HIS NOMINATION ASSURED

Harlan L. Mossman

JUDGING by the popular receptions received by Harlan L. Mossman, Democratic candidate for County Attorney at all meetings held for him at which he has been a speaker and current talk throughout the city, as well as popular sentiment amongst the Negro voters, Mr. Mossman will without a doubt be the Democratic nominee for County Attorney.

He is known to be fearless and uncontrolled by political cliques. Citizens may look forward to his nomination and election with a feeling of safety and security and a knowledge that under the laws of the state offenders shall be prosecuted and no one persecuted that understanding shall prevail and courteous treatment be the rule in his office.

Citizens, especially of our group can ill afford to pass up this opportunity to place a man such as Harlan L. Mossman in office. Past experience has shown the dire necessity of doing away with political manipulation in the county attorney's office. Douglas county has seen crimes of violence go unpunished, because of weak-kneed prosecution chargeable to politics. Like wise have persecutions of our citizens taken place chargeable to the same source. Mossman wears no man's collar and will give a square deal to all. Politics will be removed from the equation when Harlan L. Mossman assumes the duties of the County Attorney's office. Right and justice shall prevail regardless of race, creed or color.

Negro citizens will have two friends in the County attorney's office if Mossman is elected, Harlan L. Mossman and Dennis O'Brien, both tried and true friends.

We may make a lasting contribution to our county and state, insuring justice and fair play and at the same time place a friend of the Negroes in office by electing Harlan L. Mossman, County Attorney. A vote for Mossman is a vote for safety and security for us and for our children.

Remember HARLAN L. MOSSMAN, Democratic candidate for County Attorney. C. C. Galloway, Acting Editor of Omaha Guide.

Should A Paper Solicit Political Advertisements?

Should a newspaper solicit political advertisements? We the Omaha Guide say "No". It is pitiful but it is true. Few people are able to distinguish paid advertisement (even though when it is marked political advertisement) of an office seeker from an endorsement of a candidate by a newspaper. This is shameful to admit but our records of nine years of service in our community proves this to be true. We have been accused after election of indorsement of candidates for. In our opinion there are two laws the New Deal should put in American Statutes.

No. 1. Give the President the power to issue a proclamation declaring every election day a National holiday and penalizing the offenders for not adhering to the same.

No. 2. Congress should pass a law in the nature of some kind of taxation, forcing all American citizen of voting age to vote or pay the price for the mis-elected person. This taxation should be payable by voting on election day, or payable in cash after election day. If Congress can pass a law that will tell us how much corn we can plant, how many hogs we can raise, how much cotton to plow under, how many fish, & game we can catch and kill and when we can do it, and what we are to look at in the picture shows and hear over the radio—why in the name of God can't they pass a law to force corruption out of politics by forcing every American citizen of voting age, to perform the most sacred duty man kind is called upon to perform. If every American citizen had to vote on election day, men and women in the political world who contemplated on becoming office seekers would begin to make an acceptable record to the thinking voter at an early age. An money mad corporations, corruptible political gangs with their vote buying machine, would come to an end at once and for all ways. If a man or woman has got to do a thing they will become thinkers about that thing—they will talk it over by the fireside, on street corners, and every where people congregate. They will get everything they can get that will furnish them with the desired food for thought and America will become a thinking nation in terms of character-building and office seekers will begin to make in their records in early life for the thinking voters' consideration on election day. An political office seekers will not have to spend their first years earnings for newspaper advertisements and political card benders on election day for this will become an insult to American citizenship.

And political science will takes its rightful place in the Universities of our country. This we believe will make America the greatest nation on earth, not only in dollars and cents but from a humanitarian point of view. Let us hope that some Senator or Congressman will give this editorial serious consideration and introduce such bills when Congress convenes in 1935.

NEBRASKA'S OPPORTUNITY

The opportunity for any State to send statesmen to The United States Senate—comes seldom. Many men aspire for this most important office, however few are of the caliber necessary to give the office its just due and assume the Senatorial toga.

Nebraska now has an opportunity to send a young statesman to Washington. A man capable of assuming the burden of government now weighing heavily upon the shoulders of one of our nations greatest senators, Senator George W. Norris. Likewise Kenneth S. Wherry is a man with years of service ahead, who will hold the duties of his office as inviolate as our great statesman, George W. Norris.

This State will do well in nominating and electing Kenneth S. Wherry, candidate for United States Senator, a lover of justice, believer in fair play, a friend of the friendless, a champion of right and Statesman above reproach. Kenneth S. Wherry is the man of the hour.

The Battle Royal Is On for the Democratic Nomination for Congressman for the 2nd District

The battle royal is on for the Democratic nomination for Congress of the 2nd district, between the Omaha World Herald, Nebraska's largest metropolitan paper and the unorganized Omaha and Douglas County weekly newspapers. The Herald has taken as their candidate, Charles F. McLaughlin, and the Omaha Douglas County weeklies have taken for their candidate, H. H. Harper, the real author of the Federal Housing Bill which has become a law.

Wednesday A. M. the battle royal will come to an end and Omaha's future political office seekers will be able to settle once for all as to whether the World Herald is the power behind the throne or the Omaha and Douglas County weeklies are the power behind the throne.

It is to be wondered if the weeklies win the battle will H. H. Harper stand by the weeklies that nominated him or will he do as the average politician does—drop the maker and seek the enemies camp. If past political history means anything this will mean his defeat in the November election. If hard work and contact will win a campaign, it is said by many of Mr. Harper's friends, that he stands out paramount for the Democratic nomination for Congressman of the second district.

Mr. Harper has worked every section of the second district to a perfection and his collected disposition has made him many friends among strangers that did not know him before this campaign started. He has made his daily contact with all avenues of outlet for his campaign platform. Harper can't lose in this battle matters not what the results are on Tuesday's primary. His contact and new acquaintances will be worth the price he has paid in this campaign, for his future political battles. It is predicted that he has actually met and shaken the hands of 85 percent of the Negro registered Democratic voters; Mr. Harper wishes to express through the columns of the Omaha Guide, his appreciation for the way the Negro Democrats have received him in his campaign for Congressman for the Second district of Nebraska.

Watch for Tuesday's results as to who can put a candidate over, the weeklies or the daily.

Omaha Should Show Appreciation To Its Favorite Son—Reasons. Why—

He is clean-cut in his life and clear cut in what he stands for in state government.

He has the ambition of youth, plus the initiative and ability to do what he says he will do.

He has the courage of his convictions and knows how to say "yes" and how to say "no" and with equal emphasis.

In his platform he has told the voters without any "straddling of the fence",—

That he stands for business efficiency and economy in state government;

That he favors repeal of the state prohibition law so that already overburdened taxpayers will not have to carry an additional tax load by supporting a State army of prohibition agents;

That he will work for the preservation and advancement of our schools through revenue which this tax method would make available instead of curtailment of educational activities because property taxes cannot be collected;

That he favors complete reorganization of the state highway department by removing positions would have the controlling voice in what happens to their money;

That he wants to chase the "chiselers" out of the state highway department by removing this important department from politics.

That he stands for a minor sales tax to be a substitute tax in order to cut down the tax burden of the home-owner.

He has told exactly how he stands on all important state issue and what he may be expected to do if he is elected governor.

He is on his own in the campaign with no one back of the scenes pulling the strings.

He is honest.

He will bring virile, aggressive and efficient leadership to our State government.

He would bring a real Nebraska spirit of fighting loyalty to the governorship.

He is as common as an old shoe and all of his life has rubbed elbows with the people in the ordinary walks of life.

These are just a few of the reasons this newspaper aggressively urges its readers to vote for Theodore W. (Ted) Metcalfe for the Republican nomination for governor.

LESTER PALMER

The outstanding candidate in the primaries for County Attorney is Judge Lester Palmer. He has all ways been a Republican and deserves recognition from his Party and from the citizens of Douglas County, whom he has ably served for the past six years.

Performed His Duty

When Negroes Votes Not In Sight

The honorable George H. Henke, of Nebraska City, who is now serving his 12 years as County Attorney of Otoe County, took a stand, where Negroes were involved, for justice, when he had nothing to gain from the Negro voters in Otoe County, for there were only 37 Negro voters in the entire county. He was honest at heart, true to his profession, and has taken an oath to prosecute criminals, regardless of creed, race or color.

There was a Strike, Atr Trouble Started In Nebraska City Back In 1921

Five white men kidnapped James Estis, a Negro, after running him swim the Missouri River, and beat across the State line, forcing him to die. Mr. Heinke made an investigation, as results, five white men were found guilty by Otoe County's jury, and after much pressure was brought about for him to drop the prosecution, many people claiming there was not any harm done, just another Negro beaten up, and there was nothing for him to gain for prosecuting the Grand Jury indictment, but Mr. Heinke stood by his post, and his oath and obligations to enforce the law, regardless of who it struck, and he was successful in convicting the ring leader of the kidnapping group, Martin Mulaney, in the District Court in Otoe County on Dec. 18, 1921.

Mulaney was sentenced to the penitentiary, where he later died, while serving his term for the crime he committed.

Mr. Heinke is held in high esteem by both Negroes and white as County Attorney in Nebraska City of Otoe County. Mr. Heinke is a republican candidate for Attorney General of the State of Nebraska, in the primary Tuesday, August 14. He has practiced law for 26 years, he has in accord with this principle

Mr. Hodge Ellis, a Negro, and resident of Nebraska City, and Nebraska City citizens are asking Omaha and Douglas County to join in plating a man with a clean record, who will serve all of its citizens alike to help them in nominating George H. Heinke, who is a republican candidate for Attorney General in Tuesday's Aug. 14 primary election. been County Attorney for 12 years, he has successfully prosecuted more than 3,000 criminal cases to a credit to society. He has always regarded that citizens of all races, creed or color were entitled to the equal protection of the laws of our State, and

ONLY THREE OF A KIND IN THE RACE

Douglas County women voters will be privileged to vote on Tuesday, August 14, primary, for three of their own sex, namely: Maude E. Nuquist, aspiring for the Democrat nomination for Governor, Mable Gillespie for Congresswoman of the Second District and our own Grace Berger, for County Clerk for Douglas County.

Will the women of Douglas County prove their loyalty to their own on Tuesday, August 14 primary, or will the old adage prove to be true. It is commonly said by a great many men, women have no business in politics, they should stay home and take care of the children, and supervise their household duties, and the men also say, for proof of this, the majority of the women believe the same thing, and they prove it by not voting for a woman staying at home taking care of the children in their tender age, and then when they become the age of their usefulness for an American citizen, they are they are turned over to a money mad corrupt political slaughter pen, and in the twinkling of an eye, all of their home training proves to be of wasted energy.

If America is to have uncorrupted political influence, and the environment of our children's future is to be made safe, the women of America will have to step forward in the front rank to do the job, for as a public office holder, no concocted political scheme will ever get by the ear of a woman, or is there any money power strong enough to make a woman deny the opportunity of her children's future security.

On Tuesday, August 14, primary election day the women should prove to the State of Nebraska that the old adage is not true, and that they do believe in their own sex, lining up at the polls 100 per cent with their voting strength for Douglas County, for the three women office seekers, even though they do lose. It will prove to be of untold value in the future, for men office seekers will begin to clean house, and women of timid dispositions will be encouraged to take part in both political parties. This is with out a doubt, the only avenue of cleaning our political house of America.
