BOULDER DAM JOB HELD UP BY ONE SOUTHERNER, REPORT

Negro Workers have Separate Dormitory, Mess Hall Tables, Toilets Pool Table, Drinking Fountain

Separate Truck to Haul Them to Work at Dam

New Work, Dec. 8—Negroes are being denied a fair share of jobs on Boulder dam by one man who believes in jim crowism and who calls all Negroes "darkies," it was revealed this week when a report was received by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People from Leland S. Hawkins, president of the San Francisco branch, who made a personal investigation at Las Vegas, Nev. and Boulder City and the dam.

The man is Frank T. Crowe, general superintendent of the Six Companies, Inc., which hires most of the men on the dam. Mr. Hawkins's report quotes him as saying:

"I am going to put darkies to work as jobs become available where they can be isolated and do not come in contact with white men."

"Darkies are fine laborers, especially when they have a darky singing boss."

"Darkies have worked on the river gang and have had their own dormitory."

"I played football at Hanford against a burly darky on the Anderson team." (Crowe was referring here to the late William C. Matthews, former assistant attorney general of the United States.)

Mr. Hawkins's report stated further:

"The conversation was extremely cordial, but Mr. Crowe expressed strong conviction for segregation, discrimination and humiliation of all Negroes employed at the dam, as a precaution to protect them from the southern white employees. He did not use the word 'nigger,' usually 'darky,' 'colored' or 'Negro' and he regretted his colored cook had the day off as he was sure she could give much information about the good times in Las Vegas."

Mr. Hawkins, who is also a member of the National Bar Association, which is working jointly with the N A A C P on employment at the dam, sends the following highlights on the whole situation:

Everything Separate

The largest number of Negroes ever employed on the dam was 30 between August 18 and November 15, 1932. The total payroll averaged $20,000 a day, but the Negro payroll was only $122.80 a day. At present only 12 or 14 Negroes are employed and their payroll is not over $56 a day. On Nov. 7 a total of 4,100 men were working for all companies at the dam, with the Six Companies, Inc. having 3,289 of those on its payroll alone. Negroes lived in the River camp at the dam from August 13, 1932 to March 15, 1933 in the separate dormitory, with separate tables in the mess hall and separate toilets. They were not allowed to drink from the regular fountain, but had their water brought to them in water bags. They had a separate truck to haul them to work, a separate pool table in the recreation room. Negroes are permitted to enter Boulder City, the government-built town, but none lives there, although "arrangements" are being made to have them live there.

Boulder dam was started in March 1931. The government is spending $165,000,000 on the dam, out of taxes from all the people. Boulder City was built by the government at a cost of $2,000,000 to be a model city for the employees at the dam. The whole project is under the supervision of the department of the interior of which Secretary Harold L. Ickes is the head.

The Hawkins report has been forwarded to Harry Slattery, personal assistant to Secretary Ickes.

LEIBOWITZ 'MOBBED' BY ADMIRERS ON HIS RETURN TO NEW YORK

New York City, (CNS)—Samuel S. Leibowitz the noted lawyer who defied the Scottsboro boys returned to New York City last Wednesday, from Decatur, Alabama, and 200 admirers gave him a rough-though well meant—reception at the Pennsylvania station.

His clothes were torn, his hat was knocked off and trampled and he was roughly jostled in the crush to slap him on the back or even to touch his clothes.

Joseph V. McKee, who returned from Washington on the same train, passed the group waiting for the lawyer entirely unnoticed.

Four husky men, including two Negroes, lifted Mr. Leibowitz to their shoulders. His bodyguard, Detectives Harold Fox and Arch Daly, fought their way to his side. Ten policemen finally scattered the crowd and Mr. Leibowitz was hurried to a car. He spent some hours at home recovering from the "mauling."
