N. A. A. C. P. Delegates See No Negro Help in Huge Brewing Plant

Has Thousands of Colored Patrons

Chicago, Aug. 7.—The Chicago Branch of the N. A. A. C. P., through its president, A. C. MacNeal, has sharply challenged the reasons given by Adolphus Busch III for the failure of the Anheuser-Busch brewing plant at St. Louis to employ Negroes. During the recent 26th Annual Conference of the N. A. A. C. P. at St. Louis, delegates and visitors were invited to make a tour of inspection of the huge brewing plant. On this visit it was noted that no Negroes were employed in any capacity and the Chicago Branch wrote to Mr. Busch.

In replying, Mr. Busch explained the absence of Negro workers as being due, first, to the fact that workers in the brewing industry 'look upon their participation in it as traditional, and in our plant three of four generations are represented among our employees' and, second, because 'there are no colored members in the Brewery Workers Union, a situation entirely beyond our control.'

To the first of these excuses Mr. MacNeal replied in part: "Is there anything 'traditional' about fully one-third of the employees of Anheuser-Busch who move freight, sweep, clean windows, address letters, keep books, sell your goods as salesmen and a host of other positions that are necessary to the conduct of an industry such as you head?" On the matter of union labor discrimination Mr. MacNeal asked Mr. Busch pointed questions as to whether or not he and the Anheuser-Busch company have ever taken up with the Brewery Workers' Union its discrimination against Negroes, and whether or not Mr. Busch and his company will make such a protest if it has not done so.

Mr. MacNeal also asked Mr. Busch if his company will give employment to Negro Americans as stenographers, bookkeepers, salesmen, and other such positions, and whether or not employment will be given to Negro Americans in the various agencies of the Anheuser-Busch company throughout the country. Mr. MacNeal asked Mr. Busch to reply specially to these queries, in order that Negro purchasers of the product of Anheuser-Busch throughout the country may be informed.

His enlistment, it is reported, was the only one in Nebraska for the month of August. Williams was born in Wichita, Kansas and has lived in Omaha for 20 years. He left for the Naval Training Station in Norfolk, Virginia, Wednesday afternoon, where he will spend three months in preparatory work.

Dr. Aaron McMillan Returns Home

Dr. Aaron McMillan and his family returned to Omaha Saturday, Aug. 3 from Europe and Central Africa. Dr. McMillan spent six years abroad studying Tropical diseases in England and Portugal. Also he was head of a staff of physicians seven hundred miles in the interior of Africa.

Dr. McMillan has spent a busy week receiving the host of friends who were so elated over his successful trip. Mrs. Willa Mae McMillan, his charming and faithful wife who made the trip with him, braving the wilds of the jungles to be with her husband and children, has been quite busy keeping up with her social affairs and introducing Helen, her youngest baby, born in Angola, Southwest Africa. Helen is one of the healthiest and prettiest babies in Omaha.

As the Doctor made extensive hunting trips, he brought some of his trophies home, which are seldom seen in this country, which shows that he is an excellent hunter as well as an exceptional physician. He has saved many of the natives and white, who would probably have never reached the coast or a large city, where the only medical attention could be found.

The natives, the Doctor says, are as civilized in their way, as any European or American, as there is no vice and very little crime there they are more refined than we are here. One proof of

Richard Marshall Killed In Automobile Accident

Buried In Prospect Hill Cemetery

Richard Marshall, 18, 957 N. 25th St., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walton, who was accidentally killed by a truck last Saturday in Western Iowa while traveling with an orchestra, was buried Wednesday afternoon from the St. John Church with Rev. Bryant officiating. Six fellow Eagle Scouts acted as pallbearers.

Richard's sudden death came as a distinct shock to his many friends and acquaintances among the younger set with whom he was unusually popular. In addition to holding the high rank of Eagle scout, the young man was an ardent church member having attended St. John for 11 years where he was active in Sunday School work. He was to be graduated from Technical High school in December. During his 3 years there he was a regular member of the high school band and of the track team, having won his letter in track.

The whole Boy Scout unit of which Marshall had been a member for 12 years turned out for the funeral. Mr. T. P. Mahammett, scout master was in charge. Taps were blown at the Prospect Hill Cemetery by Eagle scout Albert Johnson. The pallbearers were: Edward Wiggins, Carlette Lewis, Hezekiah Stewart, Cleod Madison, Albert Johnson and Rickett Nelson.

The Twelve Scout Laws demonstrated by the placing of twelve roses on the deceased's casket.
