Massey Avant, President Robert Adams, Reporter

Mr. N. Jenkins, 2917 N. 25th Street, who is still under the care of the doctor, is reported somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Carter, 2321 N. 27th Avenue, had as their guest, Mr. John Holly, of Kansas City, Missouri.

Mrs. E. Shaw, 2602 N. 30th Street, suffered a hemorrhage last week. Her condition is serious. She was paralyzed last year and has never regained her speech.

A memorial window was displayed by the Junior Auxiliary of Roosevelt Post, No. 30, on May 3, 4, 5 and 6th at 24th and Erskine Streets.

The display was in memory of the Dead Colored Soldiers. It showed the Gold Star Mothers visiting the graves under the weeping willow tree.

The Junior Auxiliary wishes to thank Mr. Mortimer and Mr. Harding for the space allotted for their display.

NOTICE! Mrs. Henryette Makins, 1322 1/2 N. 24th Street, wishes to thank her many friends and well wishers for the interest displayed, but also wishes to assure them that she is very much alive and unharmed.

May Queen Contest Don't forget May 27th, 1935. A May Queen Contest will be sponsored by Christ Temple Church at the Community Center.

NOTICE! Mrs. Lawson wishes to state that in no way were her daughters concerned in the unfortunate affair in W. T. Grant's store, as so many people seem to believe, judging from the number of inquiries she receives.

After the meeting, dancing and playing cards are permissible. Earl Jones, President Bertha Johnson, Reporter

Scottsboro Decision Invoked in New Jersey

The recent United States Supreme Court decision on the Scottsboro case as a precedent, Attorney Frank Conn, white, asked the quashing of the indictment against Amos Carr on the grounds that Negroes had been barred from jury duty.

Carr, Philadelphia worker, is accused of manslaughter. The Court of Common Pleas, John J. Fitzpatrick, Union county jury commissioner, admitted that no Negroes had been called for jury service during the past twenty years.

Despite Fitzpatrick's admissions, Judge Thompson denied the motion for the dismissal of charges against Carr.

The world-wide protest rallied by the International Labor Defense forced the United States Supreme Court recently to reverse the state's action against Haywood Patterson and Clarence Norris, two of the Scottsboro boys, on the basis that Negroes had been systematically excluded.

To Investigate Cuban Conditions New York—CNA—A delegation to investigate the conditions of terror now existing in Cuba is being organized, according to an announcement by the Provisional Committee on Cuba, located at 80 East 11th Street.

The delegation will be composed of Negroes and whites and will leave for Cuba within the next few weeks.
