ILLINOIS ADDS TWO NEW MEMORIALS TO WAR OF THE REBELLION PRESIDENT

Springfield, Ill.—(CNS)—Rich in the lore and traditions of its most favorite son, central Illinois will have another State museum with the restoration of the one-time capitol at Vandalia, where Lincoln first served in the Legislature nearly a century ago; and plans are being formulated for the preservation of another historical landmark, the old State House at Springfield.

Thus Illinois is adding two of its former capitol buildings to the already numerous memorials to Abraham Lincoln.

It was here at Springfield that Lincoln, crusading against slavery, made the famous speech in which he declared that "a house divided against itself can not stand."

Both the old capitol now are being used as county courthouses. Typical of the first stone structures erected when the frontier was pushing toward the Mississippi, the buildings have been altered somewhat as they were put to other uses.

Illinois is taking steps to restore the buildings, inside and out, and use them as a museum for relics, pictures and documents of the time when Lincoln helped govern the State and Nation.

NEGROES BARRED FROM NEW MODEL TOWN IN WEST VIRGINIA

Charleston, W. Va., (CNS)—A new model town is being erected by the Federal Government near Morgantown, Monongalia County, West Virginia, about 30 miles due south of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

It is reported that the new colony, the first of the subsistence homesteads to be established by the government will not accept Negroes as residents. A protest has been filed and a fight will be made to include Negroes in the "native born American" contingent that will be allowed to settle on the site.

Two tiny Christmas Trees are placed on stands, one in front of each of two lines, which the children have formed. Each child has been given some little ornament for the tree. When the signal is given, the first child in each row is led up to the tree, blindfolded, and told to hang his ornament on the tree in the most artistic place which he can "feel." As soon as he has done this he takes off the blindfold, runs back to his line and puts the blindfold on the next player. This is a race to see which line can first trim its tree.

"REVEALING" your PAST, PRESENT and FUTURE BY ABBE WALLACE longest mentalist on the American Stage

M. E. S.—Will I ever be able to get my money? ANS.—On one condition only, and that is—you must secure a duplicate of the marriage certificate that was lost—this can be obtained from the town you were married in.

L. B.—I would like to know what the boy I just met thinks of me? ANS.—A boy whose initials are W. C. thinks of you night and day. He will make his feelings known with a little encouragement from you. Why not invite him over to your house—your mother will like him too.

E. K.—Will I get a job soon, and where? ANS.—You will get a job WITH THE LADY YOU LAST WORKED FOR AGAIN. She will hire you back in the very near future.

M. E. T.—Please tell me if my marriage will be a success? ANS.—There should be no doubt in your mind about your marriage being a success—here you are—only married a month—and you are beginning to fear you have made a mistake. You knew what you were doing when you married this man and you should have more confidence in your future.

F. C.—What can I do to make our home life happier? ANS.—It is true, there is something lacking in your home that will bring happiness to you and your husband. BABIES will do the trick, your husband is very fond of children and since you have given him none, he finds married life a little bore-some.

T. H. O.—Will I be successful in getting a loan and what about this other wedding? ANS.—Your son will succeed in the MINISTRY and your daughter will do well TEACHING SCHOOL. Don't neglect their educations at any cost.

L. B. R.—You answered my question once before just right. Will it be alright for me to go to Michigan to work? ANS.—If you expect to hold your husband I advise you to stay in your city. He is just a little bit too anxious for you to leave. Try a little harder to find something to do in your city.
