

"REVEALING" your
PAST, PRESENT and FUTURE
 BY ABBE WALLACE
 youngest mentalist on the American Stage

J. T.—Where must I go for better treatment and more contentment?
 Ans: State of Oklahoma would appeal to you more than any state in the union. You will meet up with a different type of people who will make your whole life seem new and interesting again.

T. G.—Was anyone the cause of my daughter's death?
 Ans: No one was responsible for her death. She was drowned and no one pushed her into the water. She was not a good swimmer and could not help the misfortune.

L. M. S.—Why has my life always been so full of sorrow? I have always tried to do the right thing. Is there any happy days for me?
 Ans: Plenty of happy days and good times are ahead for you. I see your HUSBAND and your ON steadily employed this summer. This will make a change in your life for the things you want.

W. R. R.—The girl that I love or the boy that I think she is in love with?
 Ans: No she loves you. You had not better tell her that you love her until you are ready to see the preacher for she is waiting for the opportunity to MARRY YOU. You and she should be happy together.

M. V. S.—Will my husband stop his drinking or what will happen to him?
 Ans: He is determined to drink every drop that he can get his hands on and he is not going to stop until he makes himself SICK over it. After a few uncomfortable sick days he will soon learn that it is best to let it alone unless he drinks in moderation.

L. C. W.—Will you please advise me how I will be able to take care of the payment on my home?
 Ans: You will be able to raise the money to meet the interest on the note due on your home the first of SEPTEMBER. I see you working for a art of this money.

R. L.—Does my boy friend mean me well and is what he tells me the truth?
 Ans: He means you well but you know as well as he does that he is NOT telling the truth about you and he is going together a few years ago. This is just a line that he uses on all of the little girls he runs around with and makes the majority of them believe it.

H. B. B.—Will my husband come home?
 Ans: Not for a few years. Do not encourage the officials in the institution to let him visit you for it would only make him worse. His mind is not altogether as alert as it should be as yet.

G. L. J.—In what line would I make the best as I really want to make some good money.
 Ans: You can't make as much TEACHING MUSIC as you can make as a BEAUTICIAN. If it is money that you want, then take up beauty culture work but if it is the most congenial work, then stick to your music.

M. A. G.—Does my man friend love me or is he just fooling me?
 Ans: He is not trying to tell a false deal over you. His FATHER is sick and he can't make calls at your home as he would wish to but this will show you just how he feels about

BEET FARMER WORKERS GO ON STRIKE IN NEW JERSEY

BRIDGETON, N. J. July 14 —(CNS)—Monday, July 9, tear gas bombs, water from fire hose, and cops' clubs were necessary to put an end to clashes between deputy sheriffs and policemen and striking farm hands at the 4000 acre Seabrook farm in Deerfield Township. Truly, seven men and women, including thirty in colored men and women were arrested. They are: Ellen Roberts, Ardella Dent, Esther Jones, Lillian Jackson, Tom Crawford, Daniel Hart, William Brown, John Dent, Jesse Reeves, Ernest Johnson, Paul Rodock, and Wallace Kenkins.

The strike is counted the major NRA event so far as colored farmers are concerned in that township. The strike grew out of what the strikers claim was a breach of contract on the part of the Seabrook Farm Corporation.

The Seabrook Farm is the largest farm project in the United States. The government has lent it $200,000 to help pull the N. J. section out of the depression. It has produced at times large profits, but the present strike was precipitated when two weeks ago the Seabrook officials are said to have repudiated a contract made with the union by which farm workers were to receive the following:

1. A flat rate of 30 cents per hour for men.
2. A flat rate of 25 cents for women.
3. A graduated scale for skilled labor.
4. Time and one half for overtime and Sundays.
5. No increase in rent for company houses for 12 months.
6. Recognition of the Agricultural Workers' Industrial Union.

Strike Precipitated
 The strike was precipitated last week when a reduction in pay to 17 cents per hour was announced and 150 men laid off. Women stood out in the clashes with officers Monday. They made up most of the picket line and pounced upon loads of produce being taken to the farm cannery. It was this last action which brought police into action.

A delegation was sent to Washington and put the matter before the Department of Labor.

This delegation, which comprised both colored and white workers, branded the farm corporation as one of the most ruthless exploiters of labor in the country. It was charged that it not only failed to comply with code rules, but that it imported labor from the South to keep the wage low.

The strikers returned to work on Wednesday afternoon after certain negotiations, which most of them claim is a victory for the Company. Thomas W. Holland, a representative of the Labor Compliance Board of the NRA visited the farm early and went into conference with Charles F. Seabrook, president of the operating company.

John A. Moffitt, a Federal mediator was also sent here by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, to confer with Seabrook.

Seabrook in a statement to Governor Moon denied wages had been cut. "A short time prior to the strike, it was necessary to reduce our force and lay off a large number of temporary laborers brought in to do seasonal work," the message said.

"We understand that the strike was called by Communist labor agitators on account of this, although we have not received any communication or demand from them. This strike was not called by our employees."

Following the return of the farm hands to work, it was discovered that the Ku Klux Klan had been active in the labor dispute. It is claimed they had tried to intimidate the strikers during the violent struggle against wage cuts and poor living conditions.

SERVANT OF FATHER OF MRS. ROOSEVELT DIES IN VIRGINIA

BRISTOL, Va., July 15—(CNS)—John Smith, aged colored man, who was the trusted servant of Elliott Roosevelt, father of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, died at his home here July 12.

He had followed the brother of former President Theodore Roosevelt on trips over this part of the country inspecting holdings of the Douglas and Company, and was remembered by the present First Lady of the Land, who invited him to visit at the White House. Infirmities of age kept John from accepting this invitation, but last summer he talked with Mrs. Roosevelt when she was near here attending the White Top Mountain music festival and presented her with a cup that had belonged to her father.

MY TRIP TO ARKANSAS:

 For years we have watched the antics of the "intellectual Negroes" beginning in the days of "Booker T. Washington" when he sounded the death knell of the "Atlanta Exposition" which set in motion a discrimination on a wholesale basis of setting the prayers and supplications of four million black slaves. Prayers that were heard around the world, that touched the hearts of the people of this nation that created a sympathy and love for humanity that caused a Civil War to be waged; freeing four million human beings.

The masses of Negroes have been plunged into an economic and industrial slavery far worse than any human slavery could have been; a caste system based upon color, far worse than the caste system of India, has been brought about by the intensive drive for social equality and the adjustment of "Race Relations by the NAACP" and the Urban League.

The head of the NAACP has recently discovered this error and has abandoned this most foolish program, but is still "stumping" the country in an effort to raise funds for luxurious living in New York City and to "Fight Criminals When They Are Committed" but, not one thing is being done toward "Crime Prevention."

The Urban League, officials are the highest paid of any Negro organization, with their offices in New York and drawing their pay from the Chambers of Commerce and the Community Chest in urban centers. It is Still Going Strong. One of its officers has recently been appointed to a government position, which plainly shows that the Negro knows the white man and the Race Relations sponsored by the Urban League, is to acquaint the white man with the Negro. Now this part of their program, I have been utterly unable to comprehend: why does the white man after having worked the Negro for two hundred years and more, fail to know or understand him, and why must large sums of money be paid "intellectual Negroes" to acquaint the whites with the "Color-d Botherer?" This Negro intelligentsia is a hoax and a joke, contributory values: too the "more abundant life" of the masses of the American Negroes.

This is the first time, that a President of this nation has ever attempted in a broad sense to enforce the laws of this country, including the Civil Rights of the Negro; yet our "intellectual brothers" have seen fit to set up the E. A. C. to interfere with the President's program and to further create a discrimination based upon color; declaring that the laboring Negro needs a different protection from that of the laboring white man. The activities of the Urban League are such that a color line has been drawn within the race, that is as amazing as it is disgusting. When one applies at one of these local branches the first thing that is noted is the color of one's skin. You may be as efficient as Phyllis Wheatly, but, if you are black you might as well be as evil as Lucifer.

If we common people hope to get anywhere we must stop supporting these "intelligentsia" of our race who exploit us. They live in the north and go south and speak and write one thing, and then return north and say another. As important as the office of the President of the United States is; it is better that we know and support the Governor, the county, and City officers of our

State and community, and above all, the neighbor. It is a demonstrated fact that the Negro knows the white man better than the white man knows the Negro. Were it not so, organizations such as above mentioned could not get their moral and financial support but it would be given to the community to establish Recreation Centers for the YOUNG GENERATION.

RELATION OF EDUCATION TO ECONOMIC STATUS OF THE NEGRO

By J. Harvey Kerns

No greater problem today is facing the American people than the problem of making a living. It is a problem which economists, politicians, social workers and educators are frantically working to perfect a solution. To the Negro the marginal worker in American industry, the problem has real significance. Being the last to be hired and first to be fired, he has born the brunt of this economic paralysis. Of all groups concerned and perplexed as to the outcome of these conditions, is the Negro educator and the Negro student. The current business recession has set the Negro back immensurably. Occupations in the household field have been lost, service jobs have been taken over by others, agricultural work no longer is as profitable as it was in giving the Negro perplexing problems on the farms of the South.

What does the future hold for the Negro? Is the New Deal to be a Square Deal or does the Negro still look upon it with suspicion and expect the dealers to give him the joker. Today in our eager hope to see the coming of prosperity, it might be well to put to ourselves the question "are we prepared for the change if it should come?" Or if it is indefinitely postponed have we sufficient courage to meet the future whatever the change might be.

No doubt many of the thousands of students who are today in our colleges and universities are raising this question as they see and read of thousands of young men and women who are members of the great army of unemployed you now pursue. It is a question, I say is being debated in a million minds, not only by the students, but by those who are attempting to guide the destiny of our educational institutions. I need not intimate to you what education is, nor need I say to you that some reasonable portion ought to be secured to every boy and girl in the confines of what we call our country. A speaker addressing a group of students recently, in stating the sever objects of education said, "It is the objects of fundamental processes or tool subjects, vocational training, and some environment as citizenship training, worthy use of leisure time, and character training. Hundreds of young students and older graduates, though mastering some of the academic subjects, have College and High school with the coveted diploma and enter the arena of life as mis-educated products. I have talked with hundreds of high school and college graduates in quest of work who were absolutely miserable because of their failure to acquire more of these fundamental principles. There has been much criticism of the methods and courses of instruction offered in our high schools and colleges. One of the most hopeful and helpful developments in our modern curriculum is the new emphasis being placed on education. In too many instances have students been taught a mastery of Latin and Greek without a mastery of the sciences of life. In too many instances have college trained young men and women with the potentiality of usefulness, been failures because of their ambition to capture the almighty dollar. Selfishness, intolerance, lack of cooperation, indifference is still too conspicuous in some of the best minds that we as Negroes love to eulogize.

Lord Keynes says, "It appears unaccountable that most of our teachers generally have directed their instructions to the head with very little attention to the heart. Yet surely as man is intended to be more an active than contemplative being the educating of a young man to behave properly in society is of still greater importance than the making him even a Solomon of Knowledge." Today the Negro is in the vortex of the industrial change under the recovery program. There are two great obstacles which confronts him (1) the removing of real barriers which prevent him from enjoying the fruits of the New Deal (2) removing from his own ranks the greed and selfishness which prevent Negroes from making a united front to secure the larger advantages. I contend that the very broadest education possible should be the aim of every Negro youth, but the pursuit of this knowledge should not be at the expense of this knowledge should not be at the expense of developing a character so essential in racial development.

President Emeritus Hadley of Yale University said let us recognize that knowledge of the facts of history or science are of little importance as compared with the power of getting additional facts for himself as he wants them and the habit of getting them right. He may not know so many things declared Dr. Hadley when he leaves school but he will be a much better and more useful citizen. The cause of failure of many of the young men and women today is not as much due to the economic maladjustments as it is to the lack of personal application of the higher qualities of life. One of the most powerful instruments of social control is the school, but as yet many of our schools have failed to formulate a program which regards the problems of the present and their implications to the future. In many of our vocational trade schools courses are being taught which are passed in a few years the object of Negro youth must be content with high thinking and simple living! A single period more of our greatest statesmen have experienced, it is a test period to many to prove their real metal. If the youth of today can pass through this refining process he will not only be stronger, but the experience will render him a better subject to carry on.

AFRICAN NAZI LEADER ORDERED OUT OF SOUTHWEST AFRICA

WASHINGTON, July 14—(CNS)—The State Department has received information from African authorities that the Southwestern African Hitler youth movement has been declared illegal, and that Captain Von Losritz, its leader, has been ordered to leave the country.

The decision, made under recently promulgated South African legislation, followed allegations by police that they had discovered at Nazi headquarters documents said to prove the movement was militaristic and subversive to good order.

DIVER LOSES LIFE AT ONE DOLLAR—KEY BRIDGE BET

WASHINGTON, July 15 — (CNS)—Charles Toney, Israel Lee, and Robert Thomas of the 2200 block of President Avenue got into an argument about swimming and diving one day last week. Toney boasted he could jump off Key Bridge without getting hurt. Lee bet him a dollar he couldn't and Toney took him up.

Clad in a gaudy green bathing suit, Toney was driven to the George town end of the bridge by the other two. He got out of the car, kicked off his shoes and climbed up on the rail.

Lee became frightened and shouted to Toney not to make the jump. But Toney refused to heed the warning. "Clear the way," he shouted below.

He could hardly wait to finish his work and hurry home. When he burst into the house he put his arms about Mammy and said, "We're going to the show! You and me! I've got swell seats where you can see and hear everything. The Archangel gave varied farewell to his two companions and leaped.

 His body was received several feet into the water.
