KID CHOCOLATE SELLS LAST 1,000 WATCH DONKEY BALL

A NEW YORK CITY...
Chocolate still has everything but until the end. The legs go first, then stamina, speed and coordination.
Kid Chocolate's former feather weight champion who earned over $300,000 with his fists during 11 years of campaigning—more than any other fighting man under the light weight class—is only 23 years old, according to his mother, Senora Ascension Montalvo.
Beautifully moulded, he stands in the ring like an animated statue of black marble. He has the boxing technique, speed, stamina, ruggedness and heart of a champion. But the trip hammer punch, the jagged jolt that stumped nearly 100 opponents into unconsciousness as he clicked off the phenomenal record of 169 successive victories on the way to the top, is gone.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS WIN BY 3 TO 2 IN COMEDY BASEBALL GAME

In many an Omaha home this morning the young men ate their breakfast standing up.
They spurned the proffered chairs with a nonchalant wave of a hand and a vocal refusal that came from a face that pictured brave suffering.
These young men about 30 of them, didn't care to sit down because sitting was highly painful. Monday night they had to keep 1,500 persons rocking and roaring with laughter as donkey ball was introduced to Omaha. And they had been in contact with the rear feet of donkeys.
Young Democrats Win
The scene was League park and the object charity, part of the profits of the eight game series to go to The World War Fish Air Camp fund and the Bee News milk and ice fund.
These 30 young men learned about donkeys. It was hard to tell whether the men or the donkeys took the most punishment. But the Young Democrats had the most luck and won over the Young Republicans, 3 to 2.

HARLAND L. MOSSMAN
Democratic nomination for County Attorney. Wise political observers are picking him to win.

Mr. Mossman is a member of the Federal-State Relief Committee, and has been active in helping guide the relief activities successfully. He is a warm supporter of the Roosevelt policies, and a personal friend of the President.

In his campaign for County Attorney, Mr. Mossman makes it plain that he will be controlled by no clique or faction, and that he has "no enemies to punish or friends to reward." "I have always felt that the office of County Attorney is one of the most important in Douglas County," he says. "It is also the office of all the county offices where the people's interests are most at stake, and most easily the prey of designing impostors and sinister influences. I would change the present policy of that office considerably."

The Mossman for County Attorney Headquarters have been established in suite No. 3 of the Wead Building, 18th and Farnam Street, and all friends are welcome.
