WEEKLY SHORT SERMON

By Dr. A. G. Beare
(For the Literary Service Bureau)

(Barnabas—Son of Consolation)
Text: And Jesus, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is being interpreted, the son of consolation.) . . . Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.—Acts 4:36,37.

This man was named Jesus, perhaps Jesus. When he became a Christian and an apostle his fellow workers named him Barnabas, "Son of Consolation". So every man should be:

1. To His Parents.—Parents make sacrifices. They suffer much. They endure many hardships but right-living and worth while accomplishments by their children give them consolation. In this every son may and should be a son of consolation.

2. To the World in General. Barnabas was a Christian, a minister, a worker for others. Gentle in manners, magnetic in appearance, tender in sympathy, he was preeminently qualified to comfort and console those who were unfortunate and distressed.

3. A Fitting Example. In Barnabas, the obedient son and Christian worker, there is an illustration of possibilities for good. And there is an example to inspire and guide all sons and inspire them to major in the work of giving consolation to others.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND CHARM

KEEP YOUNG AND BEAUTIFUL IF YOU WANT TO BE LOVED!
Care Of the Hands and Arms.

Too little attention is given to the care of the hands. Constantly exposed to dust and dirt, subjected to the action of all kinds of soap, dipped first in hot water and then in cold, and cleansed many times during the day, thus losing much of the natural oil, it is little wonder that the hands show signs of wear and age long before the face does.

Indeed even in young women, the hands often look old because of lack of attention. Manicuring in its unrestricted sense means the care of the hands and nails, and not, as is generally interpreted, of the nails, exclusively. Manicuring, therefore, takes in, besides the care of the finger nails, such treatments as massage of the hands, care of chapped hands, nail diseases, etc.

The care of the nails is, by no means a modern art. The type of external care of the nails, appealing most to the ancients, particularly the Orientals, was in the form of tinting or staining the outer surfaces of the nails with coloring matter of various hues, such as purple, red, gill, etc. Injection of dyes into the nail matrix, itself, was also common practice among the Orientals. The length of the finger nails denoted caste.

Always wash the hands in water of medium temperature. Never too hot or too cold, using a soap as nearly neutral in reaction as possible. So be sure that the soap is barely alkaline. Never allow damp hands to be exposed to the wind. After the cleansing process, the hands should be well rinsed and at once a good hand jelly applied and rubbed in until dry.

AUSTRALIA INVOKES ANTI-NEGRO LAW

Australia—(CNA)—A law which was established to exclude Negroes and other colored colonials from Australia was brought into use against Mr. Egon Fisch, a noted German writer and lecturer who is opposed to Fascism and Hitler's rule in Germany.

Later, after strong protests of Australian workers and their sympathizers he was permitted to land under bail, charged with being a "prohibited immigrant".

Texas Disfranchisement IS BEFORE THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT
Washington, D. C.—(CNA)—The action of the Texas Democratic State Convention in barring Negroes from Party primaries was taken under advisement by the United States Supreme Court here last week. R. R. Govey, Negro Democrat, was the plaintiff.

J. Alston Atkins, white, argued Govey's case. Attorneys for the state refrained from argument.

Mrs. Faulkner Oliver will leave in a day or two, to go to the bedside of her daughter, Lorraine Jackson, who is seriously ill and not expected to live. Mrs. Jackson lives at 3331 S. State Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. Bertha Mae Patterson, 2118 N. 28th Street, sprained her ankle last week in an attempt to catch a ball, that had never been hit. It appears that she is the President of the athletic club, but from now on maybe she will watch her step.

Let's be Honest about the "PUBLIC UTILITY ACT OF 1935"

To Call it a "Holding Company Bill" is Less than Half the Truth!

THE Wheeler-Rayburn bill in Congress, which destroys the entire public utility industry of this country, has been presented to the American public under false colors. Its supporters call it a "holding company bill." Nothing could be more misleading.

Strikes at Operating Companies • The bill can not fairly be called a holding company measure because it attacks operating companies such as the Nebraska Power Company and the Citizens Power & Light Company as well as holding companies. Under the bill's provisions, operating companies are to be immediately put under the control of a Federal commission in Washington, D. C. for regulation and management. Holding companies are to be destroyed after five years, unless specially permitted to exist.

More Government in Business • Then why is the bill termed a "holding company bill?" Probably because its supporters wish to trade in the political propaganda which has given holding companies an unfavorable name. Possibly also because some of the bill's supporters wish to center public attention on the holding company features of the bill, and avoid bringing the drastic operating company provisions into the limelight. In either case it is a device of politics.

Let Omaha Set Its Own Electric Rates • The truth about the Wheeler-Rayburn public utility act is that it aims to put the whole industry in politics. It is an attempt to set a precedent that would make it moral and reasonable for Congress to outlaw any legitimate business it chose.

Let Omaha Set Its Own Electric Rates • The people of Omaha do not want Washington dictating their electric rates. The investors of Omaha do not want such a precedent of business destruction. And America, we feel sure, does not want to take this step toward Socialism.

Let Omaha Set Its Own Electric Rates • The bill is Socialistic and destructive. Omaha, and all of America, should have none of it!
