AUTUMN CHIC By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The new tweeds are simply stunning both as to color and novelty in texture and weave. The latest suit models styled of tweed have both a jacket and a long topcoat. Unless you have already proved it to your own satisfaction you have no idea how really useful and practical these three-piece suits are. The model pictured is in a very swaggy-looking brown, beige and red-checked tweed. The long mannish topcoat can be worn as a separate fall wrap. The square patch pockets on the jacket are distinctive.

ter, Mrs. Winston, who will be remembered in Omaha as Mrs. B. Majors, Mrs. Lily Balck, Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas, Mrs. Thomas will be remembered as Miss Aline Dentley, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kelley, Mr. Kelley is a Los Angeles Policeman, Mr. Roscoe Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jefferies Wilson, Mrs. Wilson is the sister of Mr. Henry Black of Omaha. She also met Mr. and Mrs. C. Duncan in San Francisco, who are the parents of Mrs. Pearl Hieronymous of Omaha. Mrs. Terrell spent some time also in San Francisco. The fact that a very mild earthquake was in Los Angeles while she was there didn't worry her because she states she didn't even feel it only knowing about it after it had happened.

"BUTCHER BOY BACK" IS MUCH IN FAVOR

Possibly you have never thought of your butcher as a very stylish person. Now we have Mainbocher's "the butcher boy back." It's a loose back gathered from a shallow shoulder yoke. The front of this jacket or tunic, whichever it happens to be, is belted. Belted front and unbelted backs are regarded with favor by all who have seen this new arrangement. It adds an extra fillip to the two-piece costume, which is, as you know, one of the season's latest pets. Since so many women find difficulty in wearing belts well, the partially belted idea is a life saver.

Tunics have a long way to go before they catch up to their reputation. We've been hearing about tunics consistently, but that's as far as one can truthfully say the idea has gone. With the two-piece idea, having the endorsement of the haute couture, there is every reason to see the tunic coming in vogue at last.

Collars This Fall to Be Worn Close to the Throat

Fall collars are something to watch. Most of them snug fairly close to the throat, big pilgrim collars, high roll collars and wide reveres all being seen. Sleeves on the straighter coats are often large at the top, while those on the looser, shorter designs generally, display fullness near the wrist. Belts are in again, since coats are lapping well in front, and many a late mid-season model is snugged about the figure by a narrow belt hardly an inch wide.

Hosiery Shades

Hosiery colors that will be most important for street wear this fall are dusky browns, taupe tones, smoke and gunmetal shades. For formal evening wear either skin tones or very dark shades in gossamer sheer will be worn.

ENGAGED

Friends have learned, through Omaha's whispering society, that Miss Katherine Williams, the daughter of the late Rev. John Albert Williams, and Mrs. Lucinda Williams, is engaged to Mr. Arnold Walker of St. Louis, Mo., a graduate from the University of Nebraska. Mr. Walker is now employed in welfare service in St. Louis, Mo. The wedding is said to take place some time between now and February.

Mrs. Willa Mae Backley of Chicago is visiting here with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Watts, of 2210 Clark St.

SURPRISED MARRIAGE

Miss Mildred Bronson of 2514 Decatur St., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bronson, surprised her parents and many friends by getting married Monday, Sept. 10.

Miss Bronson became the bride of Mr. Lawrence Martin, clerk in the Hayden Grocery Store, in Council Bluffs, Iowa., Monday afternoon, Sept. 10.

Miss Bronson is a former stenographer of the Omaha Guide.

Miss Melva McCaw is in Chicago visiting with Sherman Dudley of 6614 Indiana Ave. a cousin. Miss McCaw's stay will be indefinite.

Mrs. Erma Smith of Mobile, Ala., is here visiting with her mother, Mrs. Hester Wilson of 2236 Seward St.

ing with the vice president, Mamie McIntosh presiding. The presidents of each club present were: Sister Etrelia Waters of the Autumn Leaf Club; Sister B. Pearl of the Sewing Circle and Sister Milton of the Pastors Aid Club.

The meeting was well attended. The President Sister Addie Turner was absent, on account of attending the Baptist Convention in Oklahoma City. We all pray for her happy return. The meeting was opened with our regular devotion inviting the Holy Spirit in with us, and we had one very good high spirited meeting, which will never be forgotten. We drew out of our treasure, $10, from Sister Tripp Louis to be turned over to the church.

All of the clubs are working fine in love of one another. Visitors were sister Rev. Crowder, whom we helped in her club work, also Mrs. Bertie Artis of Lincoln.

TROJAN REPORT

Here we are again folks! The Trojan club season is open. The girls were all out Tuesday with gay spirits to start the club season out right. Mrs. Dorothy Pollard, the president was right on the job with her snappy ideas. We all believe that under her leadership the club will progress as usual.

The Trojans decided to open the club season with a Kid party very soon. So if you see overgrown little girls in short panty dresses with ribbons on their tresses, don't think they are candidates for well they're
