Everyone enjoyed a bountiful repast and said it was nice to have been there. They all departed in order to see the boat come in.

CORRECTION

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Jenkins, 2506 Maple St wishes it known that the last paragraph of an article in last week's issue is a mistake. The paragraphs reads as follows: "A delicious plate luncheon, and refreshing cocktails were served, and all spent a very enjoyable evening in dancing." It is entirely foreign and has no connections whatever with this story.

LOOKING BACK

By Videtta Ish

In a jovial vein a mother said, "This girl of mine doesn't know a thing; she can't sew on a button; it would take her all day to wash a handkerchief; and she couldn't boil water without scorching it." If this negligent mother could have noticed the exchange of glances among her hearers she might have understood they were condemning her for failure to teach, "This girl of mine" some things.

Mothers of my childhood days made us do a part of the work. We had our regular tasks of sweeping, making the beds, washing the dishes and doing everything that housekeeping demanded. But now, mothers are to busy; they have neither the time nor the patience to teach their children. No doubt many of them think their girls are too pretty to do work in the house. But, thus neglecting they do grave injustice to their own children; and they unquestionably jeopardise the future of these children whom they indulge.

"Town Talk"

It pays to be a Romeo if you are a good Romeo. Otherwise it "ain't so no." Now Vernon, we aren't saying you aren't a good Romeo, you just got your love letters mixed that's all.

They tell me that dance was a dance and how? Everything to make it complete. Wine, Women, Song and Horace.

We notice Poly G has just returned from a trip to Chicago. What attraction does Chicago hold anyway? Poly stayed there two weeks and went to the "Century of Progress" one day.

There is nothing in the world like making up so Lucy Stamps tells us. And she was the last to do it so she should know.

We do think School boys are the most clever things. Especially when they rush right down to the Pool Hall right after School every evening with all their books. Do they take their books there to prove they are really going to school or are they really going to study? Ask Booker M.

Say girls, we're going to let you in on something. If you have excess to your fathers wine Celler, the boys will want to take you home even if it means carfare. Won't they shot?

Will someone please find out what was wrong with Herb McCaw at the dance the other night? They tell us that he had partaken of too many intoxicating beverages and insisted upon grabbing every well dressed girl that passed.

We saw Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Dixon on the other evening both looking just like they were in the money. It must be wonderful to be called Mr. and Mrs. cause we knew you when you were just plain Eva and Jasper.

Travis Dixon is in love with a little girl whose name is "Sarah Bell" and she is truly the stuff too. Boyish Bob and everything. We knew you could do it Travis.

We know who the little boy is that has been doing so much phone calling and leaving them anonymous. Please boy friend, lay off of Claudell Agee. It's hard on her Phone Bill.

What is poor Maxie Johnson going to do now that Pen has gone? Sompin tells us that Maxie is going to spend most of her time in Iowa.

Paul Turner is a big butter and Bread man these days (Mostly Bread) we see where a number of girls get fat from over-eating.

Why does Fanny Freeman go to the show all alone these days? Does someone accidentally come in and sit beside her? We are so afraid there is a man in the case.

What has happened to cute little June A? Is she in mourning because Leroy R. left? Or is she still on Probation? You know like Jerry had her.

Edrose W. is back from Chicago more beautiful than ever. We can hardly blame you for kissing her picture all the time, Adolph.

Elizabeth B. and Leonard T. are going strong. Or in fact, very strong. It seemed that way at "Jock" meeting the other night anyway.

Edward A. is laying low or at least he was until the other night. And how he did carry on. With his best girl friend too. Ask Edward where he was the other night. He'll tell.

We understand that John E. has bought a couple of shares in Central High School. Oh, we beg your pardon. You said he just acted that way. Not our John surely.

Things we can do without: 1. Marcellus R. holding every girl's hand he meets. 2. Sug Phillips acting dignified. 3. Tom Chandler wearing Caps.

Matinee Dance EVERY SUNDAY at DREAMLAND Music by BILL OWENS

WOODSON CENTER NEWS

Decorations suggestive of fall adorned the Woodson Center at the opening of its fall and winter activities, Friday, September 1. A fifteen foot sunflower raised by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bassett, 5217 South 29th Street occupied one corner of the room. Beautiful fall flowers from the yards of the members of the canning class and friends were artistically arranged about the room. The vegetable table and "Penny Fair" booth added both color and delight to the affair.

The program consisted of community singing by the audience. Mrs. Elizabeth Riner, director of the Omaha Smith Hughes Department gave a talk on the many phases of the Smith Hughes work. Mrs. Florence Piper, instructor of the canning class during the summer gave a brief summary of the work done by the class. A chart showing the number of quarts canned by the ladies showed Mrs. Harriet Osborne led the class with a total of 208 quarts. Mrs. Genevieve Reed was second with 202 quarts. Other members of the class who reported their number were: Mrs. Frankie Redd, Mrs. Bessie Orduna, Mrs. Nellie Bassett and Mrs. Gertrude James.

Mrs. M. L. Rhone, head resident made announcements of some of the fall activities. Those named were clubs for boys and girls of all ages, a nursery school, a little theatre group, and gym classes. At the request of ten or more persons, new clubs may be formed.

Mrs. Gertrude James, chairman of the House Committee presided for the evening. At the close of the program, she invited the audience to inspect the canned goods on display. Mr. Charlie Bassett had on display some unusually large vegetables from his garden.

Many articles made by the children during the year were sold at the "Penny Fair" booth.

"Maxie Miller Writes"

Boy "20 is a dreamer—girl of 20 loves him and wants to marry him—boy wants to go to college—wants girl to wait ten years—better both remain free—let circumstances regulate—foolish to wait.

(For advice write to Maxie Miller, care Literary Service Bureau, 516 Minnesota Avenue, Kansas City, Kansas. For personal reply send stamp.)

Maxie Miller: I'm a girl of 29 a boy, 20, but he seems he don't love me. I been going around with know his own mind. He say he loves me and acts like it, sometimes, then seem to don't care for nobody. He says he don't want to marry nobody, now. He wants to go to college and wants me to wait ten years. I think that's too long. What do you think? Sweet Child.

Sweet Child: You may be sweet, but you'll be mighty foolish if you "get engaged" and your tender age and promise to wait ten years for this boy. The boy will have many other loves before that time and perhaps will forget you. And, as for you, you in love perhaps a dozen times or more. If you have good sense you will promise nothing, for if you are almost certain to break such a promise, sometimes people to keep such promises when they do not love, and in this way they wreck their lives. Better refuse the halter, Sweet Child, and be a sensible child as well. —Maxie Miller.
