, arm and shoulders. The circulation is impeded, and the entire system suffers from lack of nourishment.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure makes a heart strong and vigorous by strengthening these nerves and muscles.

"I had palpitation and pain around my heart, and the doctors said it was incurable. I don't believe it now, for after taking six bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, three bottles of the Nerve and Liver Pills I am entirely cured, and feel better than I have for five years, and it is all due to these remedies. I want you to know that your medicines cured me. It relieved me from the first dose, and I kept right on till the pain in my chest was gone, and I kept on feeling better even after I quit taking it." JOHN H. SHERMAN, Beiding, Mich.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.
