M. M. C.—Kindly inform me if I should remain where I am for the summer or what is the best step for me to take?

Ans.—It would please your mother in NEW YORK CITY if you would leave your present location and make your home with her. You won't have as much difficulty in securing a job in New York as you will in your home town and this change would benefit you financially.

E. J.—I went with a girl for two years and now she won't even let me come to see her or even see me. Please tell me how I can win her back?

Ans.—You may as well get this idea out of your head for this girl has never cared anything about you. You knew that she was MARRIED and now that she has succeeded in getting what she wanted out of you she is through. You must learn not to be so generous with your pay check or you will experience another incident like this one.

A. B. W.—I have tried for a whole year to get back on my old job but I haven't had any success. Tell me please if I will ever get this job?

Ans.—No, you won't get your job with the COTTON MILL. You will receive a good paying job in a private home before May. A close friend of yours will prove very instrumental in your securing this job and your duties won't be as hard as your work in the mill.

F. E. M.—Please tell me where is M. R. G.?

Ans.—This party is in Chicago, Illinois, and is the proprietor of a very modernistic FRENCH BEAUTY SALON. You will receive direct information from this party and will see him personally during this year of 1935.

A. J. P.—I am ill and can't get well and I want to know if my condition will improve?

Ans.—Your condition is not as serious as you are inclined to believe that it is and a change of climates will bring about a recovery. Arrange to take a trip to Florida and spend the balance of the winter there and by summer you will be well again.

M. M. W.—I would like to know if my boy friend loves me and will he take the job that he has in mind?

Ans.—Yes, your boy friend loves you. If you will explain to him the condition that you are in he will not take the job on THE BOAT but will remain with you, and also MARRY YOU. He is a little backward and needs you to encourage him a bit.

N. B. L.—Will I be able to stop my husband from this dangerous woman?

Ans.—Not by the method that you are using now. As long as you nag at him about his association with this party it will only encourage him along. Ignore the whole affair and give him a dose of his own medicine and he will soon realize that he is only making a laughing stock of himself.

R. L.—I want to know if I will be able to pay for my home?

Ans.—You will have some difficulty from time to time but through the help of your CHILDREN you will pay for the home within the next six years. It seems to me that your oldest child will pay the majority of the notes on your home.

M. V. M.—Someone told me that a lady was planning to hurt my little daughter and I am worried about it. Tell me the details please?

Ans.—This is a mistake for no one is planning to cause your little ten year old child any trouble. It is true that she had a misunderstanding with a child in your neighborhood and the mother of the other child was upset a bit over it but she won't hurt your baby.

G. S.—I want to know if the man that I am considering myself going with does he love me?

Ans.—I am afraid not—and it will be to your advantage if you did not take this person seriously for he has failed to tell you the whole details about himself. If you desire you may send a quarter for my New Astrology Reading. See foot note at the base of the column.

F. D. S.—I am trying to locate a friend of mine that I have not seen for several years. Can you please help me?

Ans.—It seems to me that you will meet this girl friend of yours in a CHURCH when you visit the city of WASHINGTON, D. C. She is very interested in Church work and would love to join you in your home town. You two will be lifetime friends.

R. I. M.—Will my brother receive any money and what will be the outcome?

Ans.—Yes, he will receive a sum of money from an INSURANCE COMPANY but I don't believe the amount will be as much as he expects. It appears to me that he will get over the accident that he was in but it will take some time for a complete recovery.

I. W. W.—Is it true the story that has been circulating around about my husband?

Ans.—Indeed not—your husband has not been running around with another woman. You two have been very happily married for TWENTY-SIX YEARS and he is not going to start stepping out on you at this late day. The person that brought you this story is jealous of your happy home.

MAJORITY OF UNMARRIED NEGRO MOTHERS UNDER 25, WELFARE REPORT SHOWS

Summary Gives Figures Dealing With Typical Year In Gotham.

More Than 60 Per Cent Never Passed Eighth Grade In School.

Dealing with unmarried mothers, a summary based on a study made by Dr. Ruth Reed for the Research Bureau of the Welfare Council of New York City is now being distributed by the Columbia University Press. The summary gives data for a typical year concerning the age, occupation, education and length of residence in New York City for all unmarried mothers regarding whom such information was on record.

Much of the report presents the cases of Negro mothers without benefit of clergy, revealing that 90 per cent of Negro women in this class are less than 25 years of age; 75 per cent are domestic servants; more than 60 per cent have never gone beyond the eighth grade, and 80 per cent are legal residents of New York.

In comparison with white unmarried mothers, Negro women of that class are more numerous in the lower age groups than the former classification. Only 79 per cent of white unmarried mothers are less than 25 years of age, as against the 90 per cent of the Negro women. A comparative tabulation of figures on Negro and white percentages follows:

	Negro	White
Under 16	9	3 1/2
16-19	49	43
20-24	31 1/2	33

General percentages of the other age groups were: 25 through 29, slightly more than 12 per cent; 30 through 34, slightly more than 4 per cent; 35 through 39, 1 1/2 per cent, and over 40 years of age, 0.4 per cent. In the group under 16 there was one unmarried mother of 11 years of age and, in 1930, the year chosen for study another unmarried mother of 14 gave birth to her second child.

Slightly more than one-half—

52 per cent—of the unmarried mothers for whom information in regard to employment was available were domestic servants.

The significance of this figure will be realized, Dr. Reed writes, "if it is recalled that of all gainfully employed females in New York City in 1930 only 18 1/2 per cent were engaged in domestic service. As might have been expected, a much higher percentage of Negro than of white unmarried mothers were engaged in domestic service."

Of the Negro unmarried mothers, 75 per cent were domestic servants, and of the white, 44 per cent. Foreign born whites with 71 per cent in domestic service were more than double the percentage—33 per cent—of native-born whites in domestic service.

Clerical and factory workers formed the next largest groups of unmarried mothers; 18 per cent were clerical workers, and 16 per cent were factory workers. For the other occupational groups the percentage were: attending schools, slightly more than 7 per cent; professional workers, 5 per cent, and engaged in miscellaneous occupations almost two per cent.

More than 60 per cent of the unmarried mothers whose educational background was recorded had never gone beyond the eighth grade.

Dr. Reed writes: "Contrary to a belief, prevalent among some social agencies, that unmarried mothers now come largely from the 'better educated' classes, it is found that not only a little over 10 per cent of the group for which data are available had any training beyond high school. A comparison of the educational attainments and the occupational status of these women reveals that about the same actual number had higher education as were reported to be following professional occupations; the number of those in clerical occupations is about like the number who had gone to high school. Whatever the educational attainment of those not reported, it seems that a high proportion of them had not achieved an occupation which is dependent in a large degree on education and special training."

The educational attainments, by percentages, of the unmarried mothers were: first to fourth grades of elementary school, slightly more than 7 per cent; fifth to eighth grades of elementary school, 55 per cent; high school, 27 1/2 per cent; normal school, 1 per cent; college, 2 per cent; professional school, 7 per cent.

Slightly less than a fourth of the unmarried mothers had been in New York less than a year necessary to establish legal residence. The percentage for those in whose cases data concerning residence was on record was: resident 77 1/2 per cent; non-resident, 22 1/2 per cent. Among the Negroes 80 1/2 per cent were legal residents of New York and among the whites 76 per cent were legal residents.

"The fact that the white unmarried mother is more likely to be cut off from her family and her social group by the discovery of her illegitimate parenthood is probably one reason for the slightly greater number of non-residents among the white group," Dr. Reed writes. "The fear of discovery and the possession of more adequate economic resources for seeking concealment in the city were generally given by social workers as explanations of the difference in the proportion of non-residents in the two racial groups. Considering the circumstances of the two groups, the similarity seems more striking than the difference."

HEROIC YOUTH SMOTHERED TO DEATH IN HARLEM FIRE TRAP

New York—CNA—Ralph Gordon was burned to death early Sunday morning in a Harlem fire trap, located at 39 W. 132nd St. The 22 year old here was desperately working to rescue the tenants in the apartment when the roof collapsed upon him.

Another tenant in the house, Oscar Warren, suffered a fractured skull, a broken leg, and serious internal injuries.

Flames Quickly Spread Through House.

The tenants in the flaming house were also awakened by Mrs. Oventein, who ran up and down the halls screaming and banging on doors. The fire prevented her from going above the second floor and she was forced to break into a stranger's apartment to run for the fire escape. There is only one fire escape for both sides of the railroad flat, and that one is in the rear of the building.

Upon opening their doors, the tenants found the hallways ablaze and the roof about to collapse.

Fire Department Arrives Late.

Although the fire department was promptly called, they did not arrive for a half hour after those who survived were already out. The nearest fire department station in less than four blocks from the building.

The house had been condemned by fire authorities for over three months. The landlord did nothing to provide for the safety of his tenants, although he had been repeatedly informed of the dangerous conditions in the house.

No investigation is being conducted by landlord or authorities to discover the source of the fire.

Ralph Gordon was a member of the International Workers Order, and active in the left wing movement for Negro Rights.

A mass funeral in protest against the conditions making for such tragedies, was held this week in Harlem.

JAMAICAN WORKERS DEMONSTRATE AGAINST NEW BRITISH BILL

Kingston, Jamaica, B. W. I.—By Special correspondent—

CNA—The island of Jamaica has become the storm center of mighty mass demonstrations and struggles against British capital. The Jamaican workers are preparing actions against the proposed Banana Insurance Bill.

Bill Benefits British Interests.

The proposed bill is designed to benefit the Jamaica Banana Producers' Association, controlled by British interests, at the expense of the small planters and laborers. At a meeting in St. Catherine, T. J. Cawley, one of the sponsors of the bill and a member of the Banana Producers' Association, was pulled from the platform by indignant listeners. At Lawrence, Trelawney, local police attacked an anti-bill demonstration and threatened to institute martial law. Similar demonstrations have occurred in all parts of the land.

MITE MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF A. M. E. CHURCHES.

The second Quarterly meeting of the Mite Missionary of A. M. E. churches of this district met at Bethel A. M. E. Church, February 28th. The meeting was opened by devotionals led by St. John's, Omaha, and Beatrice.

Mrs. Effie Bryant, the President of this district, gave an interesting talk on Mission and the work we are trying to accomplish.

Committees were then appointed from the various churches and most of the churches reported. We were favored with a sermonette by Rev. Cole. Communications from the other district meetings were read. The meeting then adjourned for dinner, which was nicely served by the Ladies of Bethel Mite Missionary Society.

The meeting was reopened at 2 o'clock with devotionals led by Fremont, Bethel, Omaha and St. John's, Omaha. The officers and visiting ministers were introduced. Communication from the statistical secretary was read. Reports from each church were read. Mrs. Kennedy, president of the Junior department, was given the president's chair. The Bethel's Junior department responded with two numbers. St. John's Juniors also gave two numbers. After holding a quiet hour and paying respect to our deceased sister, Ruth Redd, the meeting adjourned to meet at Fremont, Nebraska, in May 1935.

Those out of town delegates were Mrs. Lela Beck and Miss Beck, of Beatrice, Neb., Mrs. A. Newton, of Fremont, Mrs. Ruth Long and Mrs. Venable, of Lincoln. Other delegates were Mrs. E. Bryan, president, Mrs. M. L. Rucker, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pigeu, Mrs. R. J. Woods, Mrs. Regue, Mrs. A. Offutt, Mrs. Anna Burton, Mrs. M. Metcalf, Mrs. Beatrice Laster, Mrs. Mattie Johnson, Mrs. B. Henry, Miss Fidelia Rucker, Mrs. K. Manley, Mrs. Anna Kennedy, Mrs. Tillie Simpson, Mrs. Hattie Knight, Mrs. H. Hangar, Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Rev. Metcalf, Rev. Bryant, Rev. Womack, Mrs. J. D. Thornton, Butler, Rev. Calhoun, Rev. Cole and Rev. J. W. Williams, who visited us with greetings, and Rev. Mrs. J. W. Williams, president of the Mite Missionary that entertained.

ALTA VESTA—A GIRL'S
By Vindetta Ish.

Alta Vesta to Her Father—No 2. Daddy Dear: We had a party last night and it was wonderful. There was lots of children my own age and we had a mighty good time. We played, we sang, we told stories and made jokes. Though we made a lot of noise, Aunt Cornelia didn't scold us. I suppose she remembers when she was a little girl. O, yes, Daddy, I need some things and you are my banker. So I'm writing a check to my banker. I thought that what I should say, is: Well, anyway, Mr. Daddy I'm giving you a list of what Aunt Cornelia says your little girl needs, and I know everything will come because you love me.

Your loving Daughter.

"Charity Begins at Home"

By A. B. Mann.

(For The Literary Service Bureau.) Charity has many definitions. Some call it love. Some dub it benevolence. I venture the definition that charity is the expression and the illustration of love. And this motto is to the effect that whatever we may term it one should practice it at home. And the world will brand as a miserable hypocrite the individual whose charity is always away from home while he is miserly, intolerant and irascible at home.

Some parents have much interest in the children of their neighbors, while they neglect their own. Some men are Chesterfields among other women but cruel, boorish and ill mannered at home. A good motto, this.

cern of the government's.

This is the message of the Roosevelt government to the thousands of Negro small home owners who find themselves in the same plight as Daisy Jones of 41 West 131 Street New York City.

Miss Jones, an unemployed Negro worker whose case is typical of thousands, applied for a loan when the HOLC was first organized, amid a fanfare of ballyhoo, back in 1933. For more than a year her application was nourished on promises. On December 17, 1934, Miss Jones' hopes were raised when she was informed in a letter that the HOLC officials were "endeavoring to close the loan."

Two weeks later, on December 28th, the HOLC put an end to her anxiety. They rejected her application. The years of hard work and careful saving which her home meant for her tumbled to the ground. She had made the mistake of trying to stave off hunger by taking in boarders.

Representing a widespread trend among small Negro and white home-owners, Daisy Jones case assumes double significance as it applies to the Negro people. Recent surveys show that, as the direct result of the lower wages paid Negroes and discrimination against Negro workers in obtaining jobs, the proportion of "doubling up" in homes to cut down expenses is much greater among Negro people than among white. The "Rooming House Alibi" of the HOLC, therefore, stands out as a discriminating measure against Negroes.

The Franklin Society, 217 Broadway, and B. Bloch, 215 West 91 Street, holders of Miss Jones' mortgage, threaten to foreclose in the immediate future.

New York—CNA—The health of Heywood Patterson, one of the 9 Scottsboro boys, is being seriously undermined by brutal treatment at the hands of the Kilby Prison authorities. This was disclosed in a letter sent to the International Labor Defense here last week by Mrs. Janie Patterson, mother of Heywood.

Forced to Sleep on Concrete Floor.

"I got back home from down to see Heywood," Mrs. Patterson writes. "It is pitiful the way they treat him. They have taken his bed away from him. He has nowhere to sleep but on the concrete. He has not got a way to write to nobody. They won't give him his money. The warden said Heywood won't sign for it, and Heywood told me, don't believe a word of it. I questioned why he would not because Heywood told me to look at the scars on him and he would not open the door so I could see.

(For The Literary Service Bureau.)

MOTHER A WIDOW AND IN LOVE; DAUGHTER 19 WINS MOTHER'S LOVER.

Maxie Miller: I wonder if you can understand my case. I suppose not, since you are not married and are not a mother. I am the mother of a grown daughter. I'm a widow and in love with a man ten years older than I am. We were to get married soon. Now he has fallen in love with my daughter 19. He has told me the truth and says he'll keep his promise to marry me, but he loves my daughter. She says she loves him but will not marry him unless I am willing to give him up. I tell her she's very young and can get many more chances than me. Now we are a terrible fix. What is best to do? Tell me quick. —Mother Mollie.

Mother Mollie: I am sorry for you and my best advice is to let him go. You should be thankful this thing comes out this way and that these people are honest enough to tell you the truth. You might have married and things might have gone wrong afterward, which would have been even worse. Take your medicine, Mother Mollie, and let them go and be happy if they can.—Maxie Miller.
