Thrilling Games Holds Crowd at Center

MID-CITY COMMUNITY CENTER THE Mother's Day Tea

The Mother's Day Tea proved to be one of the most successful affairs given at the Center, Miss Ester Johnson, Mesdames Herbert Wiggins and Willie Mitchell were the speakers. A delightful musical program was also given.

Book Party Saturday evening at the Mid City Community Center a book party was given at which time 90 books were received.

May Day Party Under the supervision of Mrs. Grace Hutten, one of the volunteer advisors, 350 children enjoyed a delightful May Day Party, May 7th The Jungle Rhythm Boys band furnished the music.

Ferguson Wins Championship 7:30 found the Community Center a mass of color as the assembly room No. 1 filled rapidly waiting for the semi-finalists of the ping pong tournament to appear. At 7:45 sharp, George McGee and Dave Ferguson stepped to the table, warmed up leisurely and the battle was on. McGee opened a slashing driving offensive with Ferguson, the Adonis of the feminine gallery, playing a cool defensive battle. Leads changed constantly with Ferguson breaking through service and winning game 21-19. Ferguson opened a strong offensive running McGee ragged, winning the second 21-5. Throwing a complete reversal of form McGee rallied to take a hard fought second game, 22-20 with Ferguson, not to be denied, running out 21-14 to enter the finals.

Junior Grayson, University of Omaha Ace, disposed of E. Smith, the dark horse, neatly. Grayson's deceptive service and brilliant cross court shots completely dazzling his less experienced opponent. Scores 21-9, 21-19 21-4.

Ferguson and Grayson displayed brilliant toddler tennis in the finals with the crowd in a constant uproar. Grayson, grim and determined proved a master with a conceiving curving service and time after time brought the crowd to its feet as terrifically cut balls skidded off Ferguson's paddle. Ferguson's game proved a striking contrast. Cool, smooth and a perfect general, Ferguson opened his bid for the championship with a hard driven, low bounding service. Placing his shots perfectly, Ferguson, time and again, jockeyed Grayson into position and then drove crushing deep court shots to Grayson's backhand for point after point, rushing into a five point lead Ferguson ran out first game 21-14.

The second game was a thriller. Grayson, playing the best tennis of the matched, jumped into a 8.0 lead, superb driving and a deceptive serve enabled Ferguson to tie the count at 20-20. Ferguson went ahead only to have Grayson tie it up. Then Grayson went ahead only to have blazing side shots tie up the score. Again and again, the lead changed until Ferguson, on throwing caution to the winds, drove and smashed his way to a 26-24 win. The final game was all Ferguson's, heading 20-11. 300 watched the finals and loudly acclaimed the winner.

THE HOUSEWIVES LEAGUE TO HOLD MASS MEETING

The Housewives League will hold its first annual mass meeting at the Hillside Presbyterian Church, Sunday, May 21st, at 3 p. m.

The League was organized last June under the name of the Northside Civic League, under the direction of Mr. Christopher Adams, but later became known as the Housewives' League.

Much good has been accomplished. Several permanent jobs have been secured for men and much good will has been engendered among business men who do not employ Negro help.

It is an advocate of intelligent direction of the spending power of the Negro group and closer cooperation and better service among Negroes engaged in business. As a result, the local grocermen have perfected an organization and much good is being accomplished.

Heaven and Hell

George S. Schuyler, The "Peck's Bad Boy" of journalism states that the Negro ministry should cease preaching about a peaceful hereafter in an unknown Heaven while the Negro is in Hell here on earth with almost every avenue of social and economical escape being closed upon him. The writer declares that clergymen must exert their talents in aiding their congregations to find the out of this earthly Hell. Mr. Schuyler recently asserted also that the Negro must cease resting on his laurels as an expert singer, and dancer, and become an expert militant fighter and business man.

My dear Mr. Jones:

Your letter of April first has been received.

I do not believe it is necessary to have any special quota established for colored people for employment in the reforestation plan. No distinction is being made for any race or creed, and since the names of all races appear on the rolls of the relief associations, as registered for relief work of some sort, colored people are certain to be included in the ranks of those assigned to the camps, and have been so included.

Very truly yours,
Frances Perkins.

Dr. Lennox On the Job

April 7, 1933.
Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of the United States,
Washington, D. C.,

Dear President Roosevelt:

I am writing you for consideration regarding two paramount issues confronting our country today. What can be done regarding employment for men 40 years of age and above?—and what consideration relative to a sufficient wage for the proper living expenses can be given to our laboring class of women?

It was once thought man is never at his best until he reaches the age of 40 or above. Realizing this is true when I look upon our chief executives of the nation, such as the presidents, senators and governors. Men who are settled and firm in their thoughts; efficient and reliable regarding their work.

They may not be as active physically, or have the ability relative to their anatomical mechanism as a young man, but are more active mentally and stable in their thoughts. I am not speaking in regards to doing away with the young man, for I realize he too deserves consideration, but I am primarily speaking in behalf of the working class of men this age and above, who are the last to be considered for employment, and the first to be discharged regardless of how many years of service, often without any consideration whatsoever.

I realize you are overloaded with different transactions, but from the very fact you have carried out so many situations with ease and pleasure, that required a greater amount of thinking to bring about a rectification than the situations I am bringing to you at this time, gives the American people confidence in you to the extent something will be done relative to the above conditions. This will mean a more prosperous and happy nation; independence and encouragement to these groups.

I realize the economic depression has caused a decrease in all lines of employment but it often has not been the case regarding the cost of living expenses. The wage the average laboring woman receives today is often unable to provide necessities for a living, in the form of food, clothing and shelter. Such situations often causing immortality in every form, seductions to the opposite sex, robberies, etc., in order that assistance may be secured, or even the bringing of an end to it all suicide! If wages were in proportion to their living expenses, it would help and save many of our women and girls.

I am hoping you will consider the above situations in accordance to their importance to these groups, and if you will give it your greatest support, rectification can be easily brought about.

Thanking you very much for your consideration and the monopolizing of your most precious time, I am

FILLING A NEED!

Writing in the May issue of the Opportunity Magazine, Alfred Edgar Smith, contributes an article, "Thru the Windshield", in which he bewails the fact that there is not to be found a ready reference guide of national scope listing the over-night accommodations open to colored travelers in the various communities throughout the country.

Some years ago while traveling through the state of Georgia I was so unfortunate to find myself in a small town with a seven hour wait ahead of me before making a connection with a train that carried a "Jim-crow" car. During this period I discovered that there was not a single place in the town where a colored person could get as much as a cup of coffee. It was necessary to hire a taxi and go to the next town to find any sort of comfort whatever.

Therefore, a few years ago when I started compiling pertinent data on colored people, etc., I decided to compile, for my use, a comprehensive file on every public stopping place in America that welcomed colored trade.

In compiling this information my method was very simple. Out of the hundred odd papers read each week I recorded all the information contained therein regarding hotels, "Y's" community centers, tourists camps, rooming houses, etc. Whenever any of our travelers recorded the experience of their travels in the press I recorded the various places, public and private, where they stopped and also their comment in connection therewith.

After my files contained thousands of such compilations, in every state in the union, I checked my files against the lists provided me by James A. Jackson (U. S. Dept. of Commerce—Washington), and the Travelers Guide as published by Hackley & Harrison, of Philadelphia.

At a still later date I secured official road maps from the various Highway Departments of many states and I checked my files against the main-traveled highways to see if my files contained a stopping place within reasonable distance of each other.

All of this information was compiled purely for my own benefit in anticipation of a coming day when I could make use of it. Judging from the article in the May Opportunity, however, this same information can be used by many other members of our race.

Therefore, if such is the case, I shall be glad, at a later date, to present my service to the race in the form of some kind of handy reference guide, and until then will gladly welcome any information on the subject that will be helpful, or to give out any information or data that I already have on hand.
