THOMPKINS CLOSES BIG "NEW DEAL DRIVE"

Seven Pro-Parker Senators Are Defeated

BROTHERHOOD OF SLEEPING CAR PORTERS

Brothhood Routes New Pullman Company Union Scheme

Upon the arrival of A. Phillip Randolph, National President of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters in Chicago from a six weeks organization campaign through the far west and middlewest, he pointed out that the new Company Union scheme known as the Pullman Porters and Maids Protective Association had been completely routed and practically annihilated in all the districts he and M. P. Webster, chairman of the General Executive Board Bonnie Smith second vice president and C. L. Delums, fourth vice president, had visited.

In desperation the Pullman Porters and Maids Protective Association, although every evidence is available to show that the Pullman Porters have paid very little money into it, has sent out some eight or nine thousand letters, a very expensive procedure, to Pullman Porters with bulletins, authorization cards and a constitution to line up the porters and maids, said Mr. Randolph. In many districts these letters were sent to the Pullman porter in care of the Superintendent which is a subtle form of intimidation, coercion and interference, a practice which is in conflict with the provisions of the Railway Labor Act as amended by the 73rd Congress continued Mr. Randolph.

Porters all over the country are up in revolt against the Pullman officials, including the Superintendents and their assistants in the various districts, being used to promote the fortunes of the Pullman Porters and Maids Protective Association, a company Union organization, which like a mushroom has come up overnight and is unfit to represent the Pullman porters and maids because of lack of knowledge, courage, responsibility and independence, continued the porters' leader, Mr. Randolph.

Inquiries are coming thick and fast as to where this new organization is getting its money from to send out a printed constitution of many pages, an authorization card and a large envelope to nine thousand men. The comment is that the Pullman porters have not put up the money because they didn't have it to put up, which is another powerful reason why this new move known as the Pullman Porters and Maids Protective Association is the voice of Jacob but the hand of Esau, observed Mr. Randolph.

But, Randolph continued, this new organization is falling before the aggressive and militant drive of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and its aroused, intelligent and spirited membership, like a house of cards. Realizing the great struggle, sacrifice and sufferings the porters have endured to build the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, which was responsible for the Pullman porters securing the recognized status of railroad workers, which makes them subject to the jurisdiction of all legislation affecting railroad workers, the bonafide union porters of the Brotherhood are bitter and resentful against any stool pigeon organization which attempts to serve the Pullman Company by trying to stop the onward, steady, rapid, constructive and irresistible march of the Brotherhood toward certain victory concluded Mr. Randolph.

WORDS OF APPRECIATION

WILLIAM (BILL) GREEN Your County Surveyor, Elect

I cannot find words to express my heartfelt thanks to the Omaha Guide and the colored citizens for the loyal support they gave me in the primary and general election. It was my record that was put before them by the Omaha Guide and my friends as a past public-spirited citizen that gained the confidence of this group of loyal citizens.

I take these means to thank one and all and especially Mr. John Woods and Mr. E. Ward for their personal support in the north end. I will assure you that the confidence placed in me will not be misrepresented. I am hoping for a closer relationship between all. Again I thank you.

WILLIAM (BILL) GREEN Your County Surveyor, Elect.

NEW COAL ENTERPRISE OPENED IN NORTH OMAHA

Mr. George Anderson, 2111 Grant Street, has just opened a coal yard at 2125 N. 24th Street. Mr. Anderson has been a citizen of Omaha for the past thirty-five years. He is noted for his honesty and square dealing, is dependable and his prices are reasonable.

Mr. Anderson has purchased a six-ton truck in order to save the middle man's commission. He will buy his coal and do his own hauling, direct from the mines to his coal yard.

Mr. Anderson will welcome an order from a bushel basket to ten tons. His service is courteous and prompt. The coal business is nothing new to George Anderson. Twelve years ago he owned and operated a transfer company and was also in the coal business. He gave up his business to go west with his father. They homesteaded on two sections, 640 acres each, in Wyoming, where they remained until their homestead claims were proved up on.

While in Wyoming, Mr. Anderson took up tanning. He is a finished tanner and furrier. He will be glad to make over any old fur coats or to make you a new one to your order.

After he had proved up on his homestead claim, Mr. Anderson returned to Omaha and was employed by the Missouri Pacific Company, until about four years and a half ago, when he had to leave his job because of poor health. He was a loyal member of the M. P. Booster Club for a number of years.

Give Mr. Anderson a big hand and order your coal and fur coats from him. He deserves your support. He is one of North Omaha's own.

Attends Colorado University

Mr. Leroy Robbins, formerly of Omaha, and a student of Creighton University is now studying medicine at the University of Colorado at Boulder, Colo.

DR. THOMPKINS SPEAKS AT END OF VOTE RALLY

Negro Democratic Leader Helps Close Successful Campaign

Dr. Wm. J. Thompkins, Recorder of Deeds, Washington, D. C., arrived in Omaha, November 5, to address the closing democratic drive for the North Side Democratic Club Executive committee. Dr. Thompkins was accompanied from St. Louis by Dr. G. B. Lennox and wife. He arrived at the Union Station at 2:30 p. m. and was met by representative Johnny Owen and Mr. Harry Leland who had extended an invitation to him to visit Omaha. After a conference at the Democratic headquarters with members of the executive committee and Mr. C. C. Galloway, chairman of the executive committee, he retired for the afternoon.

The meeting opened with a packed house at 8:30 at the Elk's Building, with Mr. C. C. Galloway, chairman of the meeting, Attorney William H. Wright, candidate for Attorney General on the Democratic ticket was introduced by the master of ceremonies for the first address of the evening. Mr. Wright made a very forceful appeal for the entire ticket. Mr. Wright is the son of Judge Fred Wright who resides in Omaha. Following Mr. Wright's address an appeal was made by a representative of Organized Labor in the interest of the Honorable Roy L. Cochran, candidate for governor. Mr. James P. Hootor was introduced by the chairman and he made a brief address as to his fitness for the office of County Clerk for which he was a candidate. Attorney Francis P. Matthew, chairman of the Douglas County Democratic Central committee made a forceful appeal in the interest of the election of Mr. Johnny Owen. Dr. Thompkins answered Congress man Oscar DePriest four questions speech that was made at the St. John A. M. E. Church in the interest of Robert G. Simmons. He also spoke in the interest of the Senator elect E. R. Burke and representative Johnny Owen. Dr. Thompkins asked the audience to ask Congress men Oscar DePriest four questions which were as follows: Where was Congressman Oscar DePriest when the Republican party was demoralizing the pride of the American Negroes, when they made boot blacks out of the Ninth and Tenth Cavalry and the 24th and 25th Infantry.

Dr. Thompkins asked the audience where was Mr. DePriest when the Republican party refused to give the Negro Gold Star War Mothers the same accommodation on the trip to view the graves of their fallen sons who was in the World War, in France as they gave the White Gold Star Mothers. Dr. Thompkins asked where was Mr. DePriest when the Republican party was trying to seat Judge Parker of South Carolina on the United States Supreme Court bench for life. Where was Oscar DePriest when the lily white republican party on the south kicked out Mr. Perry Howard and Mrs. Mary Booze, the Negro National committee woman and committeewoman of Misses Ippit. He stated that Oscar DePriest was not only a representative of all Negroes of America, that he had the opportunity to become one of the greatest Negroes of the world if he had taken a stand against the disgraceful things which were perpetrated against the interest of the American Negro.

Dr. Thompkins said if DePriest had looked out after the interest and the welfare of Black America, he would have been America's outstanding citizen today. Instead of raising a fog about American Citizens being passion and prejudice on the part of white voters in the first, second and seventh precincts in supporting one Dan Phillips for legislature and also ran against Johnny Owen and John Adams, Jr., its shows a break from traditional republicanism and an intelligent response to a constructive program. Last but not least it shows that the Negro voter has ousted the political panhandlers and self appointed leaders and is fighting for justice and right shoulder to shoulder with all creeds and races of fair minded men and women and that white politicians can no longer pick Negro Leadership for the Negro, but that the Negro reserves that right to himself.

HOW THEY RAN

The chart below tells a multitude of stories, speaking for itself in unmistakable language. It tells a story of the unqualified endorsement of the Hon. Franklin Delano Roosevelt and the New Deal; in the election of county officers it shows a demand for representation in employment in proportion to our voting strength; it shows low intellect and response to

NEGRO VOTERS REMEMBER FOES AT POLLS

Long Memory of Negro Voters Instrumental In Defeat of Seven Senators

NEW YORK.—Seven of the nine remaining northern pro Parker senators went down to defeat in the recent election. According to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which led the fight against the confirmation of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina for associate justice of the United States Supreme Court in 1930 and has since fought reelection of the senators who voted for his confirmation, their defeat is largely attributable to the long memory of Negro voters.

The senators defeated for reelection on November 6 were: Fess of Ohio, Hatfield of West Virginia, Herbert of Rhode Island, Kean of New Jersey, Patterson of Missouri, Reed of Pennsylvania, Walcott of Connecticut, all Republicans and all in states where there is an appreciable Negro electorate. In each instance, according to the Association, strenuous efforts were made to corral the Negro vote, especially in the cases of Senators Fess, Hatfield, Patterson, Reed, Kean and Walcott. Negro politicians sought vainly to swing the colored vote to them. Senator Kean's Negro campaign managers even used the name of the N. A. A. C. P. without authority on a leaflet and were forced to withdraw it after complaint by the national office of the association.

When Judge Parker's name was sent to the Senate by President Hoover early in 1930, the N. A. A. C. P. dug up his record and discovered that in 1920 when seeking the Republican nomination for governor of North Carolina he expressed the views that:

- (a) He believed in the disfranchisement of Negroes.
(b) That Negroes did not wish to enter politics.
(c) That the Republican Party in North Carolina did not wish Negroes to vote.
(d) That Negro participation in politics is a source of evil and danger.

When the marchers reached the doors of the City Hall, the police refused admittance to the delegates. Police Club Members The crowd demanded to enter, but the policemen viciously swung their clubs. Ten people were injured, including Miss Maude White, militant woman trade union leader.

In spite of the police clubbing, the delegates forced their way into the building. They were barred from the Council meeting and were rushed in City Welfare Committee was in session. Miss White demanded the floor and denounced the Jim Crow practices against the Negro people of Cleveland.
