GIVES HOUSE WARMING

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Commerce, entertained a host of friends Monday evening at their house warming party at their new residence 2515 No. 26th street.

The home was quite unique in very modern settings. The colors in the living room are carried out in green, rust and old gold, with a pleasing effect of rainbow lights, the dining room is carried out in a monochromatic blend of colors, the kitchen is ultr-modern in black and white.

After spending the evening playing po-ke-no a delightful dutch supper was served. Many useful and lovely presents were received.

RETURNS FROM KENTUCKY

Mrs. Bruce Napier, 1524 No. 20th street recently returned from Stanford, Ky., where she attend the funeral, two daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mary H. Napier, who has been in poor health for several months.

She leaves to mourn her loss, Mr. Bruce Napier of Omaha, Mr. John W. Napier of Cincinnati, Ohio, who motored to Kentucky with his family to attend the funeral, two daughters, Mrs. Georgia Bell Jones, Turnville, Ky., Mrs. Freda C. Stanford, James H. Napier and Joe B. Napier of Omaha.

Colored Girl In

Tech Senior Play

For the first time in the school's history a Negro girl was in the cast of the senior play. Miss Eva Mae Stewart, 1418 No. 25th street, had one of the minor leads in the play entitled "Call of the Banshee." Much talent was portrayed by Miss Stewart.

Miss Stewart is a very popular member of the social set and is quite prominent in church and social affairs.

Mrs. Sadie Fulwood, 2890 Maple street, is planning to take an extensive trip in the east the latter part of December. She intends to visit relatives and friends in Chicago, Detroit and Canada. Mrs. Fulwood is undecided as to how long she will be gone.

Mrs. Lucille Irving entertained fourteen small guests Monday, November 11th, to honor her daughter Beverly Jean, on her sixth birthday.

Mrs. Eleanor, 978 N. 27 Ave. is confined to her bed with broken ligaments in her right foot as the result of a fall which occurred about three months ago. She is being attended by Dr. Lennox.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lowe, are in the city as the house guests of Mrs. Georgia Scott, 919 N. 26 street. They are touring from Los Angeles to Chicago. They will stop over in Omaha a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Steward, 959 N. 25 street, entertained last Friday night at a 6 o'clock dinner for Rev. Cater of Kansas City, Missouri and Rev. Johnson of the Metropolitan Spiritual church of Omaha.

There's a certain young woman, (I couldn't say lady) who is the cause of many a would-be nice boy going wrong.—A well known Central boy and O. M. were laying it on pretty thick down to the club Cabette.—Say Ned M. isn't E. T. "cramping your style?" You know what I mean.—Naomi C. seems to have caught B. C. on the rebound.—A certain young recently married lady was flirting 'tadaciously' with 'Step' Black at the dance Monday.—There's a certain young girl about town who recently received a 310 bill from K. C. and is afraid to spend it.—tisk! tisk!—It seems as if K. T. and F. J. have decided to patch up the differences.—A. P. I'm not going to tell you G. P. was at the dance with another girl.—Foster is still crazy (that's the only word for it) about little Dorch?—Elliott you're much too interested in who 'the friend' was in last week's article. don't let your conscience bother you.—O. J. you and M. B. taken advantage of the fact that her boy friend wasn't present at the 'ball'.—A short story! Wifey, leaves hubby home, to take care of baby. Finish.—mumet J. you catch on quick. You know what a wink and a signal mean.—D. B. and D. F. have decided to 'mend their ways'.—Since Xmas is so close at hand all the girls are swallowing their pride and making up with their boy-friends first. It just the old Xmas spirit that's been going on for years.—Girls if you should ever have any trouble about getting out, follow F. H.'s method, slip out the back door after the folks have gone to bed, and have the taxi waiting for you on the corner. She worked it to perfection.

Rev. S. S. Whitelaw and Wyatt Cooper who are employees of the legislature are regretting that the legislature is to close so soon, not that they both don't have positions to return to, in Omaha, but because they like the moral atmosphere they find in Lincoln.

LINCOLN NEWS

The special called legislature that was to clean up the unfinished business from the last session in 10 days are still in session as we go to press and if they are to remain in session, in proportion to the progress they are making on the work laid out to them by Governor Cushman, they will in all probability be there until the one-house legislature crowds them out of the way. Representative John Adams Jr., is still in the limelight, and is being sought by many of them for information on some of the problems under consideration.

The unemployment insurance plan was advanced by a small majority in the house, owing to the fact that Nebraska employers must pay the federal unemployment insurance tax, whether or not the state enacts a law. This gave a majority vote to the advancement of the bill.

A lack of understanding was apparent throughout the discussion of the bill. The Omaha World Herald stated, Nov 13, that John Adams, a Negro legislator from Douglas county, took the lead in guiding the bill through, to advancement. He was the only member said the Herald that seemed able to explain the amendment offered to the extent that the house members were able to vote intelligently on it.

A few weeks ago Paul Beck, a colored boy, was elected president of his class in the Lincoln High School. Later on some white disgruntles wrote unsigned letters to the business men, and ministers of Lincoln, protesting against the Negro being given this recognition by the school. A minister called your reporters attention to the letter he received and they discussed the matter briefly. But this week the white interdenominational alliance made a public statement complimenting the principal of the school for his action.

The colored citizens of Lincoln and the members of Mt. Zion Baptist church in particular should be

HEALTH, BEAUTY
AND CHARMKeep Young and Beautiful—
If You Want to Be Loved

BEAUTIFUL HANDS

Are you proud or ashamed of your hands? It is true that the hands betray our age quicker, and, in a much more subtle way than the tiny lines and wrinkles around the eyes and mouth.

Dry, hard, rough hands with brittle and uneven nails are not beautiful. Brittle, splitting and easily broken nails may be due to a number of causes, among them certain systemic conditions in which the body is deprived of elements required for strong nails. Such systemic conditions usually manifest themselves in other ways as well as in brittle nails and therefore require medical treatment and corrective diet.

But when another wise normal and healthy individual has brittle finger nails, the cause can be traced almost directly to a lack of lubricating oils. Careless drying of the hands after washing them, out door exposure and sudden change of temperature all contribute to this dry condition.

From now until Christmas we are featuring an oil manicure for brittle nails.

We are happy to explain to you this treatment more fully and, also to show you the beautiful La Cross nail polish case of modern design which may be used as a cigarette case or jewel box. They make lovely Christmas gifts. Ask the operators.

very proud of their present minister Rev. C. H. Nick who is a clean young man, he is an asset to the church, and the race. He is now attending the University specializing in philosophy. What the Negro churches need today is clean men in the pulpit.

The Urban League will move into their new headquarters next week. Mr. M. T. Woods the secretary is much elated over his new building in fact the colored people throughout the City are proud of having a place they can gather for recreation aside from some old pool hall. This new Center shows progress made by our race group.
