(For Literary Service Bureau)
Man In Love With Two Women, 18 and 29—Younger Woman 'Puts To Rest The Band'—Older Woman Modest—Doubts Integrity of Younger Woman.

(For Advice, write to Maxie Miller, care of Literary Service Bureau, 516 Minnesota Ave., Kansas City, Kas. For personal reply send self-addressed, stamped envelope).

Maxie Miller: I'm a man 28 in love with two women, one is 18 and the other my own age. The one my age is quiet and modest and I admire her. The other one is free and jolly. She will kiss me, put her arms around me, and she can get to hest the band. When I'm with her I'm crazy about her, but when I get away, I'm afraid to trust her. I think the older woman will make a better wife. What do you think?—Doubtful Dan.
Doubtful Dan: You ought to know that this younger woman simply wakes your passion by her nearness and her freeness. She may love you or she may be just giving vent to the animal thing in her. I agree with you that the older woman who is modest will make a better wife. Finally, if you doubt this girl and fear to trust her, you'd better let her alone, because there can be no happiness where there is no full faith.—Maxie Miller.

NEGRO ROBBED AGAIN

BY ELIZABETH LAWSON

The Communist Party and the League of Struggle for Negro Rights said right from the beginning that the NRA was set up for the interests of the employers and against the interests of the workers, especially the black workers. And that's a real service the enemy is you know where to place your punches. The misleaders—the A. F. of L. officials, the heads of the Urban League of the N. A. A. C. P. have tried to pull the wool over our eyes and to keep us believing that the government means well, but the employers here and there just will chisel. It's getting pretty plain that that's so much baloney, no matter how the misleaders may slice it for us.

Here's Plain Speaking

Listen to this from Robert Minor, member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party and one of the vice presidents of the League of Struggle for Negro Rights. The NRA had "open hearings," where everybody was supposed to work off steam and then let the same go on as before. The NRA thought that would save them something they weren't looking for. He didn't just mention a few more spots, he showed up the NRA in all its rottenness. He didn't mince any words about the meaning of the new deal. Here's what he said:

"The NRA shows by all its actions that it is a measure of the government and of the employing class, conserving the interests of the employing class and striving above all things to prevent encroachments of labor against capital."
Then Minor went on to say: "The worst sufferers of all the unemployed are the Negro workers. The NRA offers to them no relief, but the most callous discrimination and deprivation of even that pittance which the white workers get here and there from some recovery project."

They Never Answered This
And then Minor threw another bombshell by challenging the NRA to take the Blue Eagle away from those businesses that discriminate against Negroes.

FERA INSISTS ON NEGRO TEACHERS FOR RACE IN THE SOUTHLAND

(Special to The Omaha Guide)

That Negroes be given a fair share of the emergency education funds was included in a memorandum sent State Relief Administrators and State School officers this week by Aubrey Williams, Assistant Federal Emergency Relief Administrator, according to Dr. Ambrose Caliver, Specialist in Educational Relief for Negroes.

This memorandum is another evidence of the continued desire of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration to have Negroes share fairly in the benefits of the emergency relief program. It states that the attention of the Administration had been directed to the fact that in several areas and States, funds of unemployment relief have not been allotted to educational projects in such a way as to give employment to Negroes in proportion to their probable needs.

Accordingly, the statement continues, the State administrators are responsible school officers are expected to distribute employment paid out of FERA relief funds on a basis of needs with complete equity among the groups concerned.

Attention is also called to the practice in certain Southern communities of employing white teachers to teach Negro students in the emergency education projects. On this point the memorandum was direct and specific. "Negro teachers should always be employed to teach Negro pupils and Negro adults, in States maintaining segregated school programs for the two races."

The memorandum follows in full: To State Relief Administrators and State Chief School Officers:

"The attention of this Administration has been directed to certain facts showing that in several areas and States, funds for unemployment relief have not been allotted to projects such as repairs of school buildings, organization of classes under the emergency educational program and the extension of school terms in such a way as to give employment to Negroes in proportion to their probable needs.

"The purpose of the Relief Administration is to give employment to those in need and to rehabilitate the human resources of the Nation. Accordingly, the State administrators and responsible school officers are expected to distribute employment paid for out of relief funds on a basis of needs with complete equity among the groups concerned.

"Since, in proportion to population, unemployment among Negroes is equal to, if not even greater than, unemployment among other groups, for Negroes are notably inadequate, equity demands that educational relief to Negroes be at least at the level of their percentage of the population in each State.

"Since a chief purpose of the emergency education program is to give employment to qualified teachers and since unemployment among educated Negroes is especially acute, Negro teachers should always be employed to teach Negro pupils and Negro adults, in States maintaining segregated school programs for the two races.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) AUBREY WILLIAMS,
Assistant Administrator, Federal Emergency Relief Administration.

LYNCHERS OF CLAUDE NEAL STILL AT LARGE

NEW YORK.—(CNA)—The governments of the states of Florida and Alabama and the local authorities involved, have lifted no finger to apprehend the members of the mob that lynched Claude Neal, 23 year old Negro, in the most brutal manner in Marianna, Fla., on October 27.

"There is no basis for federal intervention," was the statement of Attorney General Cummings in answer to demands that the federal government prosecute the lynchers under the "Lindbergh Law," which provides the death penalty for interstate kidnapers. The fact that Neal was kidnapped across the state line to Florida, is sufficient basis for federal action.

Whitewashes Sheriff
Meanwhile, Governor Dave Schlotz of Florida has absolved Sheriff W. F. Chambliss for his part in the lynching.

In answer to the thousands of organizations and individuals protesting the lynchings, the governor mimeographed a statement and sent it out for distribution. In this statement, he assumes the guilt of Neal on the rape charge, although Neal had not yet been tried. He also states that the lynching was quite "unnecessary," as his state has an excellent record for legal lynchings and would have taken the Negro's life by respectable court room methods. Excerpts from the statement of Governor Schlotz follow:

"...there was nothing that could have been done by me as Governor to prevent the lynching of this Negro after the matter was called to my attention. It was not a case of calling out the militia to protect the jail or a prisoner in custody of an officer. The Negro was held in the hands of a mob out in the woods in a location unknown to the authorities where he was killed.

"This lynching was not only deplorable but so absolutely unnecessary in this state where under the present administration crimes of this character are so speedily and summarily dealt with. As an example,

A NEGRO POSTAL CHIEF IN THE U. S. S. R.

BY THYRA J. EDWARDS
MOSCOW. — (FP)—Negroes may be seen in various walks of life in the Soviet Union in factories, on the streets, at the theater and museums.

In the Commissariat of Posts and Telegraph in Moscow, is Homer Smith, slender, dark brown Negro, from Minneapolis. He graduated from the University of Minnesota School of Journalism. Finding no opportunity, he became a Minneapolis post office clerk, but since there is no opportunity for a Negro to advance in the U. S. Postal service, Smith applied to the Soviet Commissariat of Posts and Telegraphs, which made him postoffice consulat and inspector.

He was placed in charge of reorganizing the postal system. During his first year an interpreter traveled with him. Now, two years later, he knows Russian and travels alone. He is reported to hold the highest government post of any foreigner in the Soviet Union.

Enthusiastic About Soviet
In his official capacity, Smith travels into the remotest republics of the Soviet Union. He feels warm enthusiasm for the Soviet program of self-determination of national minorities. "Theaters, opera, schools, factories, model houses going up in the remotest areas, so that every nationality and every individual in the Soviet will have at his door absolute equality of opportunity!" he exclaims. "Fancy such a program for the Negro people in America, every last man of them!"

Like Negro in America
Before the revolution, a parallel existed between the status of the minorities in Russia and the Negro in America, Smith states. These groups under the Czar were jim-crowed on street cars and in public places, inter marriage was prohibited, discriminatory wages persisted and there was almost absolute illiteracy. But now he finds that equality of opportunity is universal in the Soviet Union.

the Negro Doc Williams who committed a similar crime in Dade County on August 24. Last was arrested on September 5, convicted on September 28, the death warrant signed by the Governor on October 2, and he was executed on October 8. Thus in perfectly orderly and legal manner and with credit to the state this man paid the penalty of his crime in 30 days after he was apprehended and only 45 days after the crime was committed. There is absolutely no excuse for mob law in a state which deals so promptly with criminals of this character."

Governor B. M. Miller of Alabama ordered the grand jury to wait until November 19 before beginning an investigation into the lynching of Neal, following his delivery to the mob by the sheriff and jailer of Brewton, Ala.

Pullman Porters Seek Conference With Pullman Management Through Union

The following letter was sent to the Pullman Company today by A. Phillip Randolph, National President of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters:

November 13, 1934.
Mr. D. A. Crawford, President, The Pullman Company, an Illinois Corporation, 79 E. Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Sir:
In accordance and compliance with the provisions of the Railway Labor Act, as amended by the 73rd Congress, I, as the duly elected and authorized representative of the Pullman porters and maids now in the employ of the Pullman Company, thru the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, which embraces over fifty one (51 per cent) of this class of employees, wish herewith to request a conference with the representatives of the management of the Pullman Company, for the purpose of making and main taining an agreement, concerning rates of pay and rules governing working conditions.

A reply at your earliest convenience would be greatly appreciated. Please address reply in care of Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, 4231 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Yours truly,
(Signed) A. Phillip Randolph, National President, Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters."

This request for a conference follows the successful enrollment of over 51 per cent of the porters and maids in the employ of the Pullman Company by the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

The Pullman Porters Union was formed in 1920 in New York City by a small group of Pullman Porters and its long fight of nine years has been directed to the end of securing its recognition as the lawful agency to make and maintain agreements. It has also sought a definite living wage and shorter work months.

The Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters with other railroad unions brought about the passage of the amendment to the Railway Labor Act, which abolishes Company Union and yellow dog contracts in railroads and leaves a clear field for the bona fide trade unions in collective bargaining for these groups of employees, states President Randolph.

ARRESTED FOR PICKETING FOR JOBS

NEW YORK.—(CNA)—For picketing, the Kresge five-and-ten-cent store at Nostrand and Fulton avenues, Brooklyn, for equal jobs for Negroes, Sidney Spencer, young working-class leader, and Diana Winters (white), were sentenced to 10 days in jail on November 1, in the Snyder Avenue court.

White and Negro salesgirls, under the leadership of the Young Liberals, youth section of the League of Struggle for Negro Rights, have picketed the store for three weeks, demanding that Kresge hire Negro salesgirls without firing any of the present employees.

The picketing organizations are continuing the fight and calling for mass violation of the recent vicious decision by Justice Samuel Rosensweig against picketing for jobs for Negroes.

DEMONSTRATE AGAINST PASS LAWS IN SOUTH AFRICA

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa.—(CNA)—One thousand Negro and white workers massed before the pass hall here on October 2, to demonstrate against the whole humiliating system of pass-laws, imposed on the native population by the British government.

Following a mass meeting, a procession marched to the pass office. The crowd carried banners with the following inscriptions, in English and in the native tongue: "To hell with pass laws! Mash those dog licenses! Makers of the world unite!" The meeting closed with a decision to call for an anti-pass campaign throughout South Africa.

The pass laws require the natives to carry documents whenever they are out late on the streets, when they have to visit another town in short, whenever they move more than a few yards from their master's eye. Any native found on the streets late, are picked up away from home, without a special pass that his employer must give him for this purpose, is liable to arrest.

The natives of South Africa are required to carry with them the following twelve badges of slavery: (1) identification pass; (2) traveling pass; (3) six day special pass; (4) monthly pass; (5) daily laborer's pass; (6) day special pass; (7) night special pass; (8) trek pass; (9) location visitors' permit pass; (10) lodgers' permit, (11) poll tax receipt pass and (12) exemption pass.

Recently the government granted special exemptions to a few native hangers on of British imperialism. These men are known as "goody-goody boys," a term which has the same significance as "Uncle Tom" in America.
In 1930, thousands of natives throughout South Africa publicly burned their passes as a demonstration against the pass law system.

KLAN VISITS COMMUNIST CANDIDATE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(CNA)—Norman England, Communist candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, Alabama, in the recent elections received a visit from members of the Ku Klux Klan at his home here, on November 1. The Klansmen warned him that he had "better keep away from that stuff," England, however, stood his ground, refusing to be terrorized.
