ARMISTICE.
For a number of years we have been celebrating Armistice Day but this year the day and date comes at just the appropriate time to apply the real meaning of the word Armistice.

We have just gone through and witnessed a prolonged series of battles which have inflicted a great many wounds, causing untold suffering and anguish between parties, organizations, associations, acquaintances, friends and even among blood relatives.

Popular vote, for the time being, has given a decision and whether it is a right or a wrong one it cannot be changed until time and circumstances again bring the parties into battle.

There is much work to be done; suffering to be healed; wrongs that must be righted; creative plans to be brought into play; laws to be enforced; many reorganizations to be accomplished—and all of these things will require every ounce of human energy, physical and mental, that it is possible to muster.

It is indeed time for an Armistice. The losers must shake hands with the winners and combine their supports towards one ultimate goal in order to provide and insure a success, prosperity, equal opportunity and a square deal for each American citizen, regardless of party affiliation, religious denomination, race or color.

And unless the American citizen is assured and protected in these rights which the world has been led to believe are synonymous with the principles of good American government the day will surely come when an Armistice can not be so easily arranged without the possible loss of a great deal of spilt blood and wounded flesh.

Indeed there are agencies already at work in these United States of ours whose sole purpose is to accept each instance of injustice; each business failure; each governmental scandal, and each bit of propaganda that can possibly be construed, rewritten and sponsored by the Omaha Guide's Working Men's Commissioners in interest of the candidates for the board of Education opened my eyes as to the new day in Omaha for your group.

Such propaganda that is being widely disseminated in this country, particularly among Negroes, who, perhaps, as American citizens have the most grievances against the many injustices perpetuated in this country, can only be successfully offset by a positive action on the part of those in power in granting to each American citizen an equal opportunity, without any restrictions whatsoever, and seeing that he gets it.

Now that the battle of words, printed and spoken, is over and the Armistice is here let us commence to apply its real meaning.

DO YOU SEE THE PURPOSE OF THE UNEMPLOYED MARRIED MEN'S COUNCIL

There are thousands of our own group who are unemployed and have been for months and months. Some of these unemployed are heads of families. They have no food, clothing, and some have been evicted from their homes. The purpose of the Council is to try and help prevent starvation this winter. Have you visited the headquarters at 2213 Lake, the old Webster Telephone building? If not do so and see the thousands of jars of fruit and vegetables canned by our own women of the community. These canned articles will be distributed this winter to the needy families. It is hoped to start a clinic for the unemployed sick, a day nursery for the care of children. Many prominent business men and firms are donating to this cause. A new league of young women have banded themselves together to sponsor activities for charitable purposes. They are Mrs. Robbie Turner Davis, Melba McCaw, Madeline Shipman, Alice Jones, Rae Lee Jones, Eva Waldron, Grace Adams and Carrie Jewell. All men and women of leisure are asked to donate a few hours each week at the headquarters. For further information call We. 5020 or We. 1750.

A New Day

November 7, 1932.
Editor of the Omaha Guide,
2418-20 Grant St.,

Mr. C. C. Galloway:
I have been in Omaha for twenty years and I have seen the Colored Community progressing but the mass meeting Sunday at the Elks' Hall, sponsored by the Omaha Guide's Working Men's Commissioners in interest of the candidates for the board of Education opened my eyes as to the new day in Omaha for your group.

It was the most constructive work toward helping the young people to stand for their rights, to get positions for which they have been fighting for years.

The Working Men's Commissioners and you deserve the approval and co-operation of every broad-minded citizen in Omaha.

Sincerely,
Herman Friedlander.
