HEALTH, BEAUTY AND CHARM

Keep Young and Beautiful—If You Want To Be Loved.

FACIALS FROM TEEN AGE TO THE MATRON

Group 2, Young Women from 20 to 30 Years.

ARTICLE IV

Women from 20 to 30 generally play much too hard, work too hard, take things too seriously, or in other words begin to realize they have emotions and ambitions and give vent to them. They do not seem to want to relax or rest. Therefore relaxation is the main purpose of facial treatments for women between these years.

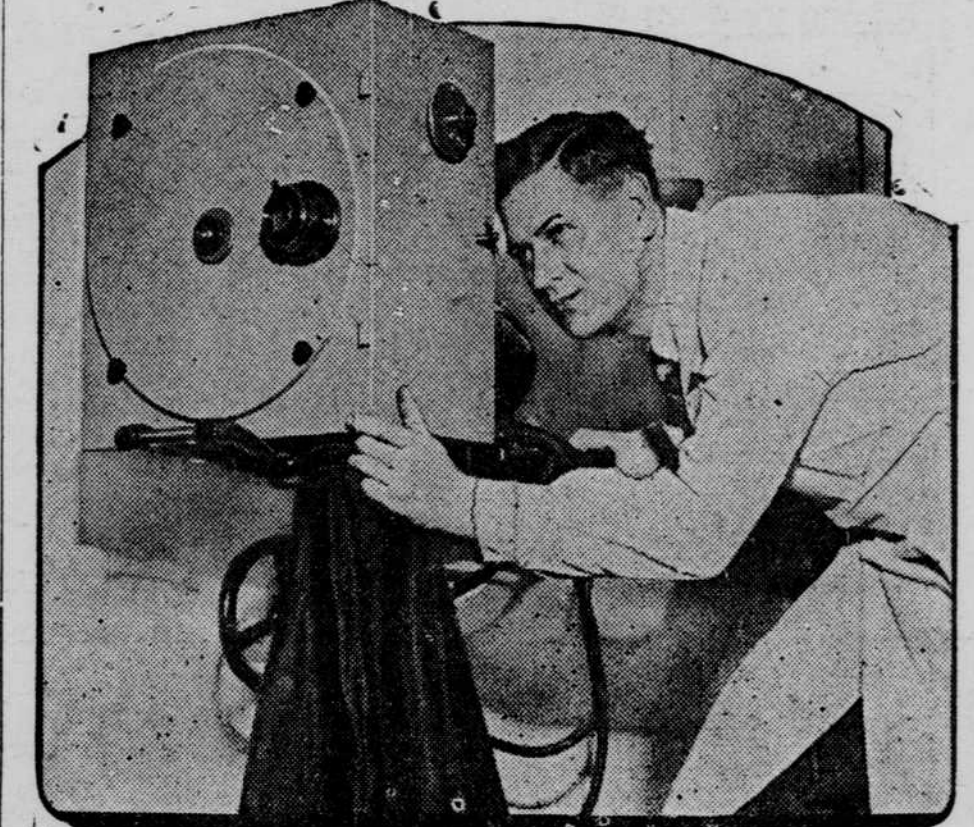

In women of this group, we watch for dark circles around the eyes, drawn appearance around the mouth, the result of fatigue. With the cushion of the third finger the lines around the mouth are given a vibratory massage. The number of times depend upon the depths of the lines. Of course a special lubricating cream is used for this treatment.

To relieve tension and relax the eyes we massage the eyes beginning in the corner working over the eye and down, then back to the corner. Then with the tips of the fingers starting at the bridge a rotary movement and then a stroking is worked out to the temples. Such movements as these are extremely soothing and it is possible to feel the patron actually relaxing while they are being given.

This completes the movements for the facial, but the patron is not ready for the finishing touch until she has had from ten to fifteen minutes rest period. This step is not given to the teen age girl because she is too peppy to be given a forced rest. After the rest period the patron is now ready for the removal of the preparation, an astrigent is put on, then the make up. When a woman from 20 to 30 and is very active she should have one of these facials every ten days or two weeks.

Makes 80,000 Exposures a Second

DEVELOPED by a German electrical company, the camera shown above is capable of 80,000 exposures a second. Operations of the shortest duration, such as the oscillation of springs, valve motion of combustion engines, light processes of fuses and switches, and other movements which the human eye is incapable of seeing, can be clearly photographed. The reel runs with such rapidity that it is impossible to wind the exposed film which, therefore, is caught in a black bag attached to the camera and wound after developing.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY FOR WEEK END GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Trago McWilliams, Jr., of Lincoln, Nebraska, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lovejoy Crawford over the week end and were entertained with a progressive party, which began with Bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dillard Crawford, a Mid-night supper at the Midway followed with dancing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Waites. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Z. E. McGee, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCaw, Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. (Billy) Davis and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. James.

The McWilliams left Sunday night with Mr. Lovejoy Crawford and Attorney John Adams, Jr., for Lincoln after a most enjoyable week-end.
