North Missouri Methodists Hold 54th Session

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 9, (ANP)—Reports made at the 54th annual session of the North Missouri A. M. E. Conference, which closed here Thursday, showed that despite the depression that churches throughout the district are reducing their indebtedness and carrying on constructive work financially.

Returning to the church, Ebenezer, A. M. E. church, which he pastored 27 years ago, Bishop John A. Gregg, presided over the conference and praised the ministers under his direction for the work that was being accomplished, which showed that during the past year almost $809 had been raised for the promotion of education, $2,000 for other purposes and that several of the churches represented had held "mortgage burnings."

Rivalling the reports in importance was the election of delegates to the Quadrennial General Conference to be held in New York City, May 1936. The delegates elected were: J. A. Chandley, L. F. Green, F. F. Moten, E. S. Smith, with Jos. Rankue, E. H. Holiday and A. J. Bell as alternates.

The conference went on record as reaffirming confidence in Bishop Gregg and pledging itself to the program being carried out by him throughout the diocese and especially at Western University and as endorsing Dr. Joseph Gomez for the bishopric and Rev. F. F. Moten for secretary of missions and R. A. Adams for editor of the A. M. E. Review.

Among the visitors at the conference were: Dr. J. H. Clayborne, editor of the Southern Recorder; Dr. C. A. Gibbs, former president of Edward Waters College, Jacksonville, Fla.; Dr. G. A. Gregg, president of Western University; Dr. C. F. Flipper, dean of Baffler Theological Seminary; Rev. R. S. Everett, S. A. Stanley, O. H. Burbridge, I. S. Wilson, F. D. McDonald, R. A. Adams, W. D. Wilkins, L. P. Bryant, James Arthur, J. E. Williams, C. S. Bowman, R. Rayford, J. A. Alexander and J. S. Butler.

MEMORANDUM

In loving memory of our son and brother, Byron 'Scrappy' Jones, who passed away November 6th, 1934.

You sleep today on a foreign shore,

But I'm memory you are here,

We treasure the little things you wore,

They seem to bring you near,

A short while ago, you sailed away,

We can scarcely believe it true.

So we'll try to live our best each day,

And when life ends we can be with you.

Washington Still Silent On WPA

New York, Nov. 9.—Despite efforts of the NAACP and correspondents for Washington and Baltimore newspapers to get the "low-down" on the appointment in the WPA which has offered to James Weldon Johnson and then suddenly recalled after it was accepted, officials in Washington remained silent.

Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, has stated in a letter to the NAACP, that the report that she opposed Mr. Johnson's appointment was "without foundation." The report was published in the syndicated newspaper column, "Washington Merry-Go-Round," written by Robert Allen and Drew Pearson. Direct inquiry to the office of Harry L. Hopkins, WPA Administrator, was referred to Alfred Edgar Smith, colored member on the staff, who wrote the NAACP that the WPA "has no official information on this matter as it is reported, and is unable to comment on its veracity."

Mr. Johnson, Fisk university professor of creative literature, and visiting professor this fall at New York university, was offered a position upon the Labor Advisory Board in the WPA. He stated that he could accept the offer only if it did not interfere with his Fisk university work and if he had real authority. He was reassured on both these points, and accepted, only to have the offer withdrawn without any reason being given. It has been learned from Mr. Johnson that a considerable part of the negotiations took place over long distance telephone.

Soviet Scientists Explode 'White Superiority Theory'

Leningrad, U. S. S. R., Nov. 9.—Soviet scientists of the Bekhteroff Institute of the Brain, blasted the props under the "theory of the inferiority of darker races" when they announced their findings of the examination of more than 500 brains of white and colored people.

The "ape-like ridges" in the brain of dark skinned people, which makes for inferiority according to "scientists" controlled by big business interests, were found in the brains of many distinguished scientists and of many persons of European stock, declared Professor L. G. Weber, assistant director of the Institute.

Italian Seamen Refuse to Ship Arms to Africa

Paris, France, Nov. 9.—Despite the strict Italian fascist censorship of news, word reached here this week that Italian sailors walked off three ships in an attempt to halt transportation of munitions and troops to East Africa.

The crew of two boats in the port of Naples demanded to be paid off, declaring that "they would no longer sail on ships going to East Africa." A similar demand was made by the crew of the transport, "Liguria." The vessel was loading in Genoa for Red Sea ports and when about to sail, the seamen signed off.

Drug Store Blown Up

The campaign for the reinstatement of the fifteen members of the Guild entered its fourth week last Wednesday. It arose when Mrs. Sadie Warren Davis, discharged and locked out her editorial staff for membership in the Guild.

All but five local advertisers in the Amsterdam News have withdrawn their advertisement from the paper in sympathy with the discharged employees. Wide support is being given the staff by Harlem and the organized labor movement.

Witnesses who were in front of the store at the time of the explosion claim that they saw no one enter or leave the premises near the time of the blast. Further investigations will be continued by the sheriff's office in an attempt to clear up the mystery which surrounds the blast.

member of the New York Guild.

In the October 29th issue of the scab-edited paper appeared an article in which Mrs. Davis denounced labor unions in which Negro and white members were admitted on a basis of equality, as in the Newspaper Guild. She labelled the Guild a "white man's guild."

Publishers Called Hypocrites
A group of outstanding Harlem citizens promptly issued a statement vigorously denying Mrs. Davis' accusations against Negro and white labor unions and charging her with "trying to hide behind the race issue to explain the unjustifiable firing of fifteen organized employees". The statement also declared that Mrs. Davis' attack "exposes in its true light the fake 'pro-labor' policy which the publishers have boasted in the past."

Outlining the purposes of the Guild in the labor dispute the statement continued further. "The Guild isn't trying to 'take over' the paper. The Guild isn't trying to put it out of business. It is trying to secure the reinstatement of 17 unfairly discharged workers and recognition of their union."

The citizens' statement was signed by Rev. Adam C. Powell Jr., pastor Abyssinian Baptist church; Walter White, Secretary NAACP; Aaron Douglas, artist; Bessye Bearden, Social and Civic leader; Ashley L. Totten, National secretary and treasurer, Brotherhood Sleeping Car Porters; Lester B. Granger, Secretary Workers Bureau, National Urban League; and many others.

Attorney for Defense Wins His Point charged with first degree murder. He is being defended by the law firm of Adams, Adams, Davis and Adams and John C. Pegg.

Mrs. Green's body was turned over to the Myers Funeral Home where it was prepared for shipment to Kansas City for interment. This early shipment of the body caused the legal contention decided Wednesday by Judge Neble. Attorney Adams held that the holding of the inquest was mandatory on the part of the coroner. The prosecuting attorney took the opposite view. A brilliant legal battle ensued and ended with the decision of Judge Neble that the defense attorney was right in his contentions and that the defendant's constitutional rights would be violated and due process of law denied his cause.

On deciding the question Judge Neble stated that this was the first time that the issue had been raised before a municipal judge. The prosecuting attorney stated that the case will be carried to the County Court where a similar effort will be made to convict Hollins. If the defendant's attorneys are successful in this court the body will then have to be exhumed and an inquest held.
