

E. D. W.—Will the dream that my mother dreamed about me ever come true?

Ans.—It seems to me that your mother dreamed that you would someday become the wife of an undertaker, but I think that you will find that the dream has no relation to your future life. I don't see you related to an undertaker in any manner whatsoever.

N. A. R.—What do you see for me this year?

Ans.—I think you will find yourself working regularly, beginning in a very short time. But you have allowed yourself to fall into some very careless habits recently, drinking too much and sleeping too little. You will have to snap out of it if you wish to get back on your feet quickly and hold your job after you get it.

L. I. N. W.—Will you please tell me what became of my money.

Ans.—I believe that the money was taken from your small pocket book several days before Christmas, and it has been spent long before now. You can't get the money back, so you might just as well stop worrying about it.

A. E. F.—Is my husband planning to hurt me?

Ans.—Your husband has suspected that you were cheating on him for a long time, so I would advise you to watch your step. He hasn't made any definite plans to hurt you, but if he ever catches you with one of your very friends he is liable to make it very uncomfortable for both of you.

D. L. G.—Do you think this man is making me a fair offer?

Ans.—The man is undoubtedly trying to beat you out of some money. He doesn't own a farm, and if he did he wouldn't be trying to sell it so cheaply. Just tell him that you have to see the farm and also his title papers before you would be interested in putting any money up.

C. W. F.—Will you tell me why my news hasn't been printed?

Ans.—The paper has a definite make-up plan to follow, and unless you can get your contribution in a little earlier each week it will be left out. The space allowed in your paper for local news is scant, and your copy must be well written as well as prompt if you expect it to be printed.

C. E. M.—Do you think I will be successful in this work?

Ans.—Since you are so very interested in the study and practice of Home Economics, I would advise you to continue in that line of study. The money to be made in that field is not attractive, but you will be happier in the work that you like than you would be if you attempted something that you were not interested in.

L. J. S.—Please tell me what my husband's trouble?

Ans.—I believe that the pains in your husband's side are caused by chronic appendicitis or a very similar condition. I suggest that you have the doctor examine your husband thoroughly and recommend the steps to be followed in the treatment of his case.

C. H. J.—Can you tell me who took my ring?

Ans.—The ring was too large for your finger, and it seems to me that you lost the ring in your garden. The ring wasn't stolen, and a careful search of your garden might possibly reveal it, but I think it will be pretty hard to find.

P. L. F.—Does this man go with the one I am thinking of?

Ans.—I believe that N. A. C. and E. O. P. are very good friends, but you shouldn't allow yourself to be jealous. You can't get him back or ever expect to marry him if you let him know that you are trying to check up on him and run his business.

L. E.—Have I any living relatives?

Ans: It seems to me that you have two nephews living, whose initials I believe to be J. R. and H. L. They both appear to be living in a large city in MISSISSIPPI—You will hear from them sometime this year.

international movement of arms, munitions, and the raw materials of war were disclosed in a survey of the statistics of the United States and other nations." The United States has reached a record high in its shipment of cotton linters, used in the making of explosives, to France, Germany, the United Kingdom, Japan and Italy. It has also reached a new high in the shipment of scrap iron and steel to Japan and Italy. France imported in 1934, 25,494 metric tons of the benzols, useful in explosives, as compared with 9,284 metric tons in 1933. Italy and other nations also increased their import of the benzols.

The United States exported 151,117,000 cartridges in 1934 as compared with 110,260,000 in 1933, increased its rifle exports from 18,145 to 36,852, and more than doubled its shipment of explosives. "Italian Africa, seldom listed among notable markets for American trucks was the leading purchaser of trucks in June. Japan also was a leader."

WAGES IN GERMANY

Johannes Steel, foreign editor of the New York Post, gives figures on wages in Germany during the first half of 1935. The Nazi's claim that the wage level has been kept intact is true, "if one takes the wage per hour instead of the amount that the workers receive at the end of the working week." The weekly wage of the better-paid worker, a small minority, is 23.31 marks of which 3.06 is deducted for social insurance and about 3 more for "voluntary air defense," for the factory representative of the Nazi party, and other "contributions." The worker is left with 17.25 marks, about $6. In the first half of 1935, 26.4 per cent or 3,300,000 workers who contributed for social insurance earned less than 12 marks weekly. "Only workers employed in the armament industry received adequate wages, amounting on the average to 36 marke per week."

GOVERNMENT AIDS SHIP-BUILDING CORPORATION AGAINST CAMDEN STRIKERS

Another step in the direction of ascismis seen by leaders of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers, in the action of the government in adopting the proposals of the New York Shipbuilding Corporation for the settlement of the strike of its Camden, N. J. employees and forcing compulsory arbitration upon them. The strike has continued for months while the company refused to settle. The union agreed on July 19 to proposals of Secretary of Labor Perkins, which were quite different from the present proposals, but the company refused to agree to those terms, and held up work on $50,000,000 worth of naval contracts. The Navy Department refused to cancel these contracts, until the House Labor Committee decided to investigate. Then Miss Perkins accepted the company's proposals as the government's.

Members of the House Labor Committee, as well as labor leaders, protested against Miss Perkins' action as a complete surrender to the company. Representative Vito Marcantonio (Rep. N. Y.) and Representative George J. Schneider (Progressive, Wis.) characterized the proposals as one-sided and unfair to the union.

The United Mine Workers, the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and other A. F. of L. unions have extended financial and moral support to the Camden strikers.

WHAT IS NEUTRALITY?

The decision of the Belgian Government to stop the shipment of munitions to Ethiopia has aroused vigorous protests from Socialists, trade unionists, liberal Catholics, and others who declare that an arms embargo against Ethiopia is not neutrality but actually aids Italy, since Ethi-

UNPUBLISHED WILSON-LANSING CORRESPONDENCE REVEALS ECONOMIC REASONS FOR WAR

In support of legislation "to keep the United States neutral" in the next war, Senators Nye and Clark cited hitherto unpublished correspondence between President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing in 1915. The correspondence proved that the United States entered the war for financial reasons. The Allies had made great purchases of war materials. The loaning of money to belligerents had been considered inconsistent with the policy of neutrality, but neutrality was not permitted to stand in the way of economic interests the Senators pointed out. Wilson finally acquiesced in "the necessity of floating government loans for the belligerent nations, which are purchasing such great quantities of goods in this country, in order to avoid a serious financial situation which will not only affect them but this country as well."

McAdoo, Lansing and Wilson agreed with the big bankers in fearing that if loans were not made to the Allies, not only would Americans lose business but there would be a depression. The first Morgan loan of $500,000,000 followed in one month. As Andre Tardieu commented after these loans had been floated "From that time on the victory of the Allies had become essential to the United States." Whereupon the President who had "kept us out of war," found good MORAL reasons for getting us into it.

AMERICAN YOUTH TO BOYCOTT OLYMPICS

The National Council of the American Youth Congress has called for a boycott of the 1936 Olympics Games if held in Nazi Germany. A delegation will be sent to the National and District offices of the Amateur Athletic Union and a Sports Committee will arrange conferences to organize counter-Olympics throughout the country.

BRUTALITY AND SLAVE DRIVING IN ARMY ALLEGED

Gross brutality in the army and punishment of an editor for protesting against it, is charged by Louis Waldman, counsel for Nelson Rounsevell, publisher of the PANAMA AMERICAN. Rounsevell was indicted for libel by army officers after he had alleged inhuman treatment of soldiers at Fort Clayton in the Panama Canal Zone. This followed four suicides and several attempts at suicide among the enlisted personnel within six weeks. Rounsevell charged that the suicides were the result of "slave driving" on the part of General Fisko and Colonel Geidt. His trial will take place on August 23rd.

NAZI TERROR AGAINST ITALIAN FASCIST

Signor Fierst Ceruti, Italian Ambassador to Germany, has been transferred to Paris at his own request; he declared he could no longer endure Nazi insults directed at himself and his wife, who is a Jewess.

AMERICA'S WAR BUDGET: RELIEF MONEY USED FOR WAR PREPARATIONS

War preparations are consuming the lion's share of the huge unparalloled expenditures of the government—which are mortgaging the future and adding enormously to the tax burden. The outright appropriation this year for the Army and Navy Departments, total nearly a billion dollars. In addition to this record war budget, almost $75,000,000 has been spent for direct and indirect war preparations out of PWA appropriations from June, 1933 to April, 1935, reports the Federated Press. At the same time, a U. S. Labor Department survey explodes the story of "loafers on relief rolls." The jobless, according to this report, will accept practically any work.

FACTS ON PROFITS, WAGES, CONCENTRATION OF WEALTH, AND UNEMPLOYMENT

"Even informed observers were startled at the tendency to concentration (of wealth) and the rate of concentration indicated by the 1935 income tax returns," declared Robert Jackson, counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue, on August 6th. He stated that for years the taxation of great wealth has become lighter and the burden borne by the 'working' population with small incomes heavier. In 1930, the well-to-do contributed 68.2% of the receipts of the National Treasury; in 1933 they contributed only 41.7% and in 1935 only 38.7%. There has been a corresponding increase in the taxes on consumption which hit the poorer section of the population hardest. There is a steady trend he says toward shifting the tax burden "from those more able to pay to those less able to pay." "The number of people having incomes above a generally accepted subsistence level is seriously small," and is declining. The number reporting taxable incomes decreased from 5,518,310 in 1930 to 1,747,000 in 1935. But the number receiving an income of over a million yearly increased from 20 in 1932 to 58 in 1935. And 70 percent of these individuals are in 14 families, Jackson said.

On the same day that Jackson made public those startling figures, headlines in New York papers read: "PROFITS UP WAGES LOWER . . . UNEMPLOYMENT UP 552,000 OVER 1934" . . . "BANKS SET RECORD FOR EXCESS FUNDS" . . .

That National City Bank reports that the 260 largest corporations made profits in the first half of 1935 that were 17.9 percent higher than in the same period last year. The A. F. of L. Monthly Survey of Business reported that "production and profits are going up, but work hours are longer and real taxes are down". The latest report of the Federal Reserve shows that capital is "on strike". Reserves in the banks increased to an all-time record of $5,100,000,000 of hoarded wealth in vaults. The National Industrial Conference Board gives these figures as to what has happened since June 1929; Reduction in employment—20.4 percent; reduction in payrolls—40.3 percent; increase in cost of living—16.6 percent.

Senator Bilbo Says Huey Long Is Enemy No. One

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 31—(By ANP)—Senator Huey Long, the Kingfish of Louisiana is "Public Enemy No. 1" according to Senator Theodore Bilbo, in a series of addresses he has delivered during the past few days in behalf of Hugh White, his chosen gubernatorial candidate. Senator Long, although not a Mississippian is alleged to be supporting the candidacy of Paul E. Johnson, hence the opprobrium of Senator Bilbo. Reasons why Senator Long is "Public Enemy No. 1" the place formerly held by Al Capone, are listed in part as follows in a speech delivered here last week: Huey Long is seeking to elect Paul Johnson, just as he did Conner, so that he can build up his "Share the Wealth Clubs" and ultimately his sovereignty.

Huey Long advocated permitting the Negroes to vote in Democratic primaries. "Let Huey Long get a foothold in Mississippi and it won't be long before he is urging Negroes to vote in Mississippi as he is doing in Louisiana."

Huey Long, in his interest to influence Negroes in his "Share the Wealth Program" addresses them as "Mr." He wrote a letter to a "coal black Negro, Read, and addressed him as Mr. Read."

Huey Long voted for the passage of the Costigan-Wagner anti-lynching bill, not because his conscience dictated it, but because he could not afford to let down his friend "Read" whom he addressed as "Mr." and declared himself to be "Yours faithfully."

Mrs. Bilbo with Johnson

According to the Memphis Commercial Appeal, however, Mrs. Bilbo does not share the views of her husband, who became famous by his avowal that he would keep silent in the United States Senate during the first term. If this powerful Southern Daily be correct, Mrs. Bilbo has taken up the cudgel for Paul E. Johnson, the man according to all allegations is being supported by Senator Huey Long. Mrs. Bilbo, according to press dispatches, however, has not defended the "Kingfish".

Those who have followed the Kingfish of Louisiana, recall that Kingfish Levinsky, Chicago prize fighter, at one time exchanged friendly greetings. Levinsky, the "Kingfish of Maxwell street" was knocked from his throne by Joe Louis, the "Brown Bomber" so perhaps in seeking the aid of the colored brother in Louisiana and Mississippi, the Kingfish of Louisiana is protecting his dynasty from any such occurrence.

Restored to Her Hair Its Original Beauty—Made it Soft, Silky, Lustrous, Coal Black!

WHEN Amy looked in the mirror, she couldn't hold back the tears. What god was a beautiful skin, a stunning figure or a clever personality when her hair made her look old and faded. She knew why—knew that her dull, iron-burnt, off color, gray streaked hair made her look 15 years older, too old to join in the fun of the younger set. Luckily she confided in a friend, who advised trying Godefroy's LARIEUSE French Hair Coloring. She lost no time. She tried it that very night. Imagine her delight just 15 minutes later when her hair became soft, silky, lustrous, and ebony black. It didn't look dyed, it wasn't smelly or sticky. You can make your hair beautiful, too—as easily and quickly as Amy did. Just apply Godefroy's LARIEUSE. It will not rub off or wash out and will last indefinitely.
