

Christ Temple

26th and Burdette Streets
O. J. Burckhardt, Pastor
J. W. Goodwin, Asst. Pastor
Mrs. Verda Gordon, Rep.

Bishop Wm. A. Washington spent the Sunday with us, and our only regret was that, he could not remain longer with us, his services were truly appreciated. Sunday night the people from the various churches packed our little auditorium, the ministers from the various churches, with their congregations took advantage of the situation to get through their services early and come, and drink in the truths as they fell from his lips.

After the closing of the service Rev. A. Clay expressed himself by saying he was indeed glad he had ever come in contact with the Bishop. Dr. Mathis said he had learned much from the message delivered by the Bishop. The Bishop was the recipient of gifts from some who made up the audience, but not members of the church, after the service were over they crowded milled around the Bishop for some moments.

Sunday will be preaching at 11 a. m. by the pastor. The Lord being willing, the fact is we are expecting to have a good time morning and evening. Remember our Bible Classes, Tuesdays and the Community Bible Class Wednesday evening at Elder Irving resident, 2012 North 27th St. You are welcome to these Bible classes, you miss something good when you fail to attend such classes, we have people from most of all the churches in the city.

Zion Baptist Church

2215 Grant Street
Rev. C. C. Harper, Pastor
Rev. J. R. Young, Assistant Pastor

Sunday School 9:30 a. m. H. L. Anderson, superintendent.
Rev. C. C. Harper has started the first week of Zion's Big Revival with a grand success. Many visitors of the city, state and out of state are greatly appreciating this one grand treat.

One of the big inspirations of the meetings is the Revival Chorus directed by Mrs. C. C. Harper. It would give you a great spiritual treat to hear them sing. The Imperial chorus will render the hymnals for next Sunday morning. The Junior and children's chorus directed by Mrs. H. Madison were very inspirational Sunday morning, while the Revival Chorus rendered spirituals Sunday night and the rest of the week.

Bethel Baptist Church

29th and T. Streets
Rev. J. H. Jackson, Pastor
Mrs. J. C. Collins, Reporter

Sunday School was opened at 9:30 o'clock with superintendent, H. C. Garner in charge. Teachers and pupils took a deep interest in the discussion of the Review Lesson. Many fine points were learned from These Early Leaders of Israel.

The morning worship began at 11 o'clock. We were honored to have as our guest speaker, Rev. T. T. Love, pastor of Chicago, Illinois, head of the Home Mission Department. Rev. Lovelace chose for his text I Chronicles 28:23. His subject was: "The Church." This message was not for the unsaved alone, but also it served as a mirror for every Christian to see himself as he really stands in every day life. The speaker was introduced by the Pastor Rev. J. H. Jackson. The Revival Chorus under the leadership of Mr. Preston rendered appropriate music for the worship services.

Sunday evening at 8 o'clock the chorus was the main feature of the evening, and rendered many very lovely selections.

Visitors and friends are always welcome to worship with us at the Bethel Baptist Church.

Cleaves Temple C. M. E. Church

25th and Decatur Streets
Rev. J. L. Glover, Acting Pastor

Sunday was a very lively and busy day at Cleaves Temple. Rev. Glover

Dry Cleaning

The Cut throat who has been ruining your dresses and such for so long in this town is now out of the picture. Come back to the old STAND. BY. Our CASH AND CARRY prices are as low as any and our DELIVERY charge is moderate.

EDHOLM AND SHERMAN
LAUNDERS AND
DRY CLEANERS

EVANGELIST

MRS. MARY E. ASHLEY, of Bessemer, Ala., who will hold a Soul Saving Revival at the Old Sunset Garden every night beginning October 1, 1933.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs. Grace Hayes, wishes to thank their friends for the kind expressions of sympathy, beautiful floral offerings and for the services so kindly rendered during our bereavement.

Mr. E. Hayes,
Mr. E. Hayes, Jr.,
Miss Willa Hayes.

date. Preaching every Sunday at 11 o'clock; Sunday School 12:30 and Christian Endeavor 7:30 p. m.

St. Benedict Catholic Church

2423 Grant Street
Father Daly, Pastor
M. C. Arbuckle, Reporter

This Sunday being the 17th Sunday after Pentecost the Epistle is found in Ephesians 4:1, 6. The Holy Gospel of St. Matthew 22:35, 46. Mrs. Aron Glass has returned from Chicago and reports having a wonderful time Mrs. Verda McMullin, daughter of Mrs. Sterling is improving steadily. Your most unable servant will make this his last report owing to the fact winter is almost here and numerous other duties will not permit his being reporter. Hope all have enjoyed his service as reporter.

St. John's A. M. E. Church

The Friendly Church
22nd and Willis Avenue
Rev. L. P. Bryant, Pastor

The attendance at St. John's Sunday was large and the services very impressive. The Kansas Nebraska Conference will open Wednesday morning at 10 a. m., October 4th, 1933. The Conference will be opened by Bishop John Gregg, presiding Bishop of the 5th Episcopal District. Come to Church Sunday. There will be special services and presentations. Every is cordially invited to come and make the conference a success.

AN IMPORTANT AND NECESSARY ORGANIZATION FOR EVERYBODY TO HELP ANYBODY

Rev. James S. Anderson, National Evangelist and General Secretary, Treasurer of the National Baptist Evangelical Board (a Corporation) as leader, with a group of others has formed an organization for everybody to help anybody in any place.

The organization is styled as "The Christian Relief Workers Auxiliary."

Rev. Anderson stated among other things that the organization has seven important and necessary objectives, which are as follows:

1. To win souls to Christ.
2. To conserve the health of the body.
3. To furnish free to the sick or afflicted, a Doctor and medicine.
4. To help the poor and the needy.
5. To give a reasonable amount toward the funeral expenses of the members and to others according to the regulations.
6. To aim to purchase in the near future a suitable site for the "Faith Home and Bible School."

A campaign for membership and for donations are now going on for an indefinite period. Any person may join the organization according to the rules; and everybody is requested to give or donate; money, clothes, food stuffs, fuel, dry goods, shoes, or anything of value to help carry out the purposes of the organization, in helping anybody that needs help.

The present officers and directors of the organization are:

Rev. James S. Anderson, Chief Overseer; Mrs. Zenobia Carey, Financial Clerk; Mrs. Mabel B. Cooper, Prime Recorder; Rev. W. E. Marion, Earl J. Henry, John H. Raybon, and others.

The Headquarters of the organization is located at 2709 Charles St., Omaha, Nebraska.

PARABLES OF OUR LORD
Debts and Debtors
By Dr. A. G. Bearer

(For The Literary Service Bureau)
Text: How much owest thou?
Debts and debtors figure largely in all history. Relationship between the two involve many individuals and millions of money. The question "How much owest thou?" and the demand "Pay that thou owest," have disturbed people in all ages. But there are other than financial obligations—moral obligations which are binding.

Children owe to their parents a debt they never can pay to them. The only time they can settle this obligation is when they become parents, and serve their own children as their parents served them. The intellectuals are indebted to their parents, philanthropists tax payers, and to faithful instructors for the light they have and enjoy.

The classes are indebted to the toiling masses who supply those things which they must have for life's sustenance. Civilization owes a debt to inventors, discoverers, pioneers and explorers for the enlightenment they have brought to the world, and the world, and the comforts and conveniences which the nations enjoy. The world will ever be in debt to its womanhood for services inestimable. To all of these classes come the question, "How much owest thou? Comes also the equitable demand, "Pay that thou owest."

Prisons and Prisoners

By CLIFFORD C. MITCHELL

The editor of the American Prisoner, the official organ of the Michigan State Prison has written me a most complimentary letter and in it asks me to prepare a special article for their international edition, concluding with this paragraph:

"I would especially appreciate an article expressing your opinion on either criminal jurisprudence, parole, or the indeterminate sentence and what changes you think might be beneficial."

And while my time is so taken up that I have to make every act count I would like to use this space in giving a few suggestions as to changes I would suggest, not particularly in the laws as existing in the state of Michigan, relative to paroles, but more particularly in the amount of encouragement that can be given prisoners who have "found" themselves while in prison; have accomplished some worthwhile and meritorious deeds; whose prison records have been satisfactory; yet they are unable, (or rather were unable prior to the time I left Jackson Prison) to secure favorable parole consideration because of several reasons, namely, the unresponsiveness of the sentencing Judge; the prosecuting attorney, or a willingness, on the part of the parole commissioner's office to act independently and recommend favorable consideration until an allotted amount of time had been served.

After all, in my opinion, the laws, or their interpretation, are sufficient, liberal, speaking particularly of the state of Michigan, without any particular changes, to permit a wider exercise of parole prerogatives, especially since the executive department has full and discretionary powers in the matter of paroles. Unfortunately, however, a great amount of politics seem to enter into these matters and cases that might otherwise receive favorable consideration are shelved because of the effect it would have politically.

From the standpoint of safety to society I cannot see where society is the gainer because a prisoner is paroled merely because he had served an allotted amount of time but has taken no steps, while in prison, to better his conditions so as to make the matter of his rehabilitation as a free man more assured, et, such men are, or were, constantly receiving favorable parole consideration while the poor prisoner who, laboring under a seemingly excessive sentence, has for years used his spare time in bettering himself educationally,

SHALL WE CONTINUE 'Miss Eyes'

The Omaha Guide truly wants to serve you as you want to be served. For seven weeks we have had more comments and the largest distribution of papers as a result of the column known as "Miss Eyes." The comments have been pro and con, and the pros seem to have the best of the cons so far, and since the majority rules, we are going to ask our readers to help us settle this dispute about the "Miss Eyes" column. The following is a blank ballot for your vote.

Shall we continue "Miss Eyes" column?

Please register your vote in the square of your choice and mail the same to The OMAHA GUIDE office 2418 Grant Street, or turn it in, in person.

Yes ☐ No ☐

physically, spiritually and morally, yet is unable to secure any favorable consideration, or even encouragement, because of some technicality of the law, or parole policy, which he is unable to surmount.

Personally, from my own knowledge and experience and observation of thousands of prisoners, I know of many prisoners, right in Jackson Prison, who are serving long sentences—life—and victims of the habitual criminal act—on whom I would rather see released tomorrow, with more definite assurance to society of their forever going straight, than I have an equal or greater amount of comparatively short timers whose time is automatically up and are favorably considered for parole.

It seems to me a waste of the taxpayer's money to keep a prisoner confined who, in the course of many years, has studied, developed and taught himself a trade, art, or profession, and for which his talent has become so perfected that his services could easily be placed with responsible free people, to keep that man for a further and indefinite time in prison. Yet, this is, or was, being done every day, while men with no talent, no possibility of making himself particularly useful, other than through his own manual and common labor, receives favorable parole consideration, only to flood an already over populated field of common workers.

This, indeed, is a ticklish subject, yet, since the editor of American Prisoner has asked for my opinion on the matter, I give it in this form, and sincerely hope that it will serve to help those needing help the most.

DODGE STREET BIDS CALLED OCTOBER 13

Governor Bryan Wednesday announced bids will be called for about $725,000 of state and federal highway construction in October including projects to relieve unemployment in Lincoln and Omaha, in a dispatch from Lincoln.

October 13 bids will be called for $658,000 of federal work and for October 20 bids for $52,000 of state and $67,000 of federal work.

The projects include the first work on the improvement of Dodge St. in Omaha, straightening of the main west entry to Lincoln and paving of a strip through the center of Lincoln's main street; also two paving projects in Dakota county, where the unemployment and relief situation has been particularly serious.

The Omaha project calls for grading 6.2 miles, extending Dodge St. from the 10-mile corner to meet the road south from Waterloo. Bids already have been taken for the grading from Waterloo south. The Dodge St. extension project, Bryan said, will cost about $150,000.

100,000 CHILDREN FACE SHUT SCHOOLS, OHIO SURVEY

CLEVELAND — Because the town councils are more anxious to pay off bank loans than to get children into the schools, more than 50,000 children in Ohio will find classroom doors closed when they return to school in the next few days, it was announced here yesterday.

Funds are on hand to operate all the schools in the State for only two more months the Governor announced. School officials declared that in all probability 100,000 school children will be forced out of the schools by Christmas.

1,600 RETAIL BEER IN STATE, 158 DISTRIBUTE

LINCOLN — Sixteen hundred licensed retailers are selling 3.2 beer in Nebraska, 158 are wholesaling or distributing the brew, and four breweries, three in Omaha and one in Columbus are making it, reports compiled by W. H. McGaffin, chief of the state inspector bureau, reveal.

For the month of August, beginning the 10th, when the legalizing act of the legislature became effective, the total state revenue received by the state at the rate of 93 cents per barrel to date is $19,113. The tax was paid by brewers, wholesalers and distributors.

One prosecution has been started in Omaha against an alleged uncensored wholesaler.

"REVEALING" YOUR PAST PRESENT FUTURE by Abbe' Wallace

"YOUNGEST MENTALIST ON THE AMERICAN STAGE"

E. C. S.—Will I be successful to get the money to carry out my plans?

Ans.—YOUR HOUSE will not be REPAIRED anytime soon. DUE TO THE FACT THAT you will not be able to raise the necessary capital.

M. E. P.—My life has been a burden to me for the past three years, tell me what the cause of this is?

Ans.—Your life has been a burden to you ever since SINCE YOU MARRIED. You have been married three years and have not enjoyed the COMFORTS that you should. What you need is a VACATION.

S. P.—Should I marry A. F. or S. J.?

Ans.—You are exceedingly well liked by both parties. I don't believe however that you yourself LOVE either one. I see another person coming into your life so do not decide on a MATRIMONY immediately.

G. T.—Can you tell me if the boy who was with me is the one that got my gun?

Ans.—BOTH OF THE BOYS that were with you that day were instrumental in taking your gun. They were the only ones who knew where you HIDE IT. You will receive your gun back by PUTTING THE POLICE ON THEIR TRAIL.

R. T. J.—Where can I find employment?

Ans.—IN A DOWNTOWN STORE. I cannot determine clearly whether this will be in a DEPARTMENT STORE or in some other place of business.

E. S.—Should I advise my mother to come and where to?

Ans.—I believe it wiser to have her come to Omaha rather than to Lincoln. This move will prove the most profitable.

B. J.—Will I be successful by staying in this town?

Ans.—Naturally you are DISCOURAGED. Anyone would be if their HOME BURNED DOWN. I suggest that you stay where you are and REBUILD if you can afford it.

L. L. A.—Why has my husband grown cold toward me and ceased to be affectionate?

Ans.—Too much BURNING AROUND. Make him STAY HOME once in a while and you TRY RUNNING AROUND FOR A CHANCE. You'll get a kick out of it too.

C. B.—Why does my sister cry so much?

Ans.—SUPER SENSITIVE girls cry over anything. Your sister is troubled with NERVES. This condition will be OUTGROWN in time.

M. B. W.—Dr. Abe will you tell me where my duck is?

Ans.—Your duck is alive and getting along nicely in the OUTSKIRTS of the city. Your duck was stolen not lost.

NOTE:—Your question printed free in this column. For Private reply send 25c and (self addressed stamped envelope for my New Astrological Reading and receive by return mail my advice on three questions free. Sign your full name birthdate, and correct address. Address Abbe' Wallace, P. O. Box—11, Atlanta, Georgia.

COMMUNITY CHEST

Dear Mr. Galloway:

As per our telephone conversation this morning, I am sending you some facts under title "What is the Crisis in Welfare Work?" which you might incorporate in your article.

"Striking changes have taken place recently in the services required of welfare agencies, in the amount of money available, and in the degree to which the government (city, county, state, and national) has taken responsibility for relief."

"Yet human needs remain the same. Food, shelter, employment, guidance, good home life, hospitals, care of the sick and aged, had to be provided for thousands even in the boom days. Prosperity was never so universal in its effects as the depression has been, and there were always people who needed help of various kind. Social agencies were formed to provide the skilled service which the public conscience demanded, before the depression occurred to focus the spotlight sharply on bread and coal."

"As poverty increased rapidly the past few years, it was imperative that the hungry be fed. Private welfare funds undertook this first in most instances, sometimes at the cost of other essential services such as public health and character guidance. While expenses for relief were mounting, contributors were suffering losses and had to reduce their gifts. Contributions to private charities in 400 cities which had more than held their own through 1932, have since decreased 30 per cent because of the general lowering of incomes and salaries."

"Gradually the government has been taking over the burden of unemployment relief, which has grown to staggering size. Now 94 per cent of the total expenditure for relief comes from public funds. Such funds assure us that people out of work need not starve or freeze to death or have to sleep in the street."

"But these are not the only human needs. Private philanthropy still, in most communities, is relied upon to provide other essentials of civilized life. "No community can reasonably continue to reduce the budget of its welfare agencies, perhaps for the third or fourth time, while expecting them to bear a far greater burden of responsibility than was theirs several years ago."

"To ask the government to support them, out of tax funds, is manifestly useless at a time when all its relief resources are being used to feed and shelter the unemployed."

"The responsibility remains on the conscience and purse of those who are not on the relief lists themselves."

"Recovery involves building up these services, not tearing them down. Through them we rebuild the human beings who make our world. But it cannot be done overnight."

"THE SUM OF IT ALL," declares Newton D. Baker, "IS THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS NOW COMMITTED TO THE TASK OF MAKING LIFE POSSIBLE. WE PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS MUST UNITE TO MAKE LIFE WORTH WHILE."

"During the World War, women gave their time and energy unsparringly. We have been passing through a period of depression longer than that of the war and more corrosive in its effects. We have before us a work of recovery and reconstruction. Women again can lead the way to "bind up the nation's wounds" and find the whole community with faith in a better day."

I am having copies of President Roosevelt's and also Mrs. Roosevelt's address set to you direct from the Community Chest office. Would be glad to have you send me a copy of the Omaha Guide, to my home 144 North 38th Avenue.

Yours truly,
MRS. MYLES STANDISH,
Chairman Women's Division,
Community Chest Campaign.

The opening guns of the community chest drive of Division C under the supervision of Mrs. Marie Stuart, 2522 Lake Street, were fired last Wednesday night at the Omaha Urban League, Miss Esther Schamp of the Community Chest Addressed the meeting. Miss Schamp, spoke on the greater need this year of a successful Chest Drive than ever before. So many people feel that there is no need of a chest drive this year because of the N. R. A. and Federal Relief, but the N. R. A. and Federal Relief do not take care of our old, sick and indigent people, and our character building agencies. The organization set up at present is as follows:

low: Mrs. Marie Stuart, chairman, Mrs. Freddie Porter, Major; Mrs. Olivia Kirtley, Treasurer; Captains, Mrs. Florence Johnson; Mrs. Harry Leland; Ms. Marie Lomax; Mrs. Francis Holloway; Mrs. R. L. Turner, with the assistance of Mrs. Etta Green Butler; Mrs. John Albert Williams; Mrs. J. Harvey Kerns, Mrs. Jennie Scott; Mrs. Mirmie Dixon; Mrs. Tillie Simpson and numerous others.

This year's division C territory is much larger than ever before extending from Cummings Street to Ames Avenue, and from 24th Street to 36th Street. Mrs. Stuart will need two Majors and 11 captains to cover this territory. She solicits the help of each and every one, so that Division C will be the first to go over the top.