

AMONG THE Churches

Claves Temple C. M. E. Church
25th and Decatur Streets
Rev. J. H. Glover, Acting Pastor

Sunday School opened at 9:45 with Mrs. Sarah Stamps, supt., presiding. The school was very largely attended and the lesson as a whole as very interesting.

At 11 a. m., service we were favored with special banjo and guitar selections by young Mr. Raglan. Rev. Glover brought to us a sermon of fire and with the special music by the choir our souls were made to rejoice.

Evening service was turned over for "Request" night by the choir. The choir, under the direction of Rev. Glover, showed marvelous improvement. Many old favorite songs of our mothers were requested and as the choir sang them in such a soul stirring way, we were all made to feel good.

We appreciate the large number of visitors present throughout the day and invite you to come again.

Worship services began Sunday morning with the regular procedure

No one that was present can ever forget their religious experiences on the above date. Our pastor, Rev. J. H. Jackson so beautifully and so constructively discussed the subject, "Short Cuts in Religion," 1 Kings, 12. This message was well worth careful meditation.

In the evening services the congregation witnessed an interesting program presented by the Junior Girls. One event was of special note, being a play written by one of the Junior Girls, Cecil Walls entitled, "The Right Girl in The Wrong Crowd". This play expressed the wonderful possibilities of this Junior Student.

The entire day's services was an enjoyable one. Visitors and friends are always welcome to worship with us at the Bethel Baptist Church.

Sunday School, 9:30 A. M., H. L. Anderson, Supt

Morning service was preached by Rev. J. R. Young. Hymnals rendered by the Junior Choir, Mrs. Helen McWhorter, president; Mrs. Woodson, Directress.

The evening message was brought by Rev. Mayes of Zion Church from 11.9 of Eu. "Rejoice, O Young Man, In Thy Youth and Let Thy Heart, and in the Sight of Thine Eyes, but know that for all these things God will bring Thee Into Judgment. Hymnals were rendered by the Mission Chorus, Ada Woodson, directress.

Let everybody join Zion Baptist Church's picnic the 4th of July at Miller Park and join in the games and enjoy a pleasant outing.

Mt. Moriah Baptist Church
24th and Ohio Street.
Rev. F. P. Jones, Pastor

Sunday was another great day of religious worship. Sunday School opened at 9:30 a. m. with an increased attendance. Eight new pupils were enrolled. The delegates from the New Era Convention made their reports. The Art booth contest was won by Mt. Moriah. This booth was in charge of Mrs. Selma Clark, and the Misses Speeses. The Loving cup was presented our supt. Mrs. Lewis at the convention. Our Sunday School also tied with the Soul Winning banner. It was also brought out by the financial report that our Sunday School had raised the largest amount of money during the year. Pastor Jones preached at 11 o'clock to a full house. Subject, "Christ The Life of Man" John 1:4. The spirit that was demonstrated was positive proof that the message was pleasing to God. B. Y. P. U. Opened at 6:30 with its usual attendance and enthusiasm. Old Reliable gave a remarkable 30 minute program. This we look forward to for many days. The delegates from the Convention made their reports, and among the many important facts was the good news that our Union was practically twice as large as any in the Association thus they brought back the attendance banner. Financial reports also showed that our Union had raised more than all the Unions put together. A vote of thanks was extended to the delegates of the Union and also the Sunday School. At the night service the pastor spoke on the Subject, "Doing Things Right". The Men's Chorus sang for this service, and were highly praised for the beautiful numbers rendered. The financial reports for the month were very encouraging. Remember Mt. Moriah is a church with a welcome, a service you'll enjoy. So come and bring your friends.

Sunday School began at 9:30 a. m. with a very nice attendance.

At 11 a. m., our pastor, Rev. J. H. Jackson brought to us a very profound message, "Our Expectations in Religion," taken from Matt V, Chapter VI. Our pastor illustrated his subject in many beautiful forms.

We had in our Sunday School and morning worship service, Mrs. E. J. Griffin of Lincoln, Nebraska, the President of the Women's Division of the New Era Baptist Assn. She gave a very interesting talk in Sunday School.

Visitors and friends are always welcome to worship with us at Bethel Baptist Church.

CHRIST TEMPLE
26th and Burdette Streets
O. J. Burckhardt, Pastor
J. W. Goodwin, Assistant
Mrs. Verda Gordon, Reporter

Things were unusually lively around the Temple Sunday. We had a splendid review of the lessons for the quarter, which brought forth many rich thoughts on the part of the pupils.

At 11 A. M. Elder F. H. Huntley brought us a rich message full of religious instructions which was applicable to us all. At 7 p. m., while the hot weather was in striking evidence the young people gathered in their usual league work and had a splendid lesson. Sister Edna Mitchell is untiring in her work with the young people.

At 8 p. m. the pastor brought us a message on the life and accomplishments of Moses. The young peoples choir whose untiring work on the part of Elder Huntley and Sister Marion Butler our organist sang for their first service with Alma Ford at the organ and Oneta Watts as director they truly won the approvals of the people.

Hamlett to Speak

1325 Brooklyn Avenue,
Kansas City, Mo.
June 27, 1933.

Mr. S. E. Montgomery
26 and Lake Street
Omaha, Nebraska

Dear Sir:

We have just closed our meeting and as matters now stand Bishop Hamlett will be in your city next Sunday and preach and will make first hand investigations of all the matters concerning the church and then he will act according to what appears for the best interest of the church. You are respectfully requested to so notify all the members of the church.

I will be in Omaha about Wednesday and not later than Thursday of this week and will remain with you until the Bishop comes and may be a few days longer. I will assist in the publication of his coming. We want the largest congregation that we have had and at the same time show just what we can do toward adjusting ourselves to the situation.

Brother Glover is not to move into the parsonage because I only instructed him to preach for you those Sundays until I returned there which will be this coming Sunday.

Brother Smart will tell you about what I am saying in this letter.
Yours very truly,
L. E. B. Rasser.

NEBRASKA BAPTIST HOLD SESSION

The New Era Baptist Association of Nebraska, has just closed one of the most enthusiastic meetings of its history, with the Rev. J. H. Jackson, of the Bethel Baptist Church, as its Moderator.

On Monday evening, June 19, the Association opened with the Laymen in charge. These, with Brother L. F. McIntosh as their leader, are making a very definite contribution to the Association.

On Tuesday, June 20, the Women were in session, with their very competent leader, Mrs. E. J. Griffin of Lincoln, presiding. Mrs. Griffin is working hard to put over the program of Christ. Some very interesting discussions were held throughout the day, and the day's work ended with a splendid annual report from Mrs. Griffin. The State Y. W. A., an auxiliary to the Women's Convention, was also in session Tuesday, with Miss Ella Mae Mills, as president. Miss Mills is a very competent young woman and bids fair to lead the Baptist women of Nebraska some day.

On Wednesday, June 21, the highest peak during the year's meeting was reached, with that well trained and illustrious young Baptist minister, Rev. J. H. Jackson, in charge. Those who were present Wednesday know that this day will long be remembered. On Wednesday evening Rev. Jackson brought to the convention his annual message. It was in every way a masterpiece. Rev. Jackson is a powerful and persuasive speaker—a man with a message. The enthusiasm shown during and after his speech seemed to be a gesture denoting that for a long time to come he will be the man to lead the Baptist of Nebraska. May he live long to teach the doctrines of Jesus Christ and to instill within the hearts of men that all persons born of the Spirit of God are the Children of God. He was unanimously elected to serve his sixth term as Moderator of the New Era Association.

On Thursday, June 22, the Sunday Schools of the State were in session, with their efficient leader, Mr. H. L. Anderson, of Zion, presiding. The proof that Mr. Anderson has created a very fine interest in Sunday School work during the past year was shown by the very large group of young people present for the session and the outstanding part that they played on program.

On Friday, June 23, the B. Y. P. U. session was held, with the lover of Young people, Mr. Dacus, of Pilgrim, as its presiding officer. A very interesting program was witnessed throughout the day.

On Sunday afternoon, June 25, the closing session was held and all present enjoyed a marvelous sermon by Rev. E. W. Anthony, of Salem, and appreciated the singing by the Conventional chorus with Mrs. Ada Woodson as its Directress. Mrs. Woodson deserves much credit for the getting together of the best singing talent of the Baptist of the state.

The following persons were elected to head the various departments: Rev. J. H. Jackson, Moderator; Rev. F. S. Goodlett, First Vice-Moderator; Mrs. E. J. Griffin, President of Women's Convention; Miss Ella Mae Mills, President of Y. W. A.; Mr. H. L. Anderson, President of Sunday School Department; Mr. D. W. Dacus, President of B. Y. P. U.; Mr. Hibbler, Auditor.

Every one expressed their appreciation for the lovely entertainment extended the convention by the Salem Baptist Church, and the convention closed to meet in June 1934 with the Bethel Baptist Church, the Rev. Jackson, Pastor.

WEEKLY SHORT SERMON

By Dr. A. G. Bearer
(For the Literary Service Bureau)
Text: And he began to upbraid the cities.—Matthew 11:20.

Ancient cities stood for the nations to which they belonged. They dominated the affairs of these nations. Jesus recognized this when he upbraided the cities—Chorazin, Bethsaida, Capernaum, and contrasted them with Sodom and Gomorrah, Nineveh, and Tyre and Sidon.

Today, the sins of the cities are cursing the nations and menacing civilization. In America, New York, Chicago, Memphis, and Kansas City, are considered the most lawless municipal aggregations of the country. Bootlegging, dope-selling, social vice, shameless murder, juvenile delinquencies, open gambling, political corruption, rampant greed and graft are at the bottom of this urban corruption. And these sins will bring ruin as did these of Babylon, Nineveh, Chorazin and Capernaum, "once exalted to heaven and then cast down to hell."

As we celebrate Independence Day it would be well to remember these things and realize that no nation is safe under such conditions. Worthy of consideration is the Biblical declaration: "For the nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall—perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted."

WOODSON CENTER DOINGS

Adult Summer Classes: Canning sponsored by the Woodson Center Garden Club began last week. In spite of the unusual dry weather, ladies are enthusiastic and glad of the opportunity offered through these Smith-Hughes Classes.

Classes in Furniture Repair: begin July 3rd. House decorating classes begin the same week.

Seventh Annual Vacation School: Woodson Center will open its doors Monday morning July 3rd, for its seventh annual Vacation Play School for boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 16. New features of the school will be a class in House Decorating, Children's Choral under the direction of Miss Catherine Williams, Dramatics, and a class for older girls in the making of accessories for every day, and afternoon year, "A painting project" will be a special feature for older boys.

The usual playground activities will be conducted daily throughout the time of the school period at the playground at 27th and W streets with Mr. S. D. Rhone in charge. He will be assisted by other staff members.

Boys and girls of the school will enjoy the "showers" as usual this summer in the basement of the boy's club room, while the younger children will cool off in the rear of the building from 2.4 every afternoon. Regular staff members and a corp of volunteers will conduct the activities of the school.

Woodson Center Senior boys and Junior boys Indoor Baseball teams are still going fine. Three girls teams have played games with teams of the Urban League and Y. W. C. A. Other games are being scheduled for all teams. Team members have enjoyed getting to the games in city parks via truck.

Credit Union Activities: Last Tuesday night the Woodson Center Co-operative Credit Association and Garden Club staged a "Get together—get better acquainted" meeting at the Center. A short program was rendered including a talk by Law. Myer Myers. The main speech was given by Mr. White, Professor of Economics at Omaha University, who spoke on "Some Aspects of the Banking System."

In addressing the body, Mr. Myers said: "This indeed is a worthwhile meeting among this group of people, since the main objective of this organization is to develop the spirit of thrift in its members." Mr. Myers assisted Mr. Orchard last fall when the Woodson Center Credit Union was being organized, and spoke in very impressive and complimentary terms regarding the growth and success of the movement. He added further, that it is of particular importance to note that the members receiving such small wages in this time of depression, have been able to develop such a service agency.

Mr. White touched upon the value of the "Gold Standard," and urged the members of the two clubs to spread the message of thrift far and wide, making it a daily practice. He commented further on the fact that since the organization of Woodson Center, there has been a marked decrease in juvenile delinquency.

More than 75 members and friends of the Credit Union and Garden Clubs attended. Girls of the Kiyi Baseball Club served refreshments at the close of the meeting which ended in a Social Hour.

The Woodson Center Credit Union is a member of the National Association of Credit Unions in Boston Mass. Its membership has increased from seventeen at the time of organization last fall to forty odd May 1st, 1933. It is the first Co-operative Bank, with a State Charter to be organized by Negroes, serving Negroes in the State of Nebraska. Through its service loans have been given members, and other valuable service rendered such as only Credit Unions can give. This Union is governed the same as any other bank, subject to state auditing at the end of each quarter. Men and women of all denominations, of all walks of life, compose the membership.

JOHN BROWN'S SOUL GOES MARCHING ON

London, Eng. (CNS) "Gallows Glorious" a new dramatic presentation by Ronald Gow which is concerned with the life of John Brown, the American martyr whose soul goes marching on, recently had a good performance at the Arts Theatre, by the Croydon Repertory Company.

To Mr. Gow, John Brown is plainly a hero. In this play the dramatic movement is exceptionally swift and clear. John Brown in his home among his family, who are as free from doubt and self-criticism as he is himself; John Brown preparing for his raid on Harper's Ferry, knowing that he and his supporters are going to their deaths and caring nothing so long as their defeat stirs public opinion; John Brown a prisoner, stubborn and inwardly triumphant—he is always the same man, drawn crudely, perhaps, but vigorously, fluently, without hesitation. And what is true of him is true of the other persons of the drama—his wife, his sons his daughter.

Charles Morgan, a dramatic critic writes of the play:
"I find it hard to believe that any family was so united so free of every shadow of selfishness or misgiving; Mr. Gow suggests a complete surrender of their lives to their father's fanaticism. But their unity makes for plainness in story telling.

"The whole play has something in common with an adventure story for boys—the narrative is so self-confident, so blandly straightforward, so arbitrary in its separation of the sheep from the goats; and the Croydon Repertory Company, which gave a single performance of it at the Arts Theatre, could not save it from giving an impression of too trustful a hero worship. But if we are prepared to believe that the Browns never swerved, never doubted and seldom thought of anything but anti-slavery, we must give Mr. Gow credit for having treated his heroic theme with dignity and for having written many passages that is moving because it is so happily free from modern shyness in the face of gallant individualism. It is at any rate better to err on the side of hero worship than to sneer at John Brown for no wiser reason than that he was brave and knew his own mind. One may wish that Mr. Gow had struck deeper; but one could scarcely wish him to write straighter narrative on his chosen level.

CITY INCREASE IN RELIEF LOW

Omaha is one of 120 metropolitan cities included in a series of statistics compiled by the United States department of labor's children's bureau on the status of relief work in these communities.

A recent bulletin issued by the children's bureau shows that these 120 cities spent $174,689,286 for relief in 1931 and for the same period in 1932 spent $313,410,370. This amount represents an increase of 79.4 per cent over the 1931 figure.

In Omaha during the same period, according to the bulletin, $296,837 was spent for relief in 1931, while $427,838 was spent in 1932. This increase was only 44.1 for Omaha, or 35.3 per cent less than the national average.

In May according to the bulletin it was estimated that 62 per cent of the entire urban population or 35 per cent of the entire population of the nation, was dependent or partially dependent for relief. The total number dependent in round numbers was 43,000,000 persons.

In Omaha it is estimated that there has never been more than 15 per cent of the entire population dependent.

"The Rural Community and Social Case Work," a book by Josephine C. Brown, is one of the recent additions to the new Herman von W. Schulte Social Work library. This book considers various new factors that have brought about social problems in farm homes and also describes methods of establishing a social welfare program in rural counties.
