L. C. T.—I can't find out who my husband is going to see and where he goes. Will you please tell me?

Ans.—Nonsense—Your husband doesn't go to see any woman as you imagine at times. He merely SLIPS OUT and catches the bus to go to town to get out from under your thumb mail for a few hours.

A. L. K.—What would you advise me to do about my future?

Ans.—Start making plans for a change of location in about a year from now and I would advise you to move to a larger city. The thing for you to do is GO IN BUSINESS for yourself.

M. E. T.—Do you think I will

Col. Julian Ejected From The National Negro Congress

Chicago, Feb. 20—(AP)—Colonel Hubert Fauntleroy Julian was given the proverbial "bum's rush" when he appeared at the Saturday morning session of the National Negro Congress at the armory. The erstwhile "Black Eagle of the Ethiopian Aviation Corps", who has gained the hatred of scores of those attending the Congress by his reported anti-Ethiopian utterances was forcibly ejected from the convention hall and was saved from bodily harm by the police and Captain Charles Udell Turpin, adjutant of the regiment.

Branded A Traitor

Colonel Julian, rumor has it, had been warned by some of the delegates, but not the officials that he was a "persona non grata" at the Congress and that it was dangerous for him to attend another session. Just as the morning session was about to be called to order, the Colonel put in his appearance, sartorially perfect as usual and be-mouced and was wending his way to the press table in response to the request of one of the reporters, when A. L. Sollinger, past commander of the Association of War Veterans mounted the platform and yelled "Julian, the traitor is here. Let's throw him out."

At this more than a score made a rush for the Colonel, who with his fame bravado attempted to remonstrate with his attackers. Hearing the noise Captain Turpin, who was in his office rushed into the convention hall with a group of policemen and threatened to have the building cleared if the attack was not stopped. This quieted things down and Colonel Julian was escorted to the Adjutant's office from whence he was escorted by the police a few minutes later out of the armory.

Efforts to contact Colonel Julian at his hotel proved unsuccessful due to the fact that he was not at the hotel, but he was not at the afternoon session. Since being here he has been active around the Congress headquarters and sat on the platform at the opening session.

What Right Wing Delegates Think Of The Congress

Chicago, Feb. 20—(ANP)—Here are a few sentiments regarding the National Negro Congress as expressed by a number of the more conservative leaders, some of them governmental job holders. The remarkable interest which the gathering developed and the enthusiasm of the assembled delegates was reflected during the brief interviews which I gathered.

M. Lester B. Granger, New York, Director of the workers bureau of the National Urban League and Vice-Chairman of the greater New York Sponsoring Committee commented: "The committees of the National Negro Congress have done a wonderful job in getting the crowd to Chicago. I think that the danger of failure will lie in various opposing groups who will spend more time in fighting to get a point across than educating the delegates to a point of view which they really understand and support."

Mr. William C. Hastie, Assistant solicitor, Department of Interior and Professor of Law, Howard University said, "The National Negro Congress is the most significant gathering ever witnessed and has more potentialities for co-ordinative action than any effort ever attempted heretofore.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, Washington, D. C.; head of the Department of Political Science of Howard University commented: "The National Negro Congress is a great thing, primarily important because it is a movement towards establishing interest in mass action which will help the Negro in working out his problems. The only hope of the Negro is to organize and use his numbers in mass pressure."

Atty. Thurman L. Dodson, Washington D. C.; President of the Washington Bar Association, said: "If this Congress can organize Negroes from various groups of our country, as heterogeneous as they are, and work out a minimum program

C. W.—Do you think what I have in mind can be corrected in five months?

Ana.—With quite a bit of coaching there will be some chance for you to overcome this predicament I suggest that you send for one of my Astrology Readings and I shall be glad to give you advice in regards to this matter privately. Be sure to enclose your full name, address and correct birth date.

V. R.—My husband brought a box home and I want to know what was in it and what it was for?

Ans.—Don't let your curiosity run away with you, for you will find out on your BIRTHDAY what is in it. Your husband bought you a little surprise remembrance but he won't let you see it until the 26th of March.

D. B.—Should I continue my friendship with this boy? Will his parents object to him going with me?

Ans.—You should tell this boy that you have been married before. If you'll play fair and square with him, his parents would have no reason to object to your friendship.

Zaphiro Tells Of Ethiopia; Abyssinians Are Negroes

Chicago, Feb. 20—(ANP)—Answering charges that Ethiopians were not Negroes by asking "what man can be born and bred in Africa and be anything but a colored man," Lij Tasseye, young Ethiopian diplomat, enlightened delegates to the National Negro congress about his native land at the opening session Friday night.

Zaphiro told of the size of his nation, of Emperor Haile Selassie whom he termed a "great humanitarian" and of the difficulties experienced in breaking away from tradition and upon which all Negroes can unite the Congress can and will be a success."

Joseph H. P. Evans, Washington, D. C.; Rural resettlement administration, stated: "Any movement which tends to focus the attention of governmental agencies of the problems, ideals and aspirations of the Negroes, should challenge the interest and support of those who are working for the larger programs of National planning."

Not all the notables are men of course. Here are the names of some of the prominent women delegates whom I met. Mrs. Layle Lane, New York, member of the Teacher's Union, Miss Augusta Savage, New York, prominent Sculptress; Mrs. Rosa Raiside, New York, Organizer of Domestic Workers' Union; Miss Elizabeth Scott New York, Secretary of American Youth Congress.

modernizing the country, particularly with the 20 year program of freeing all the country's slaves. He spoke of the courage of the soldiers in facing well-equipped Italy with their own poor weapons.

"This war is not unlike the American War of Independence," Zaphiro asserted. "Ethiopia is fighting for the right to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness and will succeed in retaining her freedom if she gets fair treatment by Europe and the support of all peoples."
