South African Bishop Wants More Money For Native Education

Johannesburg, South Africa, Dec. 21.—"If money is not spent on class rooms now, money will have to be spent on building jails later on."

In these strong terms, the Bishop of Johannesburg commented upon the state of Native education in the Union of South Africa in his annual speech at Synod. He also deplored the inhuman conditions forced upon the Native teachers.

According to a Native instructor, "teachers are definitely up in arms against missionary control and the compulsory spiritual enslavement of both child and teacher. This is a fact the Bishop should know."

Under missionary control, the teacher added, the instructors are forced to take a part in all functions of the church. On Sunday he has to spend the day in Sunday School. Should he refuse to do any part of what is expected of him, he is immediately branded as undisciplined and unfit.

The government of South Africa is controlled by British Imperialists.

Fires Worker Then Keeps Him Off Relief

Boston, Mass., Dec. 21.—A fight for the reinstatement of Wallace Dewey, a Negro employee in line for promotion to the post of manager of the First National Store, 1066 Tremont street, is being carried on by the Provisional Committee for Equal Opportunities. Dewey, discharged allegedly because of a dispute about overtime pay, was fired because he was a Negro, the Provisional Committee claims.

Despite snow and sharp winds, Negro and white men, women and children picketed the store this week, carrying placards with the legends "Protest Race Prejudice," and "Give Wallace Dewey His Job."

Conferences with the representatives of the National Stores have been held for many weeks at the instigation of the Provisional Committee. The claim of the company that Dewey attacked a white substitute manager with a knife was proved to be false. But Dewey, despite the conference, is unemployed.

A statement of the Provisional Committee said, "When Dewey applied to the Welfare Bureau for aid, the company sent a letter to them attacking Dewey, in an attempt to prevent Dewey's family from getting relief."

U. S. Army General Hails Mussolini's Ethiopian Invasion

New York, Dec. 21.—General Charles H. Sherrill, staunch supporter of American participation in the Berlin Olympic Games which would bar "dirty Jews and Negroes," hailed Mussolini for his war on Ethiopia "in defense of the homeland." He offered no explanation as to how Italy was in danger of attack from Ethiopia.

This unqualified praise of Mussolini and the "New Italy" was voiced in a speech before the Italian Chamber of Commerce of New York at the Biltmore hotel. Urges Aid to Italy.

That no hampering restrictions be put on shipments to Italy of war materials other than munitions was also recommended by the general.

Sherrill, who is exposed as a "breeder of racial hatreds and a man un-American to the core" in an article in the December 3rd issue of the New Masses, urged Italian-Americans to support a presidential candidate in 1936 who favors and most closely follows the principles of Mussolini.

Despite the efforts of such men as Charles H. Sherrill and William Randolph Hearst, the movement to stop shipments of war materials, such as cotton and oil, as well as munitions, to Italy, is growing in this country. General Sherrill, himself, has received many slaps in the face from organizations demanding the withdrawal of American teams from the Berlin Olympics.

Natives Burn Mussolini's Effigy In South Africa

Durban, South Africa, Dec. 21, (CNA by Mail)—A black-shorted effigy of Mussolini, was sprinkled with paraffin and set ablaze to the enthusiastic shouts of 3,000 African Natives gathered at a meeting in defense of Ethiopia on October 23.

A pouring rain in no way dampened the ardor with which the slogans "Down with Mussolini," and "Africa must be returned to us" were shouted.

The chairman of the meeting, organized by the Durban Branch of the Friends of Abyssinia, I. Wolfson, National Organizer of the South Africa Textile Workers Union, proposed: "That we African people sympathize with Ethiopia and pledge to support any action that the dock workers will take in order to send away the Italian ship empty from South Africa."

Dr. Moton's Health Steadily Improves

Capahosie, Va., Dec. 21, (ANP)—Because of the numerous inquiries regarding the state of Dr. R. R. Moton's health which have come to him at his home on the York River here, here physicians this week authorized a statement that the famous educator is well on the road to recovery. Dr. Moton, who has had recurring spells of illness for the past several years deliberately confined himself to his home this spring in an effort to gain complete rest and he is responding to that treatment. His nervous energy which had been dissipated has returned and he is able to be about his grounds. He expects to continue his affiliation with the numerous boards of which he is a member and has ambitious plans in connection with strengthening the endowment of Tuskegee, the institution of which he is president emeritus, which he expects to put into effect. Mrs. Moton, who has been constantly at his side, is visiting in Tuskegee this week feeling free to leave because of her husband's great improvement.
