NORTH 24TH STREET
AT 4 O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING

By Bud Towson

If reckless driver does not discontinue running into a certain business man's car, it will make an old man of him soon.

If a certain theatre, porter out north would put a little more time on his paid task, he would not know what is going on out side.

A popular hair dresser on 26th Street, north of Lake seems not to be able to pick the winners lately.

If a certain game that has 78 numbers in it does not open soon a certain business man between 24th and 25th, on Lake, will grow to be as big as jumbo.

When a certain local baseball club wins a ball game in, around, above or below Omaha the drinks will be with-coming from Lefty.

A prominent barber and co-proprietor will find out eventually that a pair of kings is not the best you can make out of 53 cards.

There was for a while a gasoline service station just south of Lake on 24th, that was operating on a paying basis, until the manager thought that he could increase the revenue by kneeling down on his knees, but not in Christian prayers.

A prominent musician that stammers quite a bit has an orchestra that the community call "The Sack-House Band". Make appointments early, as there are plenty of groups waiting.

A well known private dining car waiter that works with father, pays garage bill at 27th Ave. and Grand, but blocks traffic all night up around Corby.

Stolen Truck Leads To Serious Charges

Wilson, N. C., Aug. 28, (ANP)—Theft of an ERA truck and a subsequent accident led to the arrest of Campbell Wilson on charges of man-slaughter, stealing an automobile and reckless driving.

The man-slaughter charge was lodged against him when he was identified as the driver of the truck that struck and fatally injured a white woman on the highway two hours before his arrest. Wilson, when taken into custody, admitted that he stole the truck for a joy ride and that he had run down a white woman, but declared that he did not know the woman had been killed, when he left the scene of the accident.
