EARL HINES AT DREAMLAND HALL

I Was At The Dance
(By C. Homer Burdette)

On Thursday, Sept. 22, Rae Lee Jones, our Society Editor, gave me the most desirable detail I've had in my two weeks of reporting. I was told to get the story of the Earl Hines dance, at the Dreamland Hall. In going to the Dreamland I stopped to view the crowds listening from without. Upon the fire escape on the North end of the building, there were about ten gents peering in the hall. These boys all seemed to be anxious to join the crowd within. In the front of the building a small crowd stood watching the dance goers enter the door and ascend the steps that lead within. On the South stood a crowd of youngsters. Some stood peering in, others were trying to climb the fence to reach the roof so as to join the former. I, after seeing this scene, ascended the steps to Dreamland. After a few words with Mr. James Jewell, I entered the door and beheld the most spectacular crowd I ever saw. How beautiful the Sepias look under colored lights. These people are incomparable in the art of dressing. Greens, Tans, Blues, Reds and all, rushing to and fro laughing talking and poking fun. I managed to get a glimpse of the formation of a first love. The girl has a look that wasn't any too joyous on her face. The man in the act sees her and nine chances out of ten, found her beautiful features irresistible, and may have become romantically infatuated. It seemed as though he was glued in his tracks. The girl looked up at him, smiled, then dropped her head. Love birds I whispered to myself. The orchestra entered upon the platform. This act of mutual duplicity carried on for several moments, then the band began. The boy then seemed as though he was trying his best to move, his arm moved slightly, look out I thought; No she replied to the intruder of this telephonic love scene. The boy then escaped the grip of fear. She accepts, there they go gliding along the floor. What is up here? Several girls surrounding a young lady clapping hands while she does the snake hips. The whole crowd danced nicely. Sepias, tans, pinks and white folks attended this colored folks affair. Then I looked around in time to see Earl Hines, Charles Allen at his left, William Franklin at his right. These gentlemen swayed the crowd singing "Sweet Sue." Mr. Hines band then strutted their stuff. 650 hearts were synchronized with joy by this incomparable orchestra. Mr. Hines rippling his nimble fingers for money key to another, shaking his shoulders, bobbing his head, patting his feet, enough to inspire even the saddest heart. Now Omer Simeon, Barnell Howard and Cecil Howard, raise their saxophones and demonstrate their talent. I managed to catch myself bobbing my head and patting my feet. Here comes Bill Franklin to the front, to sing my favorite "Paradise." She takes me to Paradise is Mr. Franklin's intensifying rendition. Mr. Franklin has one of those Baritone voices that make love-sad hearts cry. Bill now lifts his trombone to his handsome round face and gets off, boy, and this crowd loves it. Now Louis Dixon lowers his sax to the floor takes his violin and saws the tune in several keys, while Quin Wilson beats the base viol, Walter Bishop bobs up and makes that the keys, Louis Dixon picks notes from individual strings on his banjo. This orchestra is no one man band; even with the Goo-la-picking King out, this orchestra is still out standing. Chas. Allen, Walter Fowler, Geo. Dixon, form a great cornet section, Lewis Taylor and Bill Franklin are experts at the trombones. Walter Bishop is excellent at the drums. And the Swellegant sax section, base viol, banjo would move any feet. (I HEARD YES I HEARD, IT WASN'T TOLD TO ME I ONLY HEARD)—We can live on love, at least until we die of starvation, I suppose we'll be happy until then. I saw lovers, lawyers, doctors, people from all walks of life. Here come several boys through the window, the first at the east end, unable to resist the alluring strains of music being played by the greatest pianist in the world, Papa Hines. Ain't it a shame? Ain't it a shame? Earl Hines is playing his theme song, which means all, that's all for today.

PIONEER CITIZEN DIES EN ROUTE TO CALIFORNIA

Mr. Frank Douglas for years prominent business man in Omaha died Tuesday night, at Carter, Wyoming, enroute to California. His body was taken from the train at Evanston, Wyoming. Mr. Douglas had lived in Los Angeles for sometime on account of his health. He came back to Omaha last Friday week on a visit and business trip. Book Review

"EMERSON'S ESSAYS" by Ralph Waldo Emerson

(The National Home Library Foundation 1518 K St., N. W. Washington, D. C.)

This is the first volume of the new Jacket Library that I have read, although I have been favored with several of their books. The Jacket Library is sponsored by the National Home Library Foundation, of Washington, D. C., and is creating quite a sensation because of their ability to market worthwhile volumes at the ridiculous low rate of fifteen cents each.

"Emerson's Essays" is a 172 page volume, approximately 4 1/2" by 6" in size, with a cellulose cover, and consists of ten essays from the pen of the noted philosopher, all of which are well-known and include his viewpoints on the subjects of:

- History
- Self-Reliance
- Compensation
- Spiritual Laws
- Love
- Friendship
- Prudence
- Heroism
- The Over-Soul, and
- Circles.

The various volumes listed in the Jacket Library include many well-known works of literature and while I am not familiar with their selling policies there is undoubtedly an opportunity for our dealers in books and periodicals to transact considerable business in the sale of their volumes at the extremely low popular price of only 15c each.

LINCOLN NEWS

(Loretta Swannigan, Reporter)

These beautiful fall days make one want to take a trip into the country. Nothing is more beautiful right now than the sumac with its leaves of red and gold, the bitter-sweet clinging from trees and bush and walnuts. A number of girls answering nature's call, decided a walnut hike, so off they went, and enjoyed themselves immensely. Lot of walnuts were gathered and the girls also gathered lots of bitter-sweet, climbing and running. Going through a wire fence, Mrs. Huston left a good portion of her dress on the fence. Mrs. Maude Johnson really looked stunning with a gunnie sack of walnuts on her back and can Mrs. Jennie Edwards jump? Oh! why ask. No show could be bet- does do a little slipping now and then and one must fall even if he does have a basket of walnuts in one hand. Is Mrs. Edna Page scared of worms? Oh! why ask. Na show could be better than her trying to get away from a worm. And can Mrs. Alma Wiley shake the walnuts down? "Altogether, No." And can Mrs. Loretta Swannigan climb a steep bank, yes, even if she did get to the top and lose her balance and fall to the bottom. Well as I was going to say the girls really had a wonderful time, but the next morning, the women were the most pitiful. Mrs. Swannigan and Mrs. Page were hardly fit for service at the Federal Building, both being stiff and walking lame.

The Lincoln Home and Benevolent charity club opened its first meeting for the year at the home of its president, Mrs. Wm. Woods, with all the members being present, with the exception of Mrs. Mosley, Dean and Mrs. McWilliams. Plans were made to assist the Community Chest Drive, and to put on a Fall Style Show. One new member was added to the club, Mrs. Florence Bloach of Memphis, Tenn. After the business hour the hostess served dainty refreshments.

Mrs. Catherine Huston was hostess to a lovely afternoon Tea, last Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 5. There were two tables of bridge and a delightful time was had by those present.

Mrs. Alma Wiley gave a very beautiful afternoon Tea, at her beautiful home last Thursday. Bridge was played at two tables and the ladies surely enjoyed themselves. Mrs. Wiley served a lovely luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Johnson had a few friends in for cards last Thursday evening, at one of those dandy get together parties, which are getting so popular in Lincoln. There were two tables of bridge and Mrs. Johnson served a very nice luncheon.

Mrs. Jennie Edwards entertained at cards last Saturday evening at another of those delightful get together parties. Bridge was played and a good time was enjoyed by all present.

Please don't forget the big depression dance given by the Naughty Twelve, Halloween Night, at 1133 M. St. Hall. Overalls and Aprons. A prize will be given the boy or man with the oldest overall on, and a prize to the woman with the oldest apron. Notice "They must be old but neat and clean". Come every body and show Old Man Depression what a good time you can have.

Mrs. Fred Neville is out again after a severe illness.

Alonzo Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Carter, was presented with a car on his 16th birthday, from his parents.

The Perry's Chicken Hut has been moved from 21st and U St. to 19th and U St. Mr. Perry has larger quarters now, and has fitted up a dance hall up stairs. Please give Mr. Perry your patronage, as he is trying so hard to please you. Mr. Richard Huston assisted by Mrs. Mamie Todd, gave a surprise party for Mrs. Huston, Friday night. A number of Mrs. Huston's friends enjoyed this wonderful occasion and Mrs. Huston received many beautiful presents.

Fall Activities

Over 20 people attended the Fall Opening of the Center Tuesday evening. At the same time the Improvement Club brought to a close the Yard and Garden Contest which began last April. The Canning Class sponsored by the club during July and August held an exhibit of canned and fresh vegetables also.

Twenty five women were in the class. The large quantities of vegetables and fruits exhibited were canned by methods learned in the class, taught by one of the Smith-Hughes teachers. One member of the class Mrs. J. V. Reid canned over 200 quarts of vegetables and fruits out of our own home garden. Others of the class canned from their individual gardens, many of which were in the contest.

One of the most gratifying results of the Contest was the fact that of the 65 families registered in the contest, more than three fourths of these remained to the end and received awards.

A short program preceding the awarding of the prizes. Rev. J. H. Jackson pastor of Bethel Baptist Church and Mrs. Eva Morse of the Smith-Hughes Department, Board of Education; were the speakers. The Center's trio furnished the music.

Prizes for Gardens were awarded on (a) Variety of vegetables (b) General usefulness of vegetables, (c) Neatness and uniformity of the garden.

Prizes for Yards were awarded on: (a) General Improvement, (b) Neatness and arrangement of the yard, (c) Beauty and landscaping.

The Judges were: Rev. W. S. Metcalf, Mrs. Herbert Wiggins, Mr. James Fellows.

"Maxie Miller Writes"

Youth Loves Girl, but Does Not Want To Be Bothered With Her In Public
(For advice, write to Maxie Miller, care of Literary Service Bureau, 516 Minnesota, Kansas City, Kansas, for personal reply send self-addressed, stamped envelope.)

(The Literary Service Bureau)
Maxie Miller: I am nineteen years old and go with a young man twenty-eight. He acts like he loves me but when he gets around his other girl he doesn't pay me any mind. He has been going with me three years. He doesn't want to see me talking to nobody else. Will you please give me all of your advice about it?—Mary Lou.

Mary Lou: Well, Mary Lou, apparently the boy friend does not care so much for you as he says. Contrary to your statement "He acts like he loves me" if he does not want to be bothered with you in public, then he does not love you. He should be proud of you. And then he is rather inconsistent, he wants to do anything he pleases, and yet does not want even to see you talking to anybody else. You would never be happy with such an inconsistent and jealous person. Forget him, get you a brand new boy friend, it would not hurt if you got several of them. No need getting serious about love as young as you

Youthful Strength

Dr. Magnus Hirschfeld, the world-known authority on Sexology and Director of the Institute for Sexual Science of Berlin, Germany, created to help the millions of men and women who have lost or are losing their vital physical power. In his 35 years of practice and research, however, he realized that the weakening of man's glands was also responsible for other troubles: High blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, physical exhaustion after work or exercise, dizziness, depression, neurasthenia, etc.

All these troubles can be removed with Titus-Pearls. Numerous cases were treated by Dr. Hirschfeld in his Berlin Institute. L. S. (State Official; 60 years old, married) complained of physical exhaustion, dizziness and tremors. Was easily tired. Mental power dull and slow moving. Physical powers had been incomplete for previous 5 years. Blood pressure too high. Given 2 Titus-Pearls 3 times a day, 2 weeks later the medical report on this man was: general health better, more vigor; dizziness much less and returning of power. Treatment continued and 2 weeks later L. S. reported again, this time to say that all weariness and exhaustion had gone; he felt fresh and buoyant. His blood pressure had fallen, and at 60 years of age he had regained the physical power and virility that he had known in the prime of his life.

Start regaining your youthfulness now! To-day! In 2 weeks time you will be aware of the new, virile force within you. Send $5.00 (cash registered or money order) for 2 weeks treatment. C. O. D. Orders accepted. Write for Booklet.
