

AMONG THE Churches

CLAIR CHAPEL M. E.

22nd and Mth Streets, Rev. W. C. Conwell, pastor: The Sunday school opened at 9:30 a. m. with good attendance. The review by Dr. Jones, teacher of the Senior class, was quite interesting and well given. The 11 o'clock services were very well attended with a number of visitors present. The sermon was enjoyed by all.

The senior choir and some members of the junior choir sang Sunday night at the garage building on 29th and Douglas streets, with all the choirs of the Methodist churches of the city furnishing music. This revival is sponsored by the Methodist churches of the city with the Rev. Miss Uldine Utley, the evangelist, preaching each night. She also has some special meetings during the days and prayer services each evening at the meeting place at 7 p. m. and at private homes in the different communities as arranged by the prayer meeting committee as to the time and place. There will be special young people's meetings. The Clair Chapel choir will furnish special music on Monday night, October 22. Mr. Goosby and Mrs. Trimble were also present, serving on the Usher's committee.

The Epworth League discussion was quite interesting. We are anxious to get the League departments to functioning properly that we might arouse more interest in the League work.

The committees appointed by the pastor for the raising of funds for Arenal Budget, Word Service, and other departments of the church are putting on their different programs this week to get funds. Mrs. Alberta Jones will begin by having Rev. Hillson and his congregation over on Thursday night of this week and also the young people headed by Miss Verdie Winston have planned a Willowen party.

We always welcome visitors to our services and programs.

CHRIST TEMPLE

26th and Burdette Street, O. J. Burckhardt, pastor: J. W. Goodwin, assistant, Mrs. Edna Panky, reporter: Sunday was a real day with us at the Temple. The Sunday school as usual was brimful of interest also a fine attendance. In the absence of Superintendent Goodwin, Deacon Stafford, acted superintendent, and made a good substitute. The pastor preached night and morning. The choir gave us some real good music in which there were some additions. We especially refer to Brother Uncle Butler, the husband of our splendid little organist. They are learning some new songs and they are great. You should hear them sing.

We are expecting a good day Sunday and would be pleased to have you come and worship with us, if you

PILGRIM CHURCH

N. 25th and Hamilton Streets, Rev. James H. Dotson, pastor: Sunday was a beautiful day with a good number present at Sunday school. Fourteen of the workers in the Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. are attending the Leadership Training course at First Christian church. Fred Dixon, superintendent; Mildred B. Dotson, secretary.

Our pastor preached at the morning and evening services, two very splendid sermons. In the morning his subject was "The All Sufficient Christ." His text was II Cor. 12-13. The membership was surprised as well as shocked when Rev. Dotson offered his resignation during the morning service. Actions were taken in business meeting Monday evening.

B. Y. P. U. always interesting. Group No. 3 had charge of the program. Mr. Alva Baldwin made a good talk and Mrs. Ethel Goodie sang a solo. Mrs. Jane Johnson had charge.

METROPOLITAN SPIRITUAL

2410 Lake Street, Rev. R. W. Johnson, pastor: Mrs. Georgia Peoples, reporter: Sunday school opened at its usual time with a large number present. Sunday was a splendid day with us. The fire was burning all day. Rev. Johnson, preached from Psalms 51:10. "Create in me a Clean Heart." Service Sunday night was from St. Luke 20:17. "The Stone."

Daughter Carter, of Leavenworth, Kas., conducted a seven day revival for us. Everyone who has attended, are joyed the services. She is a wonderful speaker. She also had five of her co-workers. All visitors are welcome and make yourself at home.

Rev. Dotson Called To Musokgee

Rev. Jas. H. Dotson, one of the outstanding pastors, who has been with the Pilgrim Baptist church for the past five years, has been called to one of the best churches in the Baptist denomination, the Mt. Olivary Baptist church of Muskogee, Okla. Should the Reverend accept the call, he will be the third pastor called from our larger churches within a year. Rev. Dotson has meant much to the cause of religion both in the city and state.

Banquet to Honor Rev. P. J. Price of Pleasant Green Baptist Church

Monday evening, Oct. 15, at 8:30, a banquet in honor of Rev. P. J. Price was given at Pleasant Green Baptist church, of which he is the pastor. Rev. Price has just completed one year's work here, and we hope this next year will be just as great a success as the past one has been. The banquet was in charge of Mrs. May McIntosh, who is experienced in this line of work.

SALEM BAPTIST

The Salem Baptist Sunday School opened at 9:30 a. m. Supt. Reagan presided and reviewed the lesson. We had a fire drill, and from now on we will have one once each month.

At 11 o'clock our pastor, Rev. E. H. Hillson, brought to us a stirring sermon. His subject was "Thomas was Right." He proved that Thomas was right in wanting proof of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. He remarked that many of us haven't any evidence of our Christ.

The B. Y. P. U. opened at 5:30 with "President Coop" presiding. The Woman's group No. 2 rendered a wonderful program.

At 8 p. m. our pastor brought to us another powerful gospel message. His subject was "Hang Out Your Sign." The text was found in Joshua 3:15. He stated that if men claim to be Christians we were in a special drive to raise them to show some evidence, some money or repairs of our church. We raised $122.48 Sunday night. The drive will continue until next Sunday. Our church is increasing in attendance and, incidentally, in membership also.

BETHEL BAPTIST

Rev. F. S. Goodlett, pastor: 29th and T Streets, Sunday school was opened at the usual time 9:30, by superintendent, H. C. Garner. The attendance was normal. The lesson was interestingly discussed in all classes.

The morning's worship period began at 11 o'clock. We had as our guest speaker, Rev. L. F. Beatty, pastor of Ebenezer Baptist church, Atchison, Kas.

A wonderful message was derived from the passage of scripture, Exodus 33:13-14. He associated this subject with the above scripture, "Having the Presence of God." This message, seemingly, was enjoyed by everyone.

Visitors and friends are always welcome to worship with us at the Bethel Baptist church.

ST. JOHN'S A. M. E.

The new conference at St. John is getting off to a good start. As Rev. Brest is away on his vacation, Rev. McDonald preached last Sunday to a crowded house. He preached a great sermon in which there was much food for the hungry soul.

Rev. McDonald is the son of Rev. C. E. McDonald.

Members and friends are sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. H. L. Preston, director of St. John's choir. They wish for him a speedy recovery. Sunday school are still trying to build up the attendance. Will you do your bit to help them?

The members and friends of the church are wishing for the pastor and wife a very pleasant vacation.

Visitors are always welcome to St. John and invited to make it their church home while in Omaha.

days, and the operation costs for a month. Mr. C. Adams stated, the owner of Adams' Grocery, 1313 N. 26th St., is less than what his ice bill was for one week.

Glaser's Provision Co., cold meat and sausage, displayed their high quality products in this show case to prove the value of this electric fixture in preserving the flavor and appearance of food. Mr. Glaser was on the job with an attendant passing out many tasty samples of his famous meats. Thirty pound of chili were given away as samples by the Glaser Provisions Co. When in the market for this kind of food, please ask your grocer for Glaser's Quality Cold Meats Chili and Sausage.

The next booth was beautifully decorated and operated by Haskins Soap Co., makers of Blue Barrel Soap and many other household soaps, for hot laundry and bath. Mrs. Art McCaw was the demonstrator at this booth. There were ten valuable prizes consisting of cooking utensils high class silver; fine toilet and laundry soap given to the ten best guessers of the weight of the huge bar of soap there on display. When in need of soap, remember, Blue Barrel for your laundry, Trilby for the bath, and Spark, a washing powder for the kitchen and other household needs.

The next booth was very attractive, decorated with Thomsen's later Products. Many free samples of tasty mayonnaise dressing were given. Little Betty Mae James and Betty Mae Davis were part time attendants at his booth.

The next booth to display a lovely array of colors was the Harding Ice Cream Co. Mickey Mouse was on the job and that large assortment of Harding's beverages was displayed. Many pounds of butter and quarts of ice cream were given to the guests of the house each night. Mrs. Alice Galloy was the demonstrator in charge.

The next booth was occupied by Robert's Dairy with its famous vitamin D products. Many pamphlets were explaining why children like Robert's Milk and the value of Vitamin D to your teeth. Mrs. John Horton, Jr. had charge of this booth.

The next booth was occupied by the Paxton and Gallagher wholesale firm, our leading wholesale grocery and family supply house, the largest of its kind west of Chicago. Paxton and Gallagher demonstrated their famous Butter-Nut Coffee, known for its fine flavor all over the world. The booth served Butter-Nut Coffee with pure cream and cane sugar each night as a proof of the pudding. Many satisfied guests participated in sampling the well known Butter Nut Coffee. Many pounds of Butter Nut Coffee were given away each night at this booth.

The next booth was occupied by the Omar Flour Co., with Mrs. Alma Clark as demonstrator and attendant. Mrs. Clark explained the many qualities of the well known Omar Flour and also its breakfast cereal. This booth was well supplied with thousands of pounds of flour, all size sacks which were given away as samples and prizes to the attendants of this Food Show. Many Housewives were well acquainted with this family product. The Omar Flour Co. is a home owned institution, and when you patronize this establishment, you are giving employment to Omaha citizens. Ask your grocer for Omar Flour when you want good flour.

The Morton Salt Co., occupied the next booth with Mrs. Billie Crawford as demonstrator and attendant. The Morton Iodized Salt slogan is: "When it rains it pours." Mrs. Crawford explained why it pours better than ordinary salt and why it puts health and vigor in the every day life of children. She also explained why 100,000 physicians have accepted this as a means of preventing goiter. Many sample boxes of salt were given each night.

The next booth was the Grocery

Store, operated by Mr. Stanley. A this store many hundreds of dollar worth of groceries were displayed from the Hayden's Market, and the one who got the lucky number took the groceries or else. Mrs. Clarence Singleton, Young Friedlander, and Mrs. Geo. Watson held lucky numbers for one dollar baskets of groceries. Many other small prizes were awarded by Mr. Stanley and his assistant.

The following firms donated these articles: Herman's Grocery, basket of Fruit; Tuchman Bros., large basket of assorted canned goods; H. & M. Buffet, located at 24th and Exchange, through the courtesy of the Edelweiss Brewery, donated eight gallons of ice cold Edelweiss beer. The masculine element of Omaha seem to think the E. and M. needs no publicity as it is always full to capacity with satisfied customers.

Mr. Cleo Mortimer and Jesse Hardin are the promoters of the E. and M., Omaha's own.

A bouquet of flowers were presented by Ederer Florist, 30th and Bristol, a fifteen pound cake, Peterson Bakery Mr. Turner, the concrete man, was the winner of this cake. He is the husband of Mrs. Ellise Turner, who operates the Gro Gloss Beauty Shop, at 24th and Lake St.

Mrs. Marie Davis, wife of Attorney Charles F. Davis, had charge of the information window and acted as ticket saleslady.

Little Estelita Horton furnished the entertainment of the evening and drew the lucky numbers from the box. She did not have to be blindfolded because of her tender age. She entertained spectators by waving occasionally across the hall or by saying something sweet to her mother or to someone else she knew. She never seemed to tire during her entire performance. When she was going home she remarked to her grandmother, Mrs. Brannon, "I sure had a good time tonight."

The merits of the occupants of each booth and the value of their products were carefully gone into and explained by the spokesman of the evening, who awarded the prizes, Mr. M. L. Harris.

The Adams furnished the music for the occasion, and Mr. Raymond Gordon built the booths.

Remember the Omaha Guide Food Shows are different from the rest. Watch for our next show, it will be twice better.

FRANK L. FROST FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

Frank L. Frost's many friends are over Douglas County are exceedingly pleased with the splendid progress that is being made in his campaign for County Attorney. Many of his friends, both Republicans and Democrats alike, have volunteered to call on the people in their homes for the purpose of acquainting the voter with Mr. Frost's excellent all around qualifications and fine character and his friends report that they are being cordially and warmly received, and that the people have shown unusual interest in seeing Frank elected to the office of County Attorney.

The Hon. Judge Herbert S. Rhoades Says Race Horse Betting Is An Inter State Matter That Cannot Be Stopped By The Laws Of Our State

Another Constitutional Amendment that the citizens of Nebraska will be called upon to pass their judgment on November 6 at the polls, is the Race Horse Amendment. This issue deserves your serious consideration. In North Omaha we have four places of business operating according to the law, where women, children and men, by the lift of the hand or the scratch of a lead pencil, can and do spend hundreds of dollars every day on race horse betting. This money goes to California, Illinois, Louisiana, Arizona New York and many other states of America, when our own Ak Sar Ben field, a million dollar investment by our own citizens, and not for a cash consideration either, is going to wreck Omaha's enterprising business men built this field to encourage bigger and better business for our wholesale and retail firms. Shall we stop this flow of money in Omaha to the other states or shall we spend it with ourselves, thereby giving many idle men and women employment?

Negroes, as a rule, are a hard working group of people, and anything that will increase employment should not be winked at, but given serious thought. Not only will it give employment in Omaha and stop the flow of our money to other states, but it will also encourage our agricultural program. Many things can be worked out to an advantage in the Ak Sar Ben field if it is put on a paying basis. We are asking the readers of the Omaha Guide to give this Amendment due consideration for their own advantage.

was arraigned in police court Saturday, October 20, for shooting his gun on his front porch 'just to scare Sam ends that don't happen in thirty years, Remember well, and keep in mind A faithful friend is hard to find And when you find one that is true Forsake not the old one for the new.

I attended the Union meeting of the Church of God in Christ at 2712 R Street at 7:50 p. m., October 22. There were prayers and supplication for all souls everywhere. The opening scripture was found in Hosea, the entire fourth chapter. The testimonial service was led by Sister J. Caldwell. We truly praise God for the outpour of his precious spirit. The total offering was $18.13.

Mother Crockett came before us singing, "The Day of the Lord is at Hand." Truly she taught the words of God in its purity, taking the scripture lesson from Isaiah 11:10-13, Acts 13:18, 26, Galatians 1:4, 5. Again there was prayer for all.

Eld. Benson, Leader Hogg, the vegetable man, whom it is alleged he told to stay away from his premises. Davis stated to Prosecutor O'Brien, "I was high balled, that's all. I didn't try to shoot Sam. I just shot down to the ground to scare him."

When asked what he did with the gun, he claimed that he threw it away. Sam Hogg testified that he was in the neighborhood to collect some money due him. It seems that Sam and his two helpers got into or under the vegetable wagon when Davis fired his pistol. Mr. Hogg said he didn't have time to set his brakes. Mr. Davis was given thirty days.

Mr. C. F. Fields, of New York City, was a week end guest at the home of Mrs. Louise Strawther, 2220 Willis Ave. He is an assistant jewelry salesman enroute to Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Evelyn Handy, 2318 N. 22 St., who has been confined to her bed for two weeks, is convalescing now. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Woodrow Qualls, 1640 N. 21st St. was struck by the car driven by John Curtis, when he stepped from the curb on 24th and Harney Sts., to ask his friend, John Curtis, for a ride home. He was taken by Dr. Follman and then taken home by John Curtis. No arrests were made. The accident was reported by Officers Simpson and King.

Bertha Bradshaw, 1110 S. 13th St., it is alleged, threatened Mrs. Elvir Willis, 1201 Pacific St., several days ago with a gun, claiming that she had the gun for her protection and would shoot Mrs. Willis. Apparently, when Mrs. Willis returned home, Mrs. Bradshaw was sitting at a table playing cards with her men roomers; so Mrs. Elvira invited Mrs. Bertha out of her house and called the police. They were arraigned in police court, and the case was continued on account of a technical or material answer, which did not suit Prosecutor O'Brien. The case was continued until a later date.

Tommie Grant, 915 N. St., and Wesley Gibson, 1210 N. 24th St., had been drinking together when an argument over Gibson's common-law wife, Emma Mitchell Gibson, arose. Both men presented to him and when a fight ensued, Tommie received a stab wound and lacerations on the left cheek. When the officers arrived at 915 N. 25th St. they found Grant alone, badly cut and covered with blood. He was taken to Lord Lister Hospital by Officers Lickert and Hayes and attended by Dr. Jensen.

The officers arrested five persons at 1210 N. 24th St., namely: Alfred Schultz, Geo. Long, Ben Wolfscaler, Emma Mitchell-Gibson and Wesley Gibson. They were held for investigation.

Mary Hunter, 1120 N. 20th St., was arrested and charged with being drunk and was tried in police court Monday, October 22. She testified that she had been drinking but was at home. Prosecutor O'Brien said "Yes, but you were disturbing your neighbors." She said, "No sir, Judge, all the neighbors get drunk, too."

Then Mr. O'Brien asked how long it had been since she had been there. "One year. I got a good job, Judge, and I don't want to lose it. I get ten dollars a week, and please, Judge, I don't want to lose it." Then Judge Wheeler asked her if she could stay away another year. She said: "Yes, sir, Judge, two or three years."

The Judge said: "Don't let me see you here again in a year."

She was given a fifteen day suspended sentence.
