

GREAT BOTANIST

Prof. George W. Carver, whose knowledge of plant life is regarded as on a par with his marvelous research achievements in chemistry. Tuskegee has recently provided Dr. Carver with a research assistant, Dr. Nathaniel O. Calloway a Tuskegee graduate who holds a doctorate in chemistry from Iowa State college and who will record Prof. Carver's great discoveries.

EXPERIENCE AND YOUTH

DR. GEORGE W. CARVER, world famed scientist and Claud Harward, technical expert of the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, standing near the monument of Booker T. Washington during a recent visit of young Harward to Tuskegee, where he demonstrated some of the latest engineering devices of the Ford Engineering division.

EDUCATOR AND "DE LAWD"

Dr. Robert R. Moton, left, and the late Richard B. Harrison, star of "Green Pastures," photographed when the "Green Pastures" played at Tuskegee before Mr. Harrison's death.

"Y" FOUNDER AT TUSKEGEE

DR. JOHN R. MOTT, founder of the Young Men's Christian Association, and Dr. R. R. Moton standing before the monument of Booker T. Washington at Tuskegee Institute.

DR. MOTON AND DR. PATTERSON

DR. ROBERT R. MOTON who retires after distinguished service as president of Tuskegee Institute, photographed with Dr. Frederick D. Patterson, his youthful successor during the commencement exercises held last week.

SILVER TONGUED

DR. G. LAKE IMES, Secretary of Tuskegee institute, has been a member of the school's faculty for 26 years. A brilliant speaker and effective writer, he has espoused the cause of interracial peace and amity effectively. Artistically bent, he directs the remarkable entertainment program at Tuskegee which brings visitors from many miles distant to attend the functions at the institution. He handled the management of the famous appearance of the Tuskegee Choir during its engagement at Radio City last year and is not negotiating a tour of Europe for that organization.

FOREMOST IN AGRICULTURE

T. M. CAMPBELL
T. M. Campbell, probably the best informed man on agricultural life and rural economics among Negroes in America. Mr. Campbell whose headquarters are at Tuskegee institute, of which he is a graduate, directs the work of 275 men and women, governmental farm and home economic agents throughout the states of the south. He was the first United States Agricultural Department field agent.

GUIDING SPIRITS

Members of the Tuskegee Executive Council shown above are: left to right, the Rev. H. B. Richardson, chaplain. Monroe N. Work, head of Records and Research Department; G. W. Johnson, business agent; William L. Dawson, music director; George L. Washington, mechanical industries director; Lucius Patterson, steward; Alfon-

se Henningburg, high school principal; Alvin J. Neeley, registrar, dean of men. W. T. Shehee, custodian buildings; Dr. E. H. Dibble, medical director; Edmund H. Burke, comptroller; A. L. Holsey, budget director; J. J. Flood, council secretary.
Front row: left to right, the Rev. John W. Whittaker, chaplain, retired; Dean Edna S. Landers, Dr. W. T. B. Williams, college dean; W. H. Carter, treasurer. Dr. F. D. Patterson, director Agriculture Department; President Moten, Charles Gibson, Sr., chief accountant, retired; Warren Logan, treasurer, retired; Dr. G. Lake Imes, secretary; J. H. Farmer, registrar, retired; C. J. Calloway, rural school extension service director. (ANP)

FROM AFAR

MISS VESTA LOWE, from British Guiana, who is to start a school in her home for native girls now that she has won her college degree in home economics.