The wage the average laboring girl receives today, she is often unable to provide herself with bare necessities. Such situations often causing many to submit themselves in an immoral way to those of the opposite sex, who will give them assistance, robberies, suicides, etc.

Realizing the economic situation of today is very grave, I believe as others, conditions have been worked out something can also be done relative to a sufficient wage for our working class of women in proportion to their living expenses in order that they may be protected from all immoral influences.

I am hoping you will consider this matter in accordance to its importance to the working women and girls of today under present conditions. Knowing if a materialization in some way can be brought about, you will give it your hearty support.

Thanking you very much for your consideration and the monopolizing of your most precious time, I am

Respectfully yours,

BEER BILL—

Governor Charles W. Bryan,
Executive Office,
State Capitol,
Lincoln, Nebraska.

Dear Governor Bryan:

I am writing you in regards to the employment situation in our state, knowing you are manifesting every effort to accomplish that which is best for the people.

The "Beer Bill" is the most recent issue before us, and it is stated if our state fails to pass favorable action on this bill, we shall suffer the loss of a great deal of business and any number of citizens. At this time a few have begun seeking different locations where this bill has been passed.

The citizens of Nebraska realize you and our legislature will do all in your power, to urge a prompt and favorable action on this bill which will mean jobs for thousands of our unemployed.

Another grave situation confronting our state; What can be done regarding employment for men past 40 years of age? They are the last to be hired, and in many concerns the first to be discharged, after years of service, often without no consideration whatsoever.

Men at this age are just as dependable, worthy, efficient and deserving, and do not want to be taken care of by charitable organizations the rest of their lives.

I am sure you realize at this time unless one is aspiring for a political position, county, city, nation or state, or a business of his own, men at this age stand a very poor chance of securing employment, and some protection should be given to them along these lines.

These are a few of the present employment situations we are confronted with, and are hoping some prompt action will be taken regarding same. Thanking you very much for any consideration you may give, I am

Respectfully yours,

Dr. G. B. Lennox,
Pres. Omaha Working Men's
Commissioners, 2122 1/2 N. 24th.

HEROES UNSUNG

Law Enforcers
by A. B. Mann

(for the Literary Service Bureau)

Judges, prosecuting attorneys, sheriffs, magistrates and other law enforcers make many enemies. They are always in danger. By the lawless element they are hated, marked for destruction, and often assassinated. In such cases they die vicariously.

It requires courage and devotion to principle for a magistrate to sentence a criminal, especially when the culprit is known to have dangerous, unprincipled, friends who are apt to resent such actions and plot vengeance.

Except when they do some spectacular or some sensational things, these servants of the people receive but little praise. Few even get their names in the book of fame. They are killed; they are buried; and soon they are forgotten. Few ever have any monuments erected to commemorate their deeds and their loyalty to duty. But for the measure of safety which it does enjoy, society is indebted to these unsung heroes; and it owes to them at least a debt of gratitude.
